Cubs set for Kar Rally

150 boys from seven Cub Packs and 30 adults competed in a Kub Kar Rally at

Henderson, 1st Madoc Pack, right, as the boys await a test run of the cars

100 Cubs, 30 adults competed in Kub Kar Rally Saturday

One hundred Cubs from seven packs in the Moira Valley District of the Boy Scouts of Canada joined about 20 adults and 75 parents in Centre Hastings Secondary School Saturday for a Kub Kar Rally.

The boys, from Marmora, Madoc, Tweed, Thurlow, Plainfield and Stirling Cub packs, constructed racing vehicles, weighing under five ounces, from blocks of wood and plastic axles and wheels supplied in kits.

The racing vehicles were carved and painted in designs of the Cub's choice.

Under way at 1 p.m., the event was finished about 4 p.m., and included speed contests, a design competition, a design performance competition, and an adult race.

Plainfield pack walked away with many of the honors, with Madoc and Marmora also showing up on the winning lists.

The Cub Speed Champion and over-all champion was Matthew Longworth, Madoc. Placing second in the speed classes was Darren Farrell, Plainfield and third was Joey Moore, Plainfield.

Design competition honors, Cub Class, went to champion Scott Gillespie, Plainfield. Adult design honors went to champion Barry Forde, Madoc.

In the adult races, another Plainfield entrant, John Holgate, took first place, while Barry Forde, Madoc, took second and Linda Williamson, Marmora, took third prize.

Guides camped in at Quin-Mo-Lac for weekend

Twenty-two Girl Guides and five adults spent their time last weekend at an indoor and outdoor camp session at Camp Quin-Mo-

Lac on Moira Lake.

A $15 registration fee took the girls to the Kanata House indoor camping building from Saturday at 2 p.m. until Monday at 3 p.m. The fee covered activities including games, tracking, stalking games, group discussions, a night hike, compass work, local knowledge outings, emergency help procedures, guide history, flashlight games, citizenship instruction and many others.

Some guides took advantage of the camping session to work on the final stages of earning their All-Round Cord, and others worked towards their initial enrolment Tuesday.

Supervised by five adults, the Guides slept in the indoor camping building and attended evening fire-side sessions at the downstairs fireplace.

The operation was overseen by Doris Hagerman, a licensed instructor in the Da-Hon-Neh Area of the Moira Division of the Girl Guides.

Other supervisors were Sheila Johnson, Madeleine Jensen, Peggy Hyde and Vivian Ford, all from Madoc. The women are all trained in first aid.

Cost of the outing were paid, in part, through proceeds from a bake and crafts sale, November 20, at Kate's Place, Madoc.

A typical day saw the Guides up at 7:30 a.m. for fire drill and Colors (raising of the flag). Following breakfast and room inspection, there were work groups until noon. Lunch was at 12:30. Work groups were active again until 5 p.m. Supper was at 5:30. Guides had free time until the evening campfire at 8 p.m. Snack time followed and 9:30 was bed time.

Getting ready for guides

Doris Hagerman, Sheila Johnson and Madeleine Jensen arrived early at Camp Quin-Mo-Lac Saturday to prepare food and accommodations for 22 Girl

Guides attending a camp-in Saturday at 2 p.m. until Monday at 3 p.m. The women, and two others, Peggy Hyde and Vivian Ford, all from Madoc, supervised Guide activities as some girls worked towards final All-Round Cord honors and others worked towards initial investment this week.

TOPS studies decorations

Fifteen members of Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) met at the village fire hall last Wednesday to watch Audrey Pogue, florist, demonstrate how to create floral arrangements for the Christmas season.

About a dozen of the TOPS members were given a wicker plate with oasis wire, pine boughs, statice, holly leaves, red poinsettia leaves and pine cones, and

Ray and Lorna Twiddy to celebrate 25th

Margaret Barlow from Whitby and sister, Sharon Frances from Foxboro recently spent a Saturday afternoon with Mrs. George Moorcroft who is recovering from a broken ankle.

Friends and relatives are joining with Ray and Lorna Twiddy at the Hayloft, Friday, December 3, to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Congratulations Ray and Lorna.

may you have many more.

Congratulations also to Albert and Lottie Bailey who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary November 21st.

Laurie McCamon and Eric Bailey wed October 23 in Belleville

A candlelit double-ring ceremony united Laurie Ann McCamon and Eric Clifford Bailey in marriage at 4 p.m. October 23.

Rev. Norman Hair of Holloway St. United Church, Belleville, conducted the service with Jean Bailey, aunt of the groom as organist, and Jo Anne Griffin as soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Glenn and Barbara McCamon of Belleville, the groom is the son of Christine and the late Ruth Bailey of R.R. 3 Madoc.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor-length gown of sheer lace over a white underskirt, a Juliet cap topped her fingertip veil with the lace of the sleeve, hem and veil matching. Her bouquet consisted of burgundy Sweetheart roses, baby white mums, and baby's breath.

The maid of honor was June Dehaan; bridesmaids were Sharon Mitchell and Nancy Collins. With the exception of an added frill to the maid of honor's dress, they wore identical gowns of a Daphne rose color.

The best man was Ralph Bailey, brother of the groom.

Ushers were Don Campbell, brother-in-law of the groom, and Glen Lessard. They wore charcoal grey tuxedos. The groom wore a morning suit complete with tails.

A dinner and dance followed at the Belleville Shrine Club. Guests were entertained by a live band and disc jockey.

Following a honeymoon trip to Florida, the couple have resided in Madoc.

Santa wrote to children after Nov. 21 parade

BY SANTA CLAUS

Dear Children:
My staff finished reading the letters I got in Madoc on Sunday, November 21.

I would like to thank you for the welcome you all gave me; it was nice to be able to talk with you at the Orange Hall.

I hope I didn't miss any of you with candy canes. Did you enjoy the movie at the hall?

I was sorry I did not have time to go to the Kiwanis Centre where all those who participated in making your parade so successful, were treated to drinks donated by Coca-Cola Ltd. and hot dogs and ham sandwiches.

I also missed the good cheer at the Legion. It gave me a great thrill as I arrived to hear your Reeve Terry Pigden announce to everyone I was there.

I did see your Legion color-party and the Army, Navy Band and Shriners from Belleville and Peterborough.

I wish I could bring all of you home to see toyland. Madoc, you are a great little town, lucky to have so many taking part in promoting the spirit of Christmas.

I always look forward every year visiting your town and seeing the children.

Thank you, Santa Claus.

Madoc Post Office is Santa's helper

Children!

Have you written and mailed your letter to Santa Claus yet?

If you haven't, preparations are being made at the Madoc Post Office to get your letters to Santa as quickly as possible.

A special box will be sitting in the post office from Monday November 29th, to December 22nd so that letters will get to Santa Claus in a hurry.

Santa has promised to answer all letters he receives between those dates but he reminds everyone to get their letters in quickly to avoid disappointment.

Everyone should be sure to put their return address and postal code on the outside of the envelope. Santa's address is: Santa Claus, North Pole, Canada, HO! HO! HO!

Couple were married forty years ago in ceremony in Frankford

Lottie Blanche Scea, Stirling, married Albert Edward Bailey, Madoc, on Nov. 21, 1942.

The wedding took place at the parsonage, Scott's United Church, Frankford. Attendants were Geraldine Madill (Sine) and Percy Scea.

The couple travelled as far as Ottawa in their 1929 Chevrolet during their honeymoon.

Since their marriage they have lived on their farm at Moira Lake, R.R. 4, Madoc.

They farmed until 1968, and still manage a small tourist resort on the lake.

Their only child, Sharon, was born Aug. 8, 1945.

Sharon and her husband, Doug Phillips, and three children Leanne 10, Brad 8, and Brian 4, live on part of the family farm.

Albert is a supporter of the Madoc Chamber of Commerce and Moira Lake Cottagers Association, and he takes an active interest in Madoc Minor Hockey.

Albert and Lottie are members of Trinity United Church, Madoc.

Lottie is active in the UCW, Madoc Women's Institute, and is past president of both. She is a member of Oakdale "Rebekah Lodge and is a past Noble Grand.

Friends and relatives joined Albert and Lottie at the home of their children, Doug and Sharon Phillips, for a dinner party, Nov. 21.

The room was decorated with red and white streamers and bells, and the table adorned with red napkins, candles, and flowers which focused on a centerpiece of red roses and white mums.

A hot buffet dinner was served along with a beautiful 40th anniversary cake, made and decorated in appropriate colours by Lou Phillips.

After dinner a social evening was held.

Out-of-town guests attended from Belleville, Stirling, and Campbellford.

Happy Wanderers wandered to Quinte Mall November 29

VIOLA WANNAMAKER

Happy Wanderers Club 473 met in the church hall November 24, for a potluck dinner at noon.

Attendance was good and all reported a lovely dinner. Following the dinner the president, Mrs. Maude Deline, opened the meeting with O' Canada with Viola Wannamaker at the piano.

Minutes were read by Helen Wannamaker and correspondence was read by Hilda Anderson who presented a Senior Citizens' paper with a Goldie Holmes achievement. It featured a creative folk artist with a picture of her Queensborough quilt.

Treasurer Mrs. Frankie Donaldson gave the financial report.

We are sorry to hear of the passing of Blanche Kellar, a valued member of the club.

We are pleased to hear Nina Storing is home from hospital.

Costan Parauk gave the bus report. There will be a trip to the Quinte Mall to see the show The Waterloo Bridge and to shop November 29. The bus leaves the Senior Citizens' apartments at 10:45 and 11 a.m. at the church.

The Christmas dinner will be December 10, at 5:30 p.m. at the Orange Hall.

There will be a card party Wednesday, December 1, at 1 p.m. and everyone is welcome.

The Dancersize is held every Monday morning from 10:30 to 11:30 at the Drop-in.

The games entertainment is every other Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Legion upstairs, with 2 or 3 to help in the kitchen.

For the next meeting, December 8, at 2 p.m., bring gifts for exchange. Put your name inside.

CHSS coaches want student efforts known

Once again the coaches at Centre Hastings Secondary School (CHSS) have come out in favor of more news coverage of students and teams, instead of coaches themselves.

Yvonne Mabo, basketball coach of the CHSS Midgets, and Dave Sellers, coach of CHSS Juniors, both acclaimed the hard work, good sportsmanship and success of their basketball teams, during the longest sporting schedule of the school year.

Once again, as other coaches have done, they pointed to the difficulties involved in after-school practices when students are bused home at regular times, and pointed to the absence of weekend practice facilities because transportation is not available.

They asked that players get proper recognition for winning performances through dedication and hard work. And they are right. CHSS teams have played hard and well.

Yvonne's Midget Centurions won the first game against Trenton, an undefeated team, and were eliminated by BCI by 3 baskets at Bay of Quinte Championship play in Centennial Secondary School last Saturday.

Dave's Junior Centurions lost to Trenton in their first game, the semi-finals, and Trenton went on in the championship tournament later in the day.

The teams came through the basketball season playing against teams from 13 schools, eight in Hastings County, Nicholson and Albert Colleges, Brighton, Napanee, Picton and North Addington.

Both teams made it through the quarter-finals of the Bay of Quinte playoffs in Brighton and played in the eliminations at Centennial Secondary last Saturday.

Yvonne Mabo

Yvonne Mabo was born in Morrisburg, in the Seaway Valley. She attended public school, high school and composite school in Iroquois, at Seaway Secondary.

Yvonne went to Queen's University and obtained her BA in English.

She began teaching in Bancroft at the North Hastings Secondary School, where she continued studying and became a specialist in physical education.

She moved to CHSS in 1974.

Yvonne has coached basketball since she began teaching, and has coached volleyball, soccer and gymnastics. She is assisted in basketball coaching duties by Sherry Whitney.

Yvonne and her husband, Mick, live in Corbyville.

Mick is with the Ontario Hydro, in Tweed.

Yvonne's hobbies include running, cross-country skiing, dancing, jazzercise, swimming and golf. She also creates articles from stained glass as a hobby.

Dave Sellers

Dave Sellers, 37, was born in Toronto. He attended Nelson High School in Burlington, near Hamilton. Nelson High has consistently produced winning basketball teams and is considered one of the best basketball schools in the province, Dave said.

Dave went to Queen's University where he obtained his degree in Geography and Geology, and Honors BA with a major and a minor.

In 1969, he began teaching at Belleville's Centennial High. He moved to CHSS in 1971, where he teaches geography and history, and does coaching duties in addition.

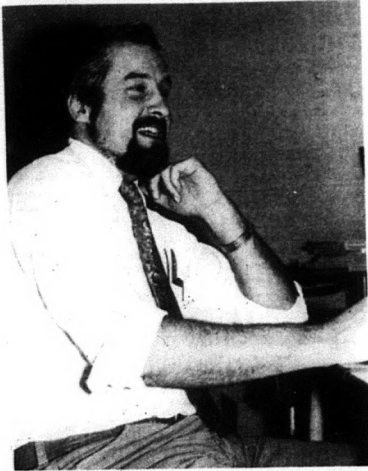

Dave and his wife, Carol, live east of Stirling. They have three children, Kathy, 13, who attends Centennial High, Karen, 10, who attends Stirling Junior High School and Michael, 3. Carol Sellers is a physiotherapist at Belleville General Hospital.

The family has three horses, a 15-year-old gelding, a mare and a Shetland pony.

Dave Sellers is the secretary of the division, and is a member of the Provincial Committee, of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

Don't let dieting get too far out of hand

Jane's Story

Jane, the daughter of a successful professional couple, was a happy, healthy fourteen year old doing well at school. To her family she was the 'ideal child'. During a routine visit to the family doctor a passing remark was made about "not letting this plumpness get out of hand". At about the same time Jane experienced some teasing on getting "a little pudgy". She weighed about 125 pounds and was 5 feet, 4 inches tall. In the next 4 months Jane dieted strenuously. Her weight fell from 125 pounds to 84 pounds, yet she was still convinced that her "thighs were too fat". She complained about feeling stuffed when she ate "too much" and constantly voiced her fear of getting fat. Her periods ceased. Jane became increasingly antisocial. Despite her rapid weight loss Jane's energy level remained high. She conscientiously did her school work maintaining her high grades, as well as exercising and going for long walks. Jane's parents were at a loss to understand their daughter's behavior, and most distressed to see her wasting away before their very eyes. Jane was diagnosed as a case of primary Anorexia Nervosa.

What is Anorexia Nervosa?

Anorexia Nervosa is the name given to a state of emaciation that is brought about by self-starvation. This puzzling condition was first identified in 1868, yet today over a century later there is still no clear cut theory as to its cause. However, certain circumstances in the victims' background are characteristic.

Anorexia Nervosa usually is seen in females between the ages of 10 and 30. It is 8 to 10 times more common among females than males. Adolescents like Jane are the group most prone to the disorder.

It is often labelled as "the little rich girls' disease". Like Jane, most of the females affected by Anorexia Nervosa come from middle and upper class backgrounds.

Usually the girls affected are high achievers, from socially ambitious and financially successful families. The family often perceives the child as being "ideal" or "perfect".

Anorexia Nervosa is a condition that is frightening in that it can literally make its victims "sick to death". Anorexia Nervosa has both physical and psychological symptoms. The most prominent psychological symptoms are a disturbed body image, a sense of ineffectiveness, and distorted perceptions of bodily functions.

"A skeleton only clad with skin" is a typical description of an anorectic. This appearance is something they vehemently deny. They do not see themselves as abnormal, and feel they will look better if they could "shed another few pounds". They appear not to realize that they are suffering the effects of starvation. Many victims get satisfaction from the concern of others, and hurting their parents.

A sense of ineffectiveness is often experienced by anorectics. Sometimes there are underlying family problems. Sometimes a child has been indoctrinated into becoming a perfectionist and has no sense of separate identity. She feels obligated to constantly fulfill the "perfect role" when she is feeling far from perfect.

The anorectic's stubborn refusal to eat results from her exaggerated, sometimes phobic, fear of weight gain which cannot be overcome by threats, hunger or reassurance that she is not fat. Bizarre eating habits often develop such as fasting or self-induced vomiting. They become increasingly withdrawn. Absence of tiredness with the constant drive for physical activity in the face of a very low caloric intake, cessation of periods (amenorrhea), and a distorted sense of satiety are all manifestations of distorted body awareness.

What Can Be Done?

For cases like Jane's, proper professional treatment which encompasses both the physiological and psychological aspects of the disease is essential. Treatment of anorectics is completely successful in about 50 per cent of cases. The remainder have moderate improvement, but about 2 per cent die. The earlier the condition is diagnosed, the better the chances of a complete recovery. Those that recover go on to lead normal lives on both physical and emotional levels.

But what can be done to prevent Anorexia Nervosa? We know that Anorexia Nervosa used to be a rare condition. Today this is not the case. In the past decade numbers have increased. The increase is thought to be partly due to society's adulation of thinness. Women constantly receive the message that thinness is a prerequisite for beauty and success. It is estimated approximately one in every 100 middle upper class girls will develop Anorexia Nervosa.

Therefore we should:

* Accept realistic weights for different body types and sizes. Women should not be encouraged to look like the ultra-thin models in magazine ads, nor made to feel guilty if they do not naturally have hour glass figures.

* Be aware of the dangers inherent in adolescents adopting an excessive and obsessive weight control or reduction program. At present, strict weight control in adolescents is often condoned or overlooked. Parents, health professionals and peers should look for the tell-tale signals and seek medical advice from the family doctor.

* Encourage members of a family group to communicate effectively and not suppress emotions.

Loyalist broadcaster given B'Nai B'Rith award

BY BRIAN OLNEY

Len Arminio, Teaching Master in the Broadcast Journalism Program at Loyalist College, was in Toronto on November 15th to accept a major award from the B'Nai B'Rith of Canada.

Arminio, the former News Director of CHEX Radio and TV in Peterborough, accepted the TV award from the B'Nai B'Rith's League for Human Rights on behalf of his former employer.

The eighth annual award was presented to the station for a series of news items produced in late 1981 and early 1982 on the racial discrimination suffered by Nigerian college and university students in Peterborough.

The judges of the award said that the stories made the citizens of that city aware that they were not insulated from prejudice and bigotry.

The initial stories about the plight of the Nigerians sparked city fathers to create a special task force to study interracial and multi-cultural relations.

The city has since created a position in the city hall for Liaison Officer for Interracial Affairs.

The CHEX-TV entry was deemed the best in the nation for television. Honorable Mention awards went to TV Ontario and CTV's W5 for programs about the handicapped.

During Arminio's tenure as News Director at CHEX, the station won the Radio Television News Directors Association Dan McArthur award for stories on Ford transmissions in 1979. In 1980, CHEX Radio won Honorable Mention in the RTNDA's Sam Ross category for an editorial on French Immersion.

No night shift.

There are lots of things about Daniadown continental quilts that are unique.

One is their "Hi-Loft" construction.

The walls of the quilt trap the filling, allowing it to loft up to its full thickness.

Hi-Loft construction, a Daniadown exclusive. Greater than inside conventional quilting.

That means uniform, all over insulation. And no shifting. The filling stays put in the quilt. The quilt stays put on you. Ask your Daniadown dealer for details. Or send for our full colour brochure.

And rest easy.

Border closed to beef for 1982

The United States Government closed its borders on imports of Canadian dressed beef in November for the rest of 1982. Apparently Canadians have filled their quota of 120 million pounds, not quite one-half pound for each U.S. citizen," says Marie Bright, Regional Co-ordinator of Region 3, National Farmers Union.

Bright also said, "It is rather ironical, to think this has come at the same time as the Bruce Kirk report for the Federal Minister of Agriculture and Foods, Mr. Eugene Whelan on the effects of the Crow Rate on Eastern Canada, is stating that they foresee no ill-effects on the Eastern Canada Beef Industry with the removal of the Crows Nest Pass agreement.

The philosophy held by the Canadian Cattlemen's Association, that increased cattle production in Western Canada, they expect will happen when the Crow Rate is scrapped, won't hurt eastern producers because the market for western beef will be south not east, is outdated as we can already see with the closure of the border this year.

Bright went on to say, "we farmers in the east should be asking ourselves, how much faster our Quota for U.S. dressed beef will be filled in future years if the west has as many livestock producers as the CCA thinks it should have, given all the cheap grain they'll have once the Crow Rate goes.

Bright says Eastern Producers need to look seriously at the dilemma the Western Producer will be in if the Statutory rate for the Crows Nest Pass goes. The western producer's loss of income from grain very definitely affects the rest of Canadian farmers, also the whole of Canada, when one looks at the amount of grain which will go through cattle rather than export, which will have a lasting effect on grain being used as a balance of trade for Canada, therefore affecting the amount of income for Canada as a whole.

CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HUNTINGDON PUBLIC NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the Council of the Municipal Corporation of the Township of Huntingdon proposes to enact By-laws to stop up, close and sell that part of the original allowance for road set out and described as follows:

Part of the Road Allowance between Lot 13, Concession 13 and Lot 13, Concession 14, Huntingdon Township now designated as Part 1, Reference Plan 21R/6002.

The proposed By-laws will come before the said Council for consideration at its regular meeting at the Township Office at 1440 Main Street in the Township of Huntingdon on the 6th day of December, 1982, at the hour of 8 o'clock p.m. and at that time, the Council will hear in person or by his counsel, solicitor or agent, any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected and who applies to be heard.

Dated October 28th, Clerk of the Corporation of the Township of Huntingdon.

Beekkeepers dinner Dec. 3

The Quinte Beekeepers' Association will hold a potluck supper Friday, December 3, and a business meeting at 6:45 p.m. at the Parkdale Baptist Church, 314 Sydney Street, Belleville.

All family members and friends are cordially invited to attend, and are requested to bring a main course and/or salad and a dessert. Since no kitchen facilities are available, guests are requested to bring plates and cutlery.

Tickets can be purchased at the door for prizes, at 50 cents a ticket.

Dishes cooked with honey and recipes will be appreciated. There will be beverages for children and coffee.

A special invitation is extended to the participants in the Practical Beekeeping 1982 course. Kempville College Certificates of Completion will be awarded after supper.

Contributions will be accepted for the Parkdale Baptist Church Christmas Baskets.

Discount subscriptions will be available, for the evening only, to the Canadian Beekeeping Magazine.

Nominations will be accepted during the meeting following supper, for election of officers 1983, coordinated by Neil Orr.

The supper will be held in the basement hall and, as usual, participants are requested not to smoke.

Madoc TOPs compete for new weight reduction award

then worked along with Audrey constructing their own designs.

"Some made really interesting arrangements," Audrey said in an interview.

She said some of the club members supplied their own plaid bows, candles, large pine cones, and even a Santa boot as centrepieces.

TOPs has a membership of about twenty. The club meets Wednesdays at 7 p.m. at the fire hall near Kramp's Restaurant.

To assist in taking off pounds sensibly, members have a manual from which they can compile their own diets, or they are free to bring in a diet of their choice.

Each week, weight is checked and members have competitions.

Rules of competitions include weighing in, attending meetings, losing pounds to a weekly goal, wearing a designated TOPs badge or TOPs bracelet (for 10 pounds lost) and charms which have been earned for other accomplishments.

KOPS is next: keeping off pounds sensibly, and members get points for each pound below goal.

Members are currently competing keenly for a new award. On December 22, a crocheted table cloth will be presented for the highest accumulation of points in the last six months.

$16,000 paid in prizes at Madoc Fair

BY FRANCIS TOBIN

A meeting of the Madoc Agricultural Society was held November 23, at Village Council Chambers to hear reports on the 1982 Fair and to discuss business for another year.

The prizes paid by the Society to exhibitors are as follows:

Total prize money, $16,045.84.

Chamber of Commerce invites participation

Madoc and District Chamber of Commerce met last week at the firehall to discuss the annual tie-in with the upcoming Winter Carnival.

Kay Peacock, spokesman, said in an interview that the arrangements will be the same as last year.

Mrs. Peacock said the chamber hopes everyone, the Legion, the Eastern Star, Harris Riggs and others, will join in the tie-in and provide the support again that was evident last year.

The Chamber of Commerce is co-ordinating and sponsoring Children's Day again this year, she said. "I want everyone to know how much the chamber appreciates the tremendous job everyone concerned did on organizing and executing Children's Day last year," she said.

Anyone interested in participating again this year may contact either Kay Peacock, or Doug Pigden.

All organizations are welcome, Mrs. Peacock said. If members of the Senior Citizens, or Orange Lodge, or others wish to participate, they can contact the selected representatives.

Commerce dance at the Kiwanis Centre, January 23, a Saturday, Mrs. Peacock said, but arrangements are subject to confirmation.

A tentative date has been set for a chamber of

Jim Pollock reports from Parliament

Jim Pollock, MPP Hastings-Peterborough
I am sure everyone who knew Lee Grills, the former Federal member of parliament for Hastings, was saddened by his passing earlier this month. Mr. Grills represented our area of Eastern Ontario in Ottawa for 15 years until his retirement in 1972.

Highway job

Highway Contract Awarded
Reconstruction work on Highway 507 in the Bancroft district will be getting under way next May. A contract worth $1,777,226 was recently awarded to H.J. McFarland Construction Company of Belleville.

Work on the 7.1 km stretch of the highway south of Highway 505 is expected to be completed by next fall.

Children's Act Consultation Paper

When the Children's Services Division of the Ontario Ministry of Community and Social Services was established in 1977, the laws governing children's services were identified as being one of the areas of the system in which reform was needed.

The existing laws are confusing and difficult to read, there are inconsistencies among the various acts and most importantly, it is felt that the rights of children and families are not adequately protected.

In view of the need for reform, ministry personnel have been working with regional committees, organizations who provide children's services, and individuals with expertise in this area, to develop a consultation paper which would serve as a framework for a unified Children's Act. This paper entitled The Children's Act has now been published.

The single piece of legislation proposed would reform and consolidate all existing legislation dealing directly with children in ministry programs. It is the purpose of the paper to generate discussion and feedback on the future direction of children's services legislation in Ontario.

The consultation period will end on April 29, 1983. As well as welcoming written comments on the paper, the Ministry will be scheduling several public meetings through its regional and area offices. Once the consultation period is over, a legislative bill will be developed by the ministry for introduction in the House most likely in the fall of 1983.

Jehovah's Witnesses plan convention

Local families of Jehovah's Witnesses are making plans to attend their two day circuit convention, which is being held at East Northumberland Secondary School in Brighton, December 4 and 5.

Delegates will be coming from Hastings, Prince Edward, and Northumberland Counties.

The weekend program will be centered around the theme: Make the Truth Manifest in Our Lives. Saturday afternoon, for example, a symposium which will examine several aspects of this theme will be presented. One point that will be emphasized on this part of the program will be the need to imitate Christ, referred to in the Bible as the "Faithful witness". Also considered will be the importance of gaining accurate knowledge of the Holy Scriptures and applying its counsel in one's daily activities.

Sessions begin each day at 10 a.m., with afternoon sessions at 2 p.m. Interested persons are welcome to attend. Seats are free and no collections are taken.

The climax for the gathering will come on Sunday at 2 p.m. when Mr. L.F. Gray, district supervisor, will speak on the subject: How Does the Truth Affect Your Life?

And a Madoc invitation

BY LAVERNE POUNDER

Jehovah's Witnesses invite all interested persons to their semi-annual Circuit Assembly being held at East Northumberland Secondary School in Brighton, December 4-5.

The public is especially invited to the address on Sunday entitled, How Does The Truth Affect Your Life?

This Bible-based lecture will be delivered at 2 p.m. by Mr. L.F. Grey of Georgetown.

Moose season harvested 17 bulls and 8 calves

An experimental one-week moose hunting season for bulls and calves only - has given wildlife managers in the Ministry of Natural Resources (MNR), and sportsmen, some encouraging signs for the future.

The special season was held in "management Unit 61" in the northern part of MNR's Tweed District in eastern Ontario during October. It was the first of its kind in the province - and Tweed's first moose hunt in 4 years.

"Management Unit 61" is the area bounded by Highway 7 on the south, 500 on the north, 62 on the west and 41 on the east - in north Hastings and Lennox and Addington Counties.

Designed to protect the calf-producing cows, this "selective harvest" method still allowed hunters a crack at the available stock of bulls and calves - without effectively damaging the size of the local herd or having to restrict the number of licences issued.

Responsible for managing the provinces' wildlife, MNR carefully planned and monitored the hunt - and they took no chances. Extra staff were brought in to enforce the special regulations and record the harvest.

District Biologist, Kerry Coleman, described the results as "an acceptable harvest - considering that none of the breeding cows were removed. Yet the hunting pressure was fairly intensive."

Conservation Officers checked 304 hunters in the field, and 17 bulls and 8 calves were harvested - for a success rate of 8.2 per cent. This means that about 15 per cent of the herd was taken.

"The special co-operation of hunters is a key factor in preserving their sport - especially when it comes to rebuilding and maintaining such a spectacular and popular big game resource. We had very few complaints about not being able to shoot cows - and the hunters showed a real willingness to co-operate," said Coleman.

"Six charges were laid under the Game and Fish Act, but none of these were for violations of the selective harvest system. Ministry officials also inspected many of the kill sites, but found no cows shot in error."

This technique of protecting the cows is quite similar to the "antlerless deer" policy which takes the hunting pressure off the reproducing does - and is helping rebuild the deer herds.

The Ministry feels that the principles applied in the eastern Ontario moose hunt are effective, and has already announced a "selective harvest" system for moose in the rest of Ontario - to commence in 1983.

"We feel that other factors permitting, such as proper food and shelter, predators, winter conditions and with continued hunter co-operation our moose herds can be successfully rebuilt and maximum opportunities for hunting can be maintained," said Coleman.

Sixty attend candy-making course at Catholic Parish Hall

Marg Chapman and Gail Ketcheson

Carol Paranuik, Hazzards, and Marg Chapman, Cooper, spent last Saturday demonstrating candy-making techniques to about 60 people at the Catholic Parish Hall. Carol and Marg attended a cake-decorating course at CHSS, conducted by Edith Bailey, of Roslyn, and became serious about candy making. The women attended candy-making courses at Audrey's, Centreville, to improve their techniques, and they picked up additional information from suppliers and other interested candy makers. Response to Saturday's clinic in Madoc exceeded their expectations, and applicants were divided into four groups of about fifteen, with two classes attending in the morning and two in the afternoon. ## Sharon Burfoot receives award for 18 projects in 4-H

Sharon Burfoot (nee Grills) of Stirling received an Advanced Honors Certificate and Silver Pie Server, for the completion of 18 units in the 4-H Homemaking Program at the Northumberland East Achievement Night program held in Brighton on Friday, November 19, 1982, at 7:30 p.m. Sharon has been a member of the Seymour East Club for nine years, during which time she gave of her time and talent to be a leader and assistant leader.

Sharon never considered 4-H as work, it was her extra activity, which she enjoyed very much and took keen interest in preparing each book with the greatest of pride. Her 18 books, which she has kept, contain a world of knowledge, such as how to do needlepoint, macrame, color co-ordinating, first-aid, food guide for health and most important, a numerous variety of recipes.

Upon the completion of each unit the Department of Agriculture and Food presents you with a silver spoon with the 4-H crest on it. These spoons are a valued treasure also as well as a County Honors Certificate and pin for completing six units and a Provincial Honors Certificate and pin for completing 12 units. In June 1980, Sharon represented Northumberland County at the 4-H Home-making Girls Conference at Guelph.

Congratulations Sharon for a job well done and a dream come true. "Learn To Do By Doing", the 4-H motto.

Huntingdon Council accepts request from McMaster

The Council of the Township of Huntingdon met at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall in Ivanhoe, November 15, with all members of council present. Minutes of the November 1 meeting were approved.

Council approved payment of $124 to D'Arcy O'Leary for repairs to the ceiling of the township garage.

Chimney installations were discussed with a visitor to the meeting, Steve Cawker.

David McMaster attended council to express his wish not to be re-appointed to the Madoc and District Recreation Centre Board due to conflicting hours with his job.

Development of an outdoor rink on the ball park this winter was discussed with Gary Ferguson. Work would be done by the recreation committee if the idea is approved.

A by-law to set the first meeting of council after an election was given three readings, signed, sealed and numbered 8094-82.

Two readings were given to a by-law to close a portion of road allowance at Lot 13, Concessions 13 and 14.

A letter was sent to Wm. D. Martin, solicitor for Miss Hagedorn, indicating that the township does not have a zoning by-law and has no committee of adjustment, and since council has already recommended that a land severance be granted, council can do no more, to the best of their knowledge, to assist her.

A resolution of the Township of Faraday objecting to Bill 174 providing for removal of certain wastes from the Malvern area, was filed pending receipt of further information.

Council approved the next meeting date and time as December 7, at 2 p.m.

George Hees reports from Capitol Hill

Two important Bills, C-134 dealing with Interest Rebates on Farm Credit Loans, and C-136 dealing with Small Business Investment Grants, were given speedy second reading last week, with a high degree of co-operation from the Opposition parties, and have now gone to Committee for study. It is now up to the Government to set the date for Committee study, and hopefully the urgency of these Bills will be recognized by the government when the timetable is established. Because both Opposition parties have assured co-operation, I am hopeful that these Bills will soon be back in the House for Third Reading and Royal Assent. I strongly support them.

I will deal with each Bill briefly:

C-134 Interest Rebates on Farm Credit Loans

This Bill enables farmers in financial distress to receive a 4 per cent interest rebate on loans with Farm Credit Corporation. This measure was announced in the June 28th Budget, and will be retroactive to that date. Although this program will cost the government tax revenues, it is a very small price to pay for maintaining the productivity and family farm structure of an industry of such basic importance to our Canadian economy. When Canada's agri-food industry is on the road to recovery, then Canada will be on the road to recovery as well.

C-136 Small Business Investment Grants

This Bill will enable small business borrowers to finance the acquisition of new depreciable property, other than land, automobiles and property for lease, and for research and development. The Bill provides grants of up to 4 per cent to lower interest costs to as low as 12 per cent.

Canadian Home Insulation Program (CHIP)

In addition to the two Bills I have mentioned, on November 9th, Energy Minister Jean Chretien announced changes to the Canadian Home Insulation Program. These changes, effective November 15, 1982 are:

1. For insulation and other conservation measures, the CHIP contribution will be changed to 60 per cent of materials and labour costs, from the 100 per cent of materials cost and 55 1/3 per cent of labour costs, which was previously provided by the CHIP program. There is no change in the maximum taxable grant of $500 for individual homes, or the maximums for other eligible residential units.

2. Minimum insulation levels of R12 for basements and R34 for attics will be introduced. There were no minimum insulation requirements previously. As of September 30, 1982, the federal government had provided 1,719,173 grants totalling $631,367,099.

If you would like further information on any of these or other matters, please write to me, Hon. George Hees, M.P., c/o House of Commons, Ottawa, K1A 0A6. A letter to your MP does not require a stamp.

November 26-28 game results

BILL DENISON

Forestell, 2 assists. This battle was between two previously undefeated teams up until this match.
 The Madoc club keep rolling on not yet defeated.

Midget A:
 November 27 at Wark worth, playing in an invitational Midget tournament, the Madoc lads came up with an outstanding team effort only to lost out by "the skin of their teeth".

Playing St. George's (Peterborough) in their first match the Madoc team came away with a 3-1 victory. This advanced them to the A competition.

In a hotly contested affair the game settled at 3-3 after regulation time. In overtime Eric Brinks was Madoc's hero as he broke away on a one-man to one-man overtime arrangement and wrapped home the winner.

This set the stage for the championship showdown against Richmond Hill (a AAA Midget team). Madoc had a 4-3 edge with only 5 minutes to go, but Richmond Hill tied it up. Then in overtime, Richmond Hill managed to win 5-4. Congratulations to Madoc for a great team effort

On December 4 and 5 this same Midget A team will be in a tournament being held in Wellington.

November 26 and 27 in getters, Tim Bailey, 3 goals, Brad Phillips, 2 goals, 2 assists; Tom Burnside, 2 assists; and Dave Hobson,

 1 assist. Player of the game,
 Brad Phillips. This win advanced them to the A competition level.

Second game - Stirling 7, Madoc 3. Scoring points for Madoc: Tom Burnside, 2 goals; Brad Phillips, 1 goal, 1 assist; Brad Bateman, 1 assist; and Derek Davidson,
 1 assist. Player of the game for Madoc, Tim Bailey. For their first effort of the year, Madoc Novices showed real promise for the days ahead.

SPORTS

The Blake's IGA Chiefs fought to a 6-6 draw with third place Little Britain on Friday night. Going into the third period, the Chiefs were leading 6-3 after scoring four unanswered goals in the second period, but they couldn't hold back the determined Little Britain attack in the third period. While it was very cold outside, the atmosphere was definitely hot between these two teams.

Chiefs tie with Little Britain

LAKEFIELD The Lakefield Blake's IGA Chiefs had to settle for a 6-6 tie with the Little Britain Merchants on Friday night. The Chiefs again held the lead with under one minute to play and could not hold off the Merchants who tied the game with twenty seconds to go on a goal by Elroy Jewell. The Chiefs fell behind 3-2 after one period. Scoring for the Merchants was Elroy Jewell, Jamie Bergen and Terry Jenkins with Rob Gilders scoring a pair for the Chiefs.

The second period was all Chiefs as they scored four straight goals, with Glenn Stevenson scoring a pair and singles going to Gerry Goughlin and Perry McCracken, making the score 6-3 Chiefs after two.

The Merchants started their comeback with a goal by Kevin Jenkins at 31 seconds of the third. Then Brian Anderson scored to pave the way for Jewell's heroics.

The Chiefs travelled to Stouffville Saturday night and were beaten by the Clippers 8-4. The Clippers goal scorers were Murray

Rose, Reg Elmer and Art McGee with two each, and Blair Pearson and Rob Brandon with singles. The Chiefs' scorers were Kevin Evans with two and singles to Dave Morgan and Kevin Gilders.

The Chiefs' next home game is Tuesday, November 30, at 8:30 when they host the Bowmanville Eagles and then Sunday, December 5, at 8 p.m. when they take on the Port Hope Panthers.

Volleyball winners decided

By ANDY PAYNE

LDSS co-ed intramural volleyball finals took place on Monday, November 15. The championship game was played during lunch hour between team two, captained by Wendy Jacobs, and team four, captained by Wendy Jopling. The finals consisted of two 15 minute games and the team with the most points in the end would be the champions.

The decision was easily reached as team four was victorious in both games. The members of the winning team were Wendy Jopling, Andy Payne, Wayne Edwards, Steve McConkey and Mr. John Nicholson, head of the audio-visual department.

The team is full of eight first year seniors. The sole returning player from last year's team is Dave Pettifer at 6 feet, 6 inches. With good height, this year, the Tigers should have a power offense and a good solid defense. This year at guard will be Jules Caza along with John Walsh. The power forwards will consist of Dave Pettifer and George Loucks followed by the small forwards Dan Brown and Brant Laycoe. High post will be stabilized by Gary Rdsborough, Don Van Vugt and Mike Hottinger.

After the regular Kawartha league play, the team will proceed to "A" COSSA playoffs.

Battle of sexes won by boys

By ALLEN BAILEY

Following the Christmas break, the Senior Tigers Boys Basketball team will be returning to the courts to face Peterborough County teams in triple-headers at Kenner Collegiate.

The Junior Girls, having a big playoff game on Saturday, November 27, played the Junior Boys in a well fought exhibition game but, as fate would have it, the boys defeated the girls. The boys did wish the girls luck at the Kawartha Championships.

Coach Buchanan stated, "We have an excellent team but in the Battle of the Sexes, the boys were playing scramble ball in which they were struggling to whoever they spotted first."

Norwood Knights

4-0 on season

The NDHS Knights improved their record to four wins and no losses with two more victories last week in Kawartha High School Hockey League play.

On Tuesday, November 23, the team travelled to Peterborough to meet the TASS Griffins and skated to an impressive 8-5 victory. Leading the Norwood scoring was Kent Wrightly with two goals and two assists and Mike Roffey with two goals and one assist. Other Norwood goals were scored by Mike Lytle, Curtis Townshend, David Human, and Gary Wilson, while Jeff Cooper contributed two assists as well as playing a fine defensive game. Greg Cole, making his first start of the season in the Norwood goal, contributed a solid effort and had a shutout going into the third period before TASS managed to get on the scoreboard.

The biggest test of the young season for the Knights came at the Havelock arena on Thursday, November 25, when the team hosted the Crestwood

Mustangs, a team regarded as one of the league's top contenders this season. In a hard-fought game, the Knights emerged with a 5-2 victory to extend their winning streak to four straight games. Norwood goals were scored by Mike Lytle, Steve Jensen and Mike Roffey, while Doug James and Chris Downer replied for Crestwood. Allan Wilde played another fine game in goal for the Knights, stopping 26 of the 28 shots fired in his direction by the Mustangs.

Two more crucial games face the Knights this week. On Tuesday, November 30, the Knights play the St. Peter's Saints in the Norwood arena. First place will be at stake in this game as the Saints also boast a record of 4 wins in their first 4 games. Then on Thursday, December 2, in the Havelock arena the Knights play host to the Kenner Rams whose only defeat this year came at the hands of St. Peter's. Both games start at 5:30 p.m. and promise to provide plenty of excitement for all hockey fans in the area.

Lions' tourney attracts 16 teams

MARMORA A total of 22 games were played over the weekend to decide A and B Champions in the Marmora and District Lions Club Open Hockey Tournament at the Marmora Arena.

B finalists were Belleville's Four Seasons Sports and Pickering, with the Belleville team coming out on top 4-2.

A champions were Penn Centre of Pickering, who edged Peterborough's McIntyre Auto 6-5.

The tournament, organized by Lion Russ Mitchell, was open to any team that wanted to enter and 16 took part. No body contact was permitted.

Complete results: Madoc Juniors 5, Frankford 4; McIntyre Auto 3, Four Seasons Sports 2; Marmora Sweathogs 9, Smith Carpentry (Peterborough) 2; Springbrook 5, Belleville Ragtags 3; Currie Tire (Peterborough) 12, Procter and Gamble (Belleville) 4; Gibson Star TV (Peterborough) 5, Olan Farms (Millbrook) 4; Penn Centre 8, Stag Shop (Peterborough) 0;

Novices win

The Marmora Novices travelled to Tweed November 27, to defeat Tweed 8-2, with Jason Nicholson scoring 5 goals of which 3 were unassisted.

Other scorers were Ian Sopha (2), Shawn Pascoe. Assistants went to Kevin Hutchings (2), John Paul Bertrand, Skye Donaldson and Jason Nicholson.

Tweed goals were scored by Trevor Brook, one unassisted. The other one assisted by Greg Generaux.

OMMB leadership has good record

Leadership is a rare quality, not found in every person nor sometimes even in those who seek to be leaders.

Isolation, derision, abandonment even, are battlefields for leaders, charisma, adulation, even adoration are offered when the leader is at the top. But obscure leaders who get no adulation are a part of the agricultural fabric of this nation.

One of the reasons the Ontario Milk Marketing Board has been so successful is because of its leaders.

When the board was formed to bring order out of chaos about 15 years ago, George McCullough was the man fingered to be the chairman. For 10 years, he labored sometimes in obscurity, sometimes in the limelight. He showed tremendous calmness under fire and he certainly took a great deal of flak in the early years.

I can recall when milk routes were being rationalized, some older milk producers were incensed when the board told them who could and could not drive certain roads.

At a milk board meeting in those years, one of the best producers in the province an irascible old Scotsman raked every member of the board's executive with vitriol, sarcasm and condemnation. The verbal attack could have been a case of slander but the board, led by the unflappable George, took it in their stride.

Some years later, that same Scotsman apologized publicly at another meeting for his words and I'm sure the apology was spontaneous.

The board has been able to attract excellent leaders since McCullough retired.

Ken McKinnon who represents Grey, Bruce and Huron Counties, stepped in as chairman in 1977. Although perhaps not as articulate as McCullough, McKinnon has been just as effective with his calm, pragmatic approach to problems.

He has also proven to be an effective, sometimes brilliant, mediator for the board with its producers. I have heard him speak on a number of occasions and he is always patient and reasonable.

Many times, other provinces, even other countries have come to the Ontario Milk Board for advice. The board has attracted a staff of administrators over the years which has been more cooperative than almost any other farm organization I have ever dealt with.

They have also attracted excellent representatives from the various counties in Ontario. For instance, Peter Oosterhoff, representing Wentworth, Niagara, Hamilton and Brant, was re-elected for a third term, and Bill Schouten of Carleton Place and Renfrew, will serve his first full term.

Both these gentlemen are representative of the new breed of farmer. They carry their dignity with them wherever they go and almost every other member of the board could be described in a similar manner.

Which is not to say that everything is perfect.

The thorny problem of quota prices, which are skyrocketing will have to be solved. Group 1 pool quota was selling at $146.75 the last I looked and that is 30 per cent higher than it should be if the board can continue to justify the belief that quotas should be bought and sold.

As well, the closing of the Silverwood plant in Peterborough is causing great concern in the justification of milk pickups and deliveries.

Challenges have been met and solved before by the OMMB. With the leaders it has, I'm convinced they will continue to make it the envy of every supply management board in Canada.

OFA backs Canagrex

The Canagrex bill must be passed in this session of Parliament, Ralph Barrie, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) said from his farm in Perth.

"Our agricultural industry desperately needs a corporation like Canagrex. It would be criminal to delay putting it in place because of petty politicking," Barrie said.

The Canagrex bill proposes to set up a crown corporation to expedite and promote exports of Canadian agricultural and food products. Passage of the bill has been delayed at the committee stage. Several members of the House of Commons Agricultural Committee are concerned about what they call Canagrex's extensive powers.

Barrie stressed that the powers which would be granted to Canagrex are "not extraordinary" and rather than posing a threat to free enterprise, it would be most beneficial to smaller agricultural producer groups, which normally wouldn't be able to crack export markets.

"Canagrex is absolutely essential if we are to fill the gaping void between our potential to produce and manufacture agricultural products for export, and our present performance," Barrie said.

OFA's position is that the Canagrex bill must be passed this session so the work required to set it up can begin immediately.

Toys should stimulate skills

BY CATHARINE TOZER
Infant Development
Consultant

At Christmas time, what toys will 12 to 18 month olds enjoy most? Look for toys that stimulate the skills the toddler is practising.

One-year-olds are perfecting their skills in walking, eye-hand co-ordination and imagination.

Push toys (are opposed to pull toys), such as the Fisher-Price "corn popper" are highly recommended by the Canadian Toy Testing Council (CTTC).

Ride-on toys for 1½ year olds should be the right size and especially the right height for the toddler you have in mind. The Coleco "little pro" in the shape of a sneaker is popular but the CTTC reports very poor durability. The Reliable "ride'em tractor", Fisher-Price's "riding horse", "explorer" and Little Tyke's "quakes" are recommended instead by the CTTC for their appeal, durability and play value. Eye-Hand Co-ordination Toys

During the 12 to 18-month period toddlers are still experimenting with the ways that the simplest things work. Anything that stacks, nests or threads will interest them.

Playskool makes alphabet blocks with lasting appeal, however, if you're hands you can make smaller blocks (about one inch) that are easier for small hands to hold onto and stack up.

Ambi makes "handy boxes" that fit inside each other, or stack up on top of each other. Simple toys that stack will hold a toddler's interest for long periods.

The Fisher-Price "rock-a-stack" or any other toy where donut shapes are threaded onto a post are just the thing to stimulate careful eye-hand co-ordination. Putting the sizes on in order and naming colors will come later.

Christmas Toys Can Be Inexpensive

If it's your own child you're buying for, or if you don't find it necessary to buy impressive commercial toys, then use your imagination to make your own playthings.

Stacking toys like bean bags or old milk cartons painted and covered with clear mactac for protection, nesting toys such as plastic bowls in three different sizes, or a picture book made from cut out magazine pictures placed in an inexpensive photo album will please as well. A one-year old isn't too young to try his hand at scribbling with one fat red crayon on a large piece of newsprint. A beach ball will keep a toddler's interest too. Craft magazines sometimes have patterns for making activity books for toddlers with a different activity to perform on each page.

Fit Together Toys Interest 1½ Year Olds

Toddlers who have practised fine motor skills for awhile will be ready to enjoy shape sorters. Tupperware's "Shape-O" is a popular first shape sorter toy, although it's difficult to release the shapes and the toy is only available through Tupperware dealers.

Simple puzzles have only 3 or 4 pieces and each piece is a picture in itself. Once the toddler can complete a 4 piece puzzle, introduce one with 5 pieces and so on. Look for puzzles that suit the child's interests and age level.

Both boys and girls learn body part names and the idea of empathy from dolls or stuffed animals. Dolls that can be dressed or otherwise stimulate active participation hold children's interest over a longer period but that doesn't mean that they shouldn't feel soft and cuddly too. Stuffed animals are always attractive but there's not too much a toddler can do with them even once his imagination is more developed. Fuzzy hand puppets offer more potential for play and they can be a lot more fun because Mom or Dad have to play too.

There are a number of toys on the market that stimulate the 12-to-18-month-old child's growing sense of imagination. The CTTC recommends the Fisher-Price "chatter telephone", "milk carrier" and "play lunch box". Look for any sturdy toy that encourages the infant to pretend or "make believe".

Canadians eat well — and safely

Colonel Sanders' secret recipe for Kentucky Fried Chicken perhaps isn't as secret as we may have thought. Under Canadian law, a company or individual must not only tell the government what ingredients are used, but also how much.

Director of the Food Research Institute of Agriculture Canada, Dr. John Holme, told an audience at Kemptville College the modern consumer "has the safest food" in the history of the world. Safe food has been achieved by a "process of evolution," he said.

Speaking on the role of food additives, Holme defined an additive as something added to a product to alter it from one state to another. Excluded under Canadian law are agricultural chemicals, spices, flavors, nutritive materials and drugs used for animal protection. He added that all are controlled by the government.

In his speech, Holme said that fabricated foods were often designed because of shortages or special markets. A chemist fabricated the first margarine at the request of Napoleon who wanted a spread with better preservative qualities for the Russian Front. A food is called fabricated when the components have no natural counterparts.

During the question period, Holme dismissed the possibility that processed bacon was carcinogenic. More nitrates come from fresh vegetables than from bacon, he said. Nitrates give the meat its red color and improve its shelf life. Without nitrite and other preserving agents, the danger of food poisoning would be great.

Treat stains promptly

Don't let the warm memories of Christmas dinner be spoiled by permanent food stains. Learn the proper methods of stain removal and you won't have a problem, say home economics specialists of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Cranberry sauce and wine can be grouped together as fruit stains. Sponge or soak the stain immediately with cold water — don't let it dry. If the fabric is washable, soak in an activated enzyme product, then launder in the hottest water possible for that fabric. Bleach, if necessary.

Candle wax should be scraped off fabrics with a dull knife. Soak the stained area in cleaning fluid then wash as usual. If a wax color remains, sponge with equal parts of rubbing alcohol and water.

Pre-soak gray stains in an activated enzyme product. Pre-treat with a grease solvent such as perchlorethylene which is readily available in drug stores, then launder.

Don't let alcoholic beverage stains dry before trying to remove them. Sponge or soak stained fabrics immediately in cold water. Wash in warm suds.

Eat wisely

Fibre is important but it's not the cure-all it's often claimed to be. To eat wisely, select a wide variety of foods, including fruits, vegetables and unrefined whole grains but aim for moderation in everything.

Milk is for . . . everyone!

Milk is not only for children, it's for everyone. It's a basic food that the young, the adult and the elderly need every day, say foods and nutrition specialists, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Unless one's diet includes milk or milk products at any age, it is very difficult for the body to get enough calcium for healthy teeth and bones. Adults, particularly seniors, should realize bones get more brittle as the years go by, so milk is needed every day. Not only is it necessary for healthy teeth and bones, it is also important for water balance in the body and for proper blood clotting.

In addition to mineral calcium, riboflavin (vitamin B<sub>2</sub>) is present in milk in generous amounts. This vitamin keeps skin healthy and vision clear. It is evident that it will not correct physical deficiencies, but its ingestion every day, from babyhood on, can help delay certain skin or vision problems.

Protein, a most important nutrient, is also found in nature's most nearly perfect food. Protein is needed by the body at all ages, to build and repair tissue, to fight infection and supply energy.

Vitamin A, also responsible for the normal development of teeth and bones, proper night vision and for the maintenance of skin is a bonus found in milk. This vitamin is so important to our health, it is added to skim or partially-skimmed milk.

Vitamin D, so necessary for good health, is not commonly found in the foods we usually eat every day so the Food and Drug Regulations state that vitamin D must be added to all milk sold in Canada.

Vitamin D is needed for the effective use of calcium and phosphorus in the normal formation and upkeep of our bones. Hence, it is added to the milk we drink.

Pregnant and breast-feeding women and children aged 4 to 6 can obtain a sufficient amount of vitamin D by drinking or consuming 2 1/2 servings of milk per day. Older children, teens and adults, whose requirements for vitamin D are less, can obtain their quota by consuming 1 1/4 servings of milk, one serving being equivalent to 250 mL (1 cup). However, Canada's Food Guide recommends that children under the age of 11 consume two to three servings, adolescents three to four servings, adults two servings and pregnant or nursing women three to four servings. The reason for the discrepancy is that the recommended amount of vitamin D may be provided by a lesser amount of milk, but the "calcium requirement" for different ages is higher and must also be met.

Milk is nature's nearly perfect food. Babies and children thrive on it. It should not be given up at adulthood. Drinking milk every day is a very wise move.

Soil and Crop Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Northumberland Soil and Crop Improvement Association will take place on Tuesday, December 7, starting at 10:15 a.m., at the Agricultural Service Centre in Brighton.

Under the direction of Chairman Lorne McKeown, the Association has had an active year, involving many projects and activities. The morning's program will include a report on some of these activities along with the election of the 1983 directors, and a report from the district representative, Mike Clitherow of Codrington.

The main feature of the program will be a talk by Dr. Dave Hume, Crop Science, University of Guelph, who will be discussing Future Developments of the vegetable oil industry
- soybeans, canola, sunflowers, etc. Dr. Hume has done extensive research on oil producing crops in Ontario and his talk should be of interest to many farmers who are looking at alternative crops for the area.

Howard Lang, the Soils and Crops Specialist for the area, will comment on some of the activities and problems in the 1982 crop year.
As a special feature, the Farm Safety Association will have the hearing testing equipment available for anyone who wishes to check their hearing. Dinner is $5.50 per person and membership $3 available from any one of the directors or the OMAF offices in Brighton. All farmers are welcome.

War on Warbles Livestock producers who have not treated their cattle for warble control should so soon within the next few days.

Systemics which are available are cheap, efficient, and easy to use, but should be applied no later than the first part of December. The cost of the treatment is dependent on the size of the animal but generally will run between 20 cents and 50 cents per head. It has been proven, time and again, that this is a small charge for the increased returns livestock owners receive from controlling warbles. The systemics presently on the market, kill the grubs as they migrate through the animal's tissue.

If used as directed the products are safe, however, later in December and January, the larvae are located along the animal's gullet and spinal cord, and when killed in this area, can lead to undesirable side effects. If animals do show some signs of mild paralysis or stiffness, a veterinarian should be called. Products which are recommended include Neguvon, Grubex, Co-Ral and Spoton. Remember, read the label and follow directions.

Provincial ministers agree on need for national farm stabilization plan

Provincial agricultural ministers agreed to take their case for a national farm income stabilization plan to the federal government, following one-day meeting in Regina last month.

Ontario agriculture minister Jim Timbrell called the meeting to bring together provincial agriculture ministers and producer groups after a federal-provincial meeting on a federal red-meat policy did not materialize.

"In a single day, we achieved overwhelming support for a national, voluntary, tripartite income stabilization plan for all farm products not covered under supply management," Timbrell said in a statement to the Ontario legislature. He said the agreement has the potential of covering at least two-thirds of farm products produced in Canada since one-third are covered by supply management arrangements.

"Farmers live in a high risk, uncertain world of fluctuating prices for both supplies and product," he said. "Highly variable farm incomes have made it difficult in the past for farmers to conduct long-term planning. Producers must be able to plan ahead with confidence if we are to have proper rational growth in the agricultural sector. Stabilization provides a stop-loss floor price for specific commodities."

The meeting heard presentations from the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, the Canadian Cattlemen's Association, and the Canadian Pork Council. Representatives of the National Farmers' Union and the Canadian Sheep

Council also expressed their views.

"It was the first time that provincial governments and national producer groups have gathered in one meeting to address our problems jointly," said Timbrell.

A joint communique issued from the Regina meeting said delegates are hopeful that the federal government will agree to participate in a committee composed of producers, federal and provincial representatives to begin work on the details of the national plan.

Pneumonoultramicroscopicsilicovolcanonconitosis new disease

A disease caused by volcanic dust from Mount St. Helens probably has more letters in it - 47 than victims.

Nobody really knows how serious the disease is, but the name is a real killer.
Pneumonoultramicroscopicsilicovolcanonconitosis.

In fact it probably would be hard in spelling bees.

The word has been recognized by the newest supplement to the Oxford Dictionary as the longest word in the English language.

Dr. Sonia Buist of Oregon Health Sciences University said the condition results

THE WORLD'S GREAT VACATION RESORTS HAVE ONE THING IN COMMON: THEIR GUESTS KEEP COMING BACK.

And that, quite simply, is how Indian River Plantation measures its phenomenal success. A commitment to our guests of uncompromising excellence, in service and facilities, has over the years made their return visits to the Plantation a tradition. We have one of the finest tennis facilities in Florida with eleven Har-Tru courts kept in tournament condition. A magnificent executive golf course where nothing is spared to maintain its immaculate appearance. Our oceanfront location offers luxurious accommodations in hotel apartments with fully-equipped kitchens, and private access to our white sand beaches. The kids have everything from golf and tennis clinics to a video game room. The evening brings entertainment and gourmet cuisine in our resort's two fine restaurants. And then there's us, providing personal attention and service to ensure you'll want to come back again and again.

Stretch food dollars with leftover turkey

What size turkey should you buy?

Foods and nutrition specialists, Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, say that by understanding certain "turkey facts" you can easily determine the size which will best suit the need.

"It's all a matter of leftovers", they say. "Whether you want some, or whether you don't."

The edible meat from a whole turkey is 40 per cent of its purchased weight, the remainder being lost in thawing, cooking and bones. For each kilogram (2.2 pounds) of uncooked turkey, you can count on 400 grams (14 ounces) of cooked meat, of this 250 grams (nine ounces) can be sliced and the remainder used as chunks or bits in casseroles and soups.

Using the imperial measure, this means that for every pound of uncooked turkey, you will obtain about six ounces of cooked edible product. A normal serving being three ounces cooked, you can count on two servings per pound or, four to five servings per kilogram of uncooked turkey. Hence a five kilogram frozen turkey (11 pounds) will yield 20 to 25 servings in total (counting the slices, chunks and bits).

Whether or not to purchase a huge bird is up to you and the family's habits. Leftover cooked turkey can be stored in covered containers, plastic bags or aluminum foil in the freezer for a period of one to three months. Stored in the refrigerator, it should be used within three to four days. If the family frequently enjoys casseroles or soup or salads made with turkey, then you are well advised to buy a bigger bird than you require for one meal. On the other hand if your family members are strictly "sliced turkey" eaters, you should select a bird which could be almost totally devoured at one sitting.

In case your recipes using those wonderful turkey leftovers are at a premium, here are a couple of ideas.

Turkey cheese casserole

125 mL. chopped onion
25 mL. butter

1 can (284 mL) condensed cheddar cheese soup
25 mL. chicken bouillon
3 mL. dry mustard
1 mL. salt
5 mL. pepper
dash nutmeg
250 mL. (100 g) grated cheddar cheese
500 mL. cooked noodles (150 g uncooked)
500 mL. diced cooked turkey
500 mL. frozen peas
25 mL. chopped pimiento
50 mL. buttered bread crumbs

Cook onion in butter until transparent. Blend in soup, bouillon and seasonings. Stir and cook until smooth and thick. Add cheese and stir until melted. Combine noodles, sauce, turkey, peas and pimiento. Turn into greased 2.5 L. baking dish. Top with crumbs. Bake 30 minutes at 180°C (350°F). Makes six servings.

Turkey waldorf salad

750 mL. diced cooked turkey
375 mL. diagonally sliced celery

250 mL. coarsely chopped apple
125 mL. coarsely chopped walnuts
5 mL. salt
125 mL. mayonnaise or salad dressing

Combine all ingredients except mayonnaise. Add dressing, toss and chill. Serve in lettuce cups and garnish with paprika, if desired. Makes six servings.

Co-ordinator named to investigate issues in livestock industry

H.E. McGill has been appointed special projects co-ordinator in the Technology and Field Services division of the Ministry of Agriculture and Food. Formerly director of the ministry's livestock branch, McGill is continuing a 34-year career with the ministry.

Assistant Deputy Minister Dr. J.C. Rennie said McGill will co-ordinate the development of action plans to deal with several critical issues in the livestock industry.

McGill will lead four major projects over the next two years. The first will investigate opportunities for more efficient pork production through improved management practices. He will identify needed changes in the operation of the industry and then develop a tailor-made educational extension program for pork producers.

The second project will assess the future of Ontario beef production systems in the rapidly changing economic environment. In conjunction with animal and plant scientists and the beef cattle industry, existing research will be evaluated and new studies commissioned if necessary.

He will also study the effect of single voltage on the performance of livestock and poultry, particularly dairy cattle and co-ordinate the ministry's activity with Ontario Hydro and other agencies on this issue.

Finally, McGill will oversee the evaluation of canola as a livestock feed and estimate the potential Ontario demand for the crop.

OMAF to support young farmer contest

The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food is contributing $2,000 toward the 1983 Outstanding Young Farmer Program of the Canadian Jaycees.

The program is designed to recognize "well-rounded individual farmers" who are judged on the progress they have made in their agricultural careers, production history, conservation practices, willingness to innovate and involvement in the community.

"The aim of the contest is to increase urban awareness of the achievements of this province's young farmers and, in general, to promote better urban/rural understanding," says Ontario agriculture and food minister Dennis Timbrell.

To be eligible, farmers must be between the ages of 18 and 39 and earn at least two-thirds of their total income from their farming operation.

Of the candidates nominated, two will be chosen to represent Ontario in the national competition. In 1981, Mike Mavnard, who runs a mixed farming operation in the Chatham area, was both an Ontario and national winner.

OMAF's financial contribution will be used to produce posters and other material, for promotion and publicity and to help cover judging costs.

Other sponsors include the Bank of Montreal, Ralston-Purina and the United Co-Operatives of Ontario.

'JOLLY GOOD' — Please your guests this year with a perfectly-roasted Christmas turkey. The secret, say foods and nutrition specialists of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, is to count the cooking time backwards. This technique will avoid a partially-cooked or an over-cooked turkey.

Recount cooking time for 'perfect turkey'

Too often, otherwise confident cooks panic at the thought of roasting a turkey. But there's no need to panic, says foods and nutrition specialists of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

The secret to a perfectly cooked bird is to count the cooking time backwards.

Determine at what time you will want to eat. Let's assume it's 6 p.m., allowing 30 minutes for the bird to stand prior to carving, it's now 5:30 p.m. Then, consult the note at the end for the roasting time in a 160°C (325°F) oven. A five kilogram (11 pound) turkey requires 4-1/2 to 5-1/4 hours of cooking. Back-tracking, it is now between 1 p.m. and 12:15 noon. Whether the bird is fresh or frozen and thawed, it should be out of the refrigerator one hour prior to cooking to bring it to a reasonable temperature and to allow time to stuff or prepare it for roasting. It is now between 12 noon and 12:15 noon. If the turkey was frozen, ideally it should be thawed in the refrigerator allowing 10 hours per kg (five hours per lb).

If thawed at room temperature, you should allow three hours per kg. The five kg bird would need 15 hours for defrosting, bringing the time to between 9 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. the night before you want to serve the turkey. So, at that time, you would take the bird out of the freezer. However, should the turkey be fresh, you would leave it in the refrigerator until 11:15 a.m. the day of the meal.

It is best to do these calculations on paper and keep the notes handy. It avoids a lot of confusion, not to mention "panic" at the thought of serving a partially-cooked or an overcooked, dry turkey.

Here are additional tips on handling the bird to ensure it is safe to eat and won't be the cause of distressing cramps.

When thawing at room temperature for the required hours, place the big bird on a rack, in a roasting pan. Slit the bag that covers the turkey, along the back, but leave the bag on. The juices lost during thawing will drip into the pan. These should be discarded and the pan thoroughly washed before cooking the bird in it. Slide the pan and turkey into a brown paper bag to ensure a more even thawing. Otherwise, the surface of the bird will reach room temperature before the inside is thawed, giving the surface bacteria a chance to multiply readily.

Remember that time has been allowed to stuff or prepare the turkey for cooking either after thawing or standing at room temperature. This is no time to "cheat" by stuffing the bird ahead of time. (A lot of people do it with fresh birds. This is not advised.) As soon as a bird is stuffed, it should be slipped into the oven to start the cooking process.

Always cook a turkey at 160°C (325°F), and remove any leftover stuffing from the cooked bird before serving it in the refrigerator. Leftover turkey meat should be cut from the carcass and set in the refrigerator within two hours of its removal from the oven.

Cooking a perfect turkey is as easy as counting backwards. Try it. It works!

Delicate items in your wardrobe need special care

Although it is the era of machine wash and dry, there may be some delicate items in your wardrobe that still need special care to prolong their wear-life. Articles such as lingerie, wool knits and silk items can retain their shape and fresh appearance when washed and dried as their fabric demands.

Nylon is the main fibre used in lingerie today. Spandex, an elastic fibre, is added to those items which require stretch.

Lingerie made of these fibres can be machine-washed using the gentle cycle. Use detergent or soap dissolved in lukewarm water. Nylon's tendency to pick up and retain color from other garments in the washing machine demands that nylon items be washed only with other white clothing. Even if colors in other garments seem fast, they may run just enough to make white nylon things look "off-white".

Dingy or greyed nylon that was formerly white can be immersed in hot water and color remover to restore whiteness. Color remover can be purchased where packaged goods are sold. Follow the directions closely on the label. Avoid chlorine bleach which will discolor nylon.

Best results and longer wear-life are achieved if nylon and spandex items are line-dried. However, they can be machine-dried on a low temperature setting for 10-15 minutes.

Pantyhose can be enclosed in a mesh bag and washed and dried as outlined for the nylon/spandex garments. If you wish to iron some of your nylon items use the "nylon" or "permanent press" heat setting.

Woolen knits often carry a "Dry Clean Only" label but they can be hand-washed successfully following a simple method.

The garment's measurements, such as chest measurement, body or sleeve lengths should be recorded before washing. Dissolve mild detergent or soap in lukewarm water then add the garment. Squeeze it gently, do not rub or leave to soak. When the item is clean, squeeze as much water out as possible (do not wring) and rinse at least twice in clean water. All the soap must be removed.

Roll in a thick towel to remove as much moisture as possible then lay it on a flat surface away from heat and sunlight. Gently push it back to its original size and shape as indicated by measurements taken before washing.

When dry the garment can be pressed using a steam iron set at the "Wool" heat setting.

Silk is becoming more readily available in medium-priced stores. Many consumers who had previously not considered buying garments made of silk fabric may be considering it now. Most care labels on silk garments say "Dry Clean Only" but in fact many silk garments can be washed and expensive dry-cleaning bills can be avoided.

It's important that a scrap or seam allowance of the fabric is tested for shrinkage or running color. Measure the scrap (length and width) when washed in lukewarm water and mild, pure soap. Note any color running from the fabric. Rinse the fabric well, then let dry. Measure to check for any shrinkage. If no shrinkage occurs, then the garment can be washed. If the color runs, wash the garment separately.

As done with the test fabric, wash the silk garment with pure mild soap dissolved in lukewarm water. Squeeze the suds through the garment. Rinse well so no soap residue remains.

Roll in a towel to squeeze out the excess water. If you can't press the garment right away, roll it in a second towel and leave until you are ready to press it. Silk will yellow if left to dry in the air. Iron while still damp on a low heat setting, on the wrong side of the fabric.

Untreated silk can be easily water spotted. (Today most manufacturers are using a water-spot-resistant finish.) You can test a scrap by sprinkling water on it and letting it dry. If the fabric does water-spot, don't use a steam iron unless the fabric is protected with a press cloth.

Delicate items do need special care so follow these cleaning tips to preserve their fresh look and increase their wear-life.

School Directors become advisors to the Board of Education

Santa sets up shop

Santa set up a Christmas visiting spot for children at the Canadian Tire Store in Madoc, and will appear on Thursday and Friday nights and on Saturdays until Christmas. Under the Old Gent's whiskers and flannels is Bill McIntyre, and the helper-elf is Jason Weickert. Jo Oliver is seen with the Christmas duo.

Canadian Tire coupons will buy talking books for the blind

A small jar with a big job sits on the check-out counter of the Madoc Canadian Tire store (CTC) until Christmas.

Customers can put Canadian Tire Cash Bonus money in the jar and when the coupons are tallied on December 24th, full cash value will be given to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind (CNIB) to buy talking books for the blind and visually impaired.

The CNIB Library Service is one of the most popular services of the CNIB, a statement to the press released jointly by the CNIB and CTC explained.

Two hundred visually impaired readers in six counties, served by the Belleville CNIB office, will use the talking books in 1983, the statement said.

Cost of providing talking books for each visually impaired reader is $120 per year, and CNIB requested that customers be encouraged to donate their coupons to help the cause.

Other CTC stores in the area are participating, and the store with the largest gift will receive a trophy to be displayed for customers.

Centre Hastings Adult Day School directors took on a new role at a directors' meeting December 1; they became an Advisory Committee to the Hastings County Board of Education.

The Adult Basic Education Program, operating out of the Orange Hall, Madoc, is designed to provide academic upgrading for adults, and it is intended to reflect the needs of the people in the community.

The board of education feels that community involvement is necessary to develop such a program, and has agreed to budget for funds to operate the program.

The new advisory committee is comprised of people from different walks of life, with expertise related to adults, particularly those adults who find themselves inadequately educated to cope with employment or find themselves without necessary life skills, and who wish to learn or improve themselves.

The advisory committee will assess community needs, establish learning priorities, and monitor changing needs of adults in the community. Recommendations will be made to the Board, and final responsibility will remain in the Board's hands.

In an agreement adopted at the meeting, the Board agreed to request funding, hire necessary teaching and support staff, provide supervision and assistance, provide professional development funding, teaching supplies and materials and agreed to expand its commitments when the program expands.

In the same agreement, it was decided that the Board of Directors of the Adult School will act as an advisory committee to ensure that goals of the program are known and met, and that the Adult School directors will arrange funding for activities outside Board of Education jurisdiction and facilities.

In other business, Laura Thompson, Adult Day School teacher, said that enrolment stands at 14 students, with two of the 14 being part time.

Fund-raising activities include plans to apply for a government tree planting contract next spring. Planting of about 30,000 trees could realize between $2,000 and $3,500 for the school. Mrs. Thompson announced that she has a new student worker to assist in educating adults, and that Heather Connolly, the student, may replace her for short periods while she tutors students outside school facilities.

The Adult Day School Board is looking at operating a Youth Employment Counselling Service, that would serve unemployed and disadvantaged youths between 15 and 24 years of age.

The program would be in a non-institutional setting, would forge links with other employment programs and youth services, would conduct counselling on a one-to-one or a small-group basis, would assist in finding jobs, and assist in advancing education.

The program would require a fund commitment from the community, but grants would come from government sources to cover 50 per cent of costs.

Community commitments would be supplemented by direct fees for donations in kind, rent, phone and fees for work and organizational commitments.

Walter and Viola Wannamaker celebrate 55th November 14th

An at-home at Trinity United Church Hall honored the 55th wedding anniversary of Walter and Viola Wannamaker November 14. Seventy-five relatives and friends stopped by for the occasion.

Granddaughters Carol Burling and Peggy Wannamaker of Belleville and Joyce Mackey and Mary Panabaker of L'Amable served a buffet lunch. Their two sons, Elmer, of Bancroft, and Clifford, of Belleville, welcomed friends at the door while their wives, Irene and Florence, tended to the guest book. Sixteen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren attended.

Only one sister, Mary Loney, of Belleville, and Viola are left, of a family of 13: nine sons and four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chatterton. Walter has no members left of the Durl Wannamaker family.

A cake and gifts were presented, including an emerald stickpin and the letters WSW, tie pin, and anniversary cards. Lighted emerald candles decorated both sides of the cake.

Guests were from Belleville, Bancroft, L'Amable, Cooper, Queensborough, Eldorado, Madoc and Hartismere.

Land O'Lakes tourist group views Teleguide after meeting

BY FAY L. HENRY

A regular board meeting of the Land O'Lakes Tourist Association was held November 15, at the New York Cafe in Napanee. Nine of twelve directors were present as well as business representatives, the secretary-treasurer and three guests.

After the meeting, Teleguide was presented at the Dixie Lee Restaurant office. Teleguide is a unique information service using Teldion technology developed in Canada.

Guest Anne Binkley of Raesgo Advertising Graphics, Barrie, demonstrated how answers are available at the touch of a button to virtually any question about leisure and recreation facilities and events throughout Toronto and the rest of Ontario.

Directors were pleased to see their business names on screen.

Teleguide is a natural continuation of the Ontario, Yours to Discover program.

More information will be contained in a newsletter to the membership.

The business part of the meeting was followed by reports from Doug Steele and Werner Lips with regard to recent general meeting of number seven CDC.

The next meeting will be held December 6, at the Twin Pine Resort, Cloyne.

RCMP estimates 15,000 addicts spend $2 million a year on heroin

BY D. KILGOUR

The RCMP estimate that more than 15,000 heroin addicts across Canada are spending about $2 billion a year on their habit.

A recent study by an American university team concludes, moreover, that 237 addicts in one of their cities committed an astonishing half million crimes during an 11-year period while they were out of jail and using the drug.

The link between heroin addiction and crime in our own country would strongly indicate that an excellent place to step up the fight against serious crime is with organized heroin traffickers.

A national strategy to reduce the flow of heroin into Canada is also needed now that the US administration's recently announced program against the drug will encourage importers to use Canada as an easier point of entry to North American markets.

Additional equipment, expertise and training are required for our customs and coast guard officials.

The use of trained dogs, for example, to detect heroin in air cargo and passenger baggage has proven successful in West Germany, the USA and elsewhere, but Toronto's Malton airport, our busiest airport, still lacks even a single drug dog.

Another area of concern is what one senior customs official estimates are thousands of letters containing drugs being delivered within Canada.

Our current postal legislation appears to be unique in the Free World in not permitting the opening of a letter except in the presence of an addressee, no matter how overwhelming the indication that it contains heroin. Customs officials should be given the authority to seek a court order to open and stop mail in specified circumstances.

Two other programs are likely to make life more difficult for heroin traffickers:

1. Enacting federal provincial legislation authorizing the forfeiture of profits and property of heroin traffickers.

American legislation, relying on the forfeiture principle under which property illegally used or acquired has been seizable without payment for centuries, has become a powerful weapon against traffickers because it requires the lesser civil law standard of proof, namely that of a balance of probability, and not the criminal requirement of proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

2. A soundly-based education program across Canada to mobilize parental, educational, youth and religious groups to reduce heroin and other drug and alcohol abuse.

The State of Texas has a program which might serve as model for provinces. More than 3,000 groups of parents have formed a parent movement to counteract the drug culture by first educating themselves about drugs so that they can avoid misconception, myth and error in their dialogue with children.

Heroin and its associated crimes have become a national crisis worth understanding by every Canadian.

Political will, fresh approaches and a concentrated attack on its profiteers are required for many reasons, not least of which is the importance of which is the importance of better protecting our most important national resource: young people.

Hastings County Volleyball Champions

The Madoc Township Public School is at the top of the score board again. After winning a trophy for topping their Associated School Group, the junior volleyball team went on to Deseronto and came away with the Hastings County Championship. Competing in two categories, skills and gamesmanship, the girls won four of five games in the tournament December 3.

School students comprising

the Junior Volleyball team, coached by Mrs. Atkinson, are shown with their trophy for the 1982 season. Front row, left to right, are Crissy Gordon, Shannon Smith, Susan Bailey, Paula Foley and Lisa Murphy. Rear row, from the left, are Tina Griffin, Lori Simpson, Michelle Newland, Mary Tracey, Carrie Blackwell and Andrea Peters.

Farmers to get financial breathing space

By JAMES POLLOCK MPP HASTINGS
PETERBOROUGH

When the Ontario Farm Adjustment Assistance Program was introduced at the end of last year, it was designed to give farmers in severe financial straits a breathing space in which to put their finances on a sound footing.

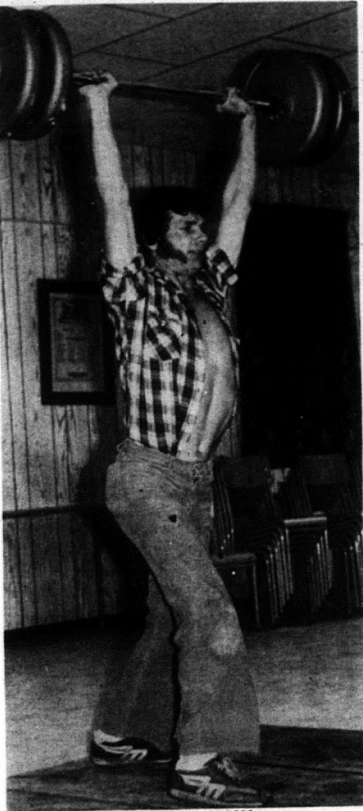

To date, more than 5,000 farmers across the province have qualified for interest reduction grants on loans totalling more than half a billion dollars; for guarantees on new lines of operating credit totalling $53 million, and for guarantees on deferred interest payments totalling $300,000.

The program's impact, however, goes beyond the numbers assisted or the dollars spent. The most significant benefit is the close consultation between the farmer, his banker and the local OMAF representative who worked together to make plans for the farmer's recovery. This intensive financial counselling will pay dividends for years to come, especially among young farmers who make up almost half the OFAAP participants.

Although OFAAP was originally conceived as a one-year program and was therefore scheduled to expire at the end of December, conditions demand that it be extended for another one-year period. Since weak commodity prices and high interest rates have persisted, it is going to take longer than the one year envisioned to help those farmers in difficulty.

As well, the steep slide in some prices, particularly cash crops, means that additional farmers will soon need assistance. Extending the program until December 31, 1983 will help those

Eric MacMillan

Eric MacMillan, recently-elected councillor in Huntingdon Township, stated in his election campaign that he was interested in youth activities, and interested in developing new programs of value to Huntingdon's young people. He is seen here participating in fitness sessions held Wednesday evening and Sundays in the township hall. Eric and Gary Ferguson, 30, a printer, are key figures in weight-lifting and body-toning sessions. Gary Ferguson provides expertise he acquired while lifting with the Apollo Bar Bell Club in Belleville, about ten years ago. The classes began with four people and one set of weights. There are now about 15 participants and four sets of weights.

Dennis Timbrell addressed meeting of Ontario Federated Women's Institutes

BY MRS. JOHN BROWN
Let us strengthen what is good. Hon. Dennis Timbrell, Minister of Agriculture and Food, said when he addressed the annual meeting of the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario in Toronto.

Timbrell urged the 34 board directors, representing 27,000 members in the province to be more aware of the needs of rural women.

"Foodland preservation and increasing marketing of Ontario foods is necessary to meet our needs as well as that of the world," he said.

Timbrell asked the Women's Institute for their co-operation in celebrating Ontario's Bicentennial in 1984.

Ken Knox, Director, rural organizations and service branch, challenged the women to work for a better understanding of rural and urban populations, working with the branch to understand the producer and consumer.

FWIO Provincial President, Mrs. Keith Hiepleh chaired the sessions.

Resolutions were sustained on topics of mental health facilities in the north;
drugs; support programs for the disabled; a referendum on the death penalty and a need for tax revisions for fruit farmers.

Mrs. Harvey Noblitt, Ottawa, President of the Federated Women's Institute of Canada, informed the directors of the projects and programs for the next triennium. Members are asked to study and have programs on Unlimited Potential - Women.

Joyce Canning, representative from the rural organizations and service branch expressed concern for new programs to meet the needs of today's lifestyle.

Exciting challenges face the membership. Plans are being made for the Associated Countrywomen of the World conference in Vancouver in 1983.

Mrs. Clarence Diamond reported on plans for the 2,200 delegates expected from around the world.

Education was a priority with three scholarships for advanced studies, 22 Mc-Donald awards at Guelph University, county scholarships being presented, and $3,400 being sent to Ware College, England, for training students from undeveloped countries.

Junior Women's Institute with a membership of 400 continue to present trophies for the physically handicapped as well as continuing educational programs.

An Officers' Conference will be at Waterloo University, May 3-5.

Jeanetta VanSickle, Brantford, completed her term as secretary and is succeeded by Mrs. Sam Johnston of Listowel.

Taxes on productive farmland to be eliminated

By JAMES POLLOCK MPP
Hastings-Peterborough

At the Ontario Federation of Agriculture conference which was held recently, the Minister of Agriculture and Food, the Honourable Dennis Timbrell announced some changes to existing farm assistance programs which will have a significant impact on the farm community.

First, and most important, beginning with the 1984 taxation year, property taxes on productive farmland will be eliminated with the result that the tax load on most full-time farmers will be reduced.

Currently, farm land, buildings and residences are assessed together, with rebates amounting to 50 per cent of total farm taxes being paid through the Ontario Farm Tax Reduction Program.

LOYALIST COLLEGE CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAM SCHEDULE - WINTER SEMESTER

GENERAL INFORMATION

WINTER SEMESTER REGISTRATION

Registration will commence Wednesday, December 8, 1982 through December 22, 1982, and Monday January 3, 1983 through January 7, 1983. REGISTRATION PROCEEDS.

Students may register in courses offered at the Main Campus in person or by mail.

REGISTRATION AT THE COLLEGE

At the Registrar's Department, Room 2H1, Kente Bldg. between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

REGISTRATION BY MAIL

The application form should be mailed to the Registrar's Department, Loyalist College, P.O. Box 4200, Belleville, Ont. K8N 5B9. Attn: Community Programs Admissions. Applications will not be accepted without fees. Cheques and money orders should be made payable to Loyalist College. NO POSTDATED CHEQUES PLEASE. The application form must bear the signature of the student in order to be valid. Please ensure the course title and code are quoted correctly along with the other information to facilitate the processing of the application.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION MAY BE OBTAINED BY TELEPHONING 962-9501, EXT. 238, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 8:30 A.M. AND 4:30 P.M.

Loyalist College reserves the right to postpone or cancel classes and to limit registration or change instructors. Should insufficient enrolment cause the cancellation of a class, fees will be fully refunded upon return of the STUDENT'S COPY of the Official Receipt. A student may elect to be transferred to another course where a vacancy exists.

REFUND POLICY

A student may withdraw prior to the commencement of classes by contacting the Admissions Office. NO REFUNDS WILL BE GRANTED ONCE THE FIRST SCHEDULED CLASS COMMENCES. A refund will not be processed until we receive the student's copy of the registration receipt. All refund amounts are subject to an administrative fee deduction of $5.00.

REDUCED FEES FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

If you are 65 years of age or over, the fee for courses not marked with an asterisk (*) is $5.00 plus lab fee where applicable. Courses marked * require full fees.

TRANSFER POLICY

While the College will make every effort to accommodate students requesting a course transfer, circumstances may dictate otherwise. Please contact the Admissions Office with your request.

CHSS Spirit Week peps up pre-Xmas week

Spirit Week is a creation of Centre Hastings Secondary School (CHSS), and incorporates activities designed to take the drag out of the last four days of school before the Christmas break.

In an interview last week, Brian Goodchild, teacher and co-ordinator, said Spirit Week, December 16-22, combines fun, such as grub day, where everyone, teachers included, wear grubby clothes for the day, and serious endeavours, such as collection of articles for the Salvation Army Christmas Bazaar campaign.

CHSS students are divided into five houses for such activities, Scorpio, Gemini, Sagittarius, Leo and Libra. December 16, House five will be in charge of organizing and judging Hat and Tie Day, and will award prizes or other worthy houses.

Chug-A-Lug finals will take place that day too, with lemonade-chug-a-lugging preliminaries having been decided prior to the 16th. The championship chugging will take place for the junior and senior champions during the lunch hour. House four will execute the event.

December 17 is Grub Day, with House three in charge, distributing five house prizes.

House two will set up a Dunk Tank operation in room 135 the same day, and a dance committee will hold a dance. All activities take place during lunch hours.

December 20 sees a dry-land version of log-rolling, with students on a balance bar, waging war with pillows to determine who will be the King of the Rail.

December 21 there will be a ski trip to Devils Elbow, and students remaining behind can watch the movie Absence of Malice. House one is in charge of the movie.

House two will co-ordinate a Marshmallow Gram. In the past, some participants have crammed close to 30 marshmallows in their mouths during the contest.

Also on December 22 but probably the highlight of the Spirit Week is the delivery of Candy Grams by Elves. Candy Grams are candy canes with messages, or Christmas greetings, or testimonials of undying love. They are purchased for 25 cents and delivered by dozens of student denizens with elvin caps, anywhere in the school. House one is in charge.

The 22nd, also the last day of school, is the day the Christmas Bazaar contributions are picked up by the Tweed Citadel of the Salvation Army for distribution to deserving families and individuals in the area. All CHSS houses are responsible during December, to arrange collection of suitable items.

Spirit Week is a function included in a budget of almost $10,000 needed to initiate or augment student activities each year. The budget includes support funds for an Inter-house Council, a yearbook, a public relations committee, a student newspaper, a Queen's University United Nations seminar, a chess club, a drama club, a decoration fund for trophy cases and special occasions, an intramural council, a slide show, a staff fitness program and interscholastic activities.

Interscholastic funds are provided by the Hastings County Board of Education for league games and activities only. Interscholastic activities are supplemented by the above budget to permit invitational tournaments and other activities. Interscholastics include volleyball, football, curling, cross-country running and skiing, basketball, soccer, badminton, gymnastics, wrestling and others.

OPP check 48 incidents

Madoc detachment of officers investigated 48 general occurrences, November 22-28.

Investigations were conducted into one break, enter and theft, four thefts, five willful damage, one assault, three trespassing incidents, one fraud, two missing persons and one domestic incident. Two warrant of committals were executed.

Four persons were charged with impaired driving, six were charged with violations under the Liquor Licence Act and two were charged with Narcotic Control Act violations.

Reportable Accidents:

November 26, Darla Graham, RR 3, Madoc, was driving northbound on County Road 12, when she observed a southbound vehicle in her lane. Graham took evasive action, lost control of her vehicle and went into the west ditch. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $2,000.

November 26, Jennifer Bagshaw, RR 2, Madoc, was driving northbound on County Road 20 and turned west onto snow-covered Concession Road 2. After travelling a short distance the car slid out of control and struck a tree on the south side of the road. Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000.

November 26, Dolf Landheer, Toronto, was driving northbound on Highway 57, north of Tweed, when he met a southbound car on a curve driven by Alice Amaron of RR 2, Renfrew. Amaron was over the centre line on the roadway and sideswiped the Landheer car. Damage to the Landheer car was estimated at $3,000. Damage to the Amaron car was estimated at $300.

Peeewe's

march on

Peeewe's Keep Marching On!

On Madoc's home ice, December 5, the Peeewe's won an amazing exhibition game over the powerful Belleville MacDonald's Peeewe's 4-1.

Madoc boys were supposed to be the underdogs, but remain undefeated this season with an exciting overturning of Belleville.

Brian Forestell with 2 goals, 1 assist, led the Madoc marksmen; Stephen Bancroft scored 1 goal and added 2 assists. Also scoring a goal was David Wood; other assist makers were: Alan Danford, Stephen Bancroft and Derek Chapman, with one each.

The Madoc Peeewe's are going to be a well-known team this year if they keep up this great hockey performance.

Automatic Precision Performance featuring Dual Dimension with the Removable turntable and all new Hitachi "Rotating Antenna" system

For precision performance in a completely programmable microwave oven, you just can't beat the Hitachi MR-8010. It comes complete with Temperature Probe (for roasts and other large items) and an Automatic Sensor (perfect for cooking small and medium sized dishes, or reheating any size meal). Plus, the MR-8010 features the Hitachi Memory, which gives you the flexibility of pre-setting the exact time, temperature and function (Delay Start, Defrost, Cook, Reheat) your meal requires. With the Hitachi MR-8010, you can even prepare your meals when you're not at home. By simply depressing the Delay Start key and entering the desired programs, your food will be ready when you want it automatically. Or you can use the Cook and Hold feature to keep food warm without loss of its original texture and taste. With a choice of 6 power settings, the Hitachi MR-8010 takes the guesswork out of microwave cooking and gives you the fine touch you need for preparing even delicate foods such as souffles. And, as an added safety feature, there's the exclusive Hitachi Wave Lock door seal. The Hitachi MR-8010, the most versatile, precise programmable Hitachi Microwave yet!

Midgets lose exhibition tourney

Playing in Wellington, December 4 and 5 with seven other teams, the Madoc boys fared quite well.

In their first game they lost 2-1 to Georgetown 'A' Midgets. Kevin Fox was Madoc's most valuable player.

The second game Madoc won by a count of 5-3 over Colborne. Brent Derry won the most valuable player award with an excellent job in goal. This win put the boys into the consolation playdowns.

The last game Madoc played they were soundly beaten 7-1 by a powerful Picton BB team. Bob Bronson was the most valuable Madoc player. This Picton team displayed a top notch demonstration of hockey for the victory. The Picton team will represent Canada next month in Europe.

Novice

December 5 was the date. Madoc arena was the location. Wellington vs. Madoc were the competitors. The final score in a thrilling scorers' war was 9-8 for Madoc.

Tim Bailey scored the winner with only 41 seconds left.

Other scorers were: Brad Phillips, 5 goals, 2 assists; Tim Bailey, 3 goals, 1 assist; Derek Davidson, 1 goal, 1 assist; Chad Bateman, 3 assists; Tom Burnside, 3 assists; Brad Bateman, 2 assists; 1 assist each was gathered by Dave Hobson, Robert Tokley, Scott Tracey, Brian Himburg and Charles Bronson.

This gives the Novice lads 2 wins and 1 loss thus far in action.

Novice leading point-getters to December 5 are: Brad Phillips, 8 goals, 5 assists, 13 points; Tim Bailey, 6 goals and 1 assist, 7 points; Tom Burnside, 2 goals and 5 assists, 7 points.

Lend a Scout a helping hand

Margaret Chislett, RR 2, Stirling, presented $50 on behalf of the Huntingdon Recreation Committee, to Shawn Bailey, 13, of Roslyn, who intends to represent the First Plainfield Scout Troop at a Scouting Jamboree near Calgary

Huntingdon Recreation Committee assists fund-raising so Scout can attend 75th Jamboree

Sammy Stirk, Hungerford Township, and Shawn Bailey, Roslyn, are Boy Scouts with something in common, they want to attend the 75th Scouting Jamboree in Calgary, July 1-10.

The trip will cost the boys $920 each. The Huntingdon Township Recreation Committee gave Shawn Bailey a lift, with a $50 Cheque, presented by Chairman Margaret Chislett, at the Huntingdon Township Hall last Wednesday.

Both scouts have made an application to attend the jamboree. All applications are screened and approved by district and provincial scouting authorities, and neither has received final approval.

Fund-raising activities continue, however. A dance was held at the Hayloft on November 27, and $240 was raised. The money will be divided between the boys. Scouts are on a time schedule to raise funds to cover the trip. Each has forwarded $100, and must increase that to $300 during December, and must raise $520 (air fare) by March 1983.

Shawn Bailey, 13, is in Grade eight in Foxboro. Shawn's father, Bill, is a crane operator for Canadian National Railways.

Shawn and Sammy will do jobs in the community or in the area to raise money for the jamboree, which is held every four years. Anyone willing to give the boys work can contact Shawn's mother, Julie, or his father, in Roslyn.

CHSS students working on three Christmas skits

About 50 Centre Hastings Secondary School (CHSS) students have begun rehearsals for three mini plays to be presented at the CHSS Christmas Assembly, Adele Reeves, English teacher, said in an interview last week.

While the plays have no names yet, they will represent the traditional past, the present and the future, and will be written in the spirit of fun, Adele said.

The basic cast for the skits are two CHSS theatre classes and a group comprised of senior students and the senior football team.

Assembly will take place at about 9:30 a.m. Dec. 22, and is not basically designed for the public, although some parents may attend to watch their children in action.

Details on the plays are not yet available.

December 22 is the last day of school before the Christmas break.

Your 1982 Assessment Notice

Mailing Of Assessment Notices

A 1982 Assessment Notice for 1983 municipal and school taxes will be mailed on or before December 3rd to every property owner and tenant in the following municipalities:

Village of Madoc and Townships of Madoc and Huntingdon.

Two Information Inserts mailed with your Assessment Notice explain the appeal procedure and provide the timetable of Open Houses in your area.

Open House Sessions Will Answer Questions

Open House sessions have been planned at convenient times and locations in your municipality to afford you the opportunity to review your assessment with staff of the Regional Assessment Office.

Assessment staff will be pleased to explain the basis of your property assessment and are authorized to amend all data (school support, assessment, etc.) on your Notice.

You are encouraged to take advantage of this service.

Rolls Available For Review

The Assessment Roll will be available for review at your local municipal office during regular business hours, beginning December 22nd, 1982.

If You Wish To Appeal

If you believe you have been improperly assessed in any way you may file a formal complaint with the Assessment Review Board. The final date for filing an appeal is January 11th, 1983.

Information on appeal procedures is provided on the back of your Assessment Notice and in the Information Inserts.

Residential Properties Insulated With Urea Formaldehyde Foam

A residential property which has been insulated with Urea Formaldehyde Foam (UFFI) may qualify for a 35 per cent reduction to the residential building portion of the 1982 property assessment.

Those ratepayers whose residential properties are insulated with UFFI are urged to attend an Assessment Open House scheduled in their area or to contact the Regional Assessment Office to confirm their eligibility for this assessment reduction.

SPORTS

Norwood loses first of year

After two big games last week, the Norwood Knights can no longer boast an undefeated record. Playing before a large group of mostly disappointed fans on Tuesday, November 30, in the Norwood arena, the Knights suffered their first loss of the season, a 10-2 thrashing by the St. Peter's Saints. Although the league champion Saints were full measure for their victory, the game wasn't as one-sided as the final score would seem to indicate. The Knights, in fact, led by a score of 2-1 at the end of the first period on goals by Mike Lytle and Mike Roffey and could easily have been up by 2 or 3 goals had it not been for some spectacular goaltending by David Crump of the Saints. Then, early in the 2nd period, the Saints scored two quick goals, both coming with the St. Peter's team playing shorthanded. Those two goals seemed to demoralize the Knights while giving the Saints a great boost. Subsequently, the Saints went on to prove that their power play was just as effective as their penalty killing unit by scoring five power play goals to complete the rout. Despite the prominence of penalties in the scoring statistics, the game was cleanly played at a fast pace and could, perhaps, be a preview of a possible playoff match.

Rebounding from the defeat on Tuesday, the Knights came back on Thursday to win against the highly-rated Kenner Rams by a score of 7-6. Scoring for the Knights were Mike Lytle with a hat trick, Steve Jewett with 2, and Mike Roffey and Mike Terpietra adding singles. Kevin Morley assisted on 3 of the Knight's goals. Greg Cole and Allan Wilde shared the goaltending chores for the Knights.

The Knights were entered in a tournament at Fenelon Falls, which was played over the weekend on December 3 and 4. This week they have a single game on Thursday, December 9, in Havelock at 3:30 p.m. against the Thomas A. Stewart Griffins. The Griffins, who were easily defeated by the Knights earlier in the season, have been playing improved hockey in recent games and recently tied St. Peter's Saints. The Thursday encounter marks the final home game for the Knights before the Christmas break.

Lakefield enjoys Grey Cup Day

By LISA McDERMOTT

Toronto was not the only area hit by the highly contagious Grey Cup fever. November 22-26 was officially designated Grey Cup week at LDSS.

On Wednesday during lunch, the Miss Grey Cup Pageant was held. The male participants, dressed as girls, paraded across the cafeteria stage. The competition was fierce but finally three winners were chosen. Miss Grey Cup 1982 is Marty Freeburn of 4E, who made his debut in a stunning black "number". First runner-up was Sam Miller, closely followed by Chuch Freeburn. Congratulations to Marty on his great performance.

Friday was officially Grey Cup Day. Early in the morning, at 8 a.m., the Grey Cup pancake breakfast was held in the cafeteria. When asked for a comment, Lori Payne, special events co-ordinator said "Although the turn-out was not as good as expected, those who participated enjoyed the pancake breakfast. Special thanks go out to Kim Bell, Melinda Weirsdma, Wayne Shearer, Annette MacAlevey, Mr. Hinar and Mrs. Bolahood for their help.

Friday also featured the Grey Cup Parade. The floats were numerous as were the homeowners represented. First place went to the students in 4B. Congratulations to those who helped make the winning float.

The Grey Cup Game took place shortly after the parade. Team B played team G. Threats and challenges flew back and forth all week long, but when it came to the game, both teams got down to business.

After a well played battle the G team defeated the B team by a score of 25-5. Miss Grey Cup 1982, Marty Freeburn, made an appearance and Mr. Hinar presented the Grey Cup to the G team.

A special thank-you goes out to the Student Council for their outstanding effort.

The action was hot at both ends in the Stirling Inter-mediate Blues' match against Campbellford last Friday night. This shot was a near miss for Brighton, but they went on to win 8-5.

Chiefs drop two out of three

LAKEFIELD: Monday night the Lakefield Blake's IGA Chiefs travelled to Cobourg and defeated the Cougars 6-3. Goaltending was the difference in this game as the Chief's Marty Rhodes came up with a strong performance. Rhodes came up with thirty-eight saves including a penalty shot awarded to the Cougars Rob West in the third period with the score 4-3. Chiefs, John Coburn was another standout, scoring twice and adding one assist, along with singles by Robb Gilders, Kevin Gilders, Gord Davey and Glenn Stevenson.

On Tuesday night, the Chiefs hosted the Bowmanville Eagles, and in another close, exciting hockey game the Eagles came out on top 4-2. The Chiefs got goals from Glenn Stevenson and Dave Morgan to take a 2-0 lead after one period.

The Eagles came back in the second on goals by Brian Heard, Chris Mickelson and Rob Dwyer to take a 3-2 lead into the third period. The third period was scoreless until, with thirty-seven seconds to go, Barry Goulah scored into an empty net. Marty Rhodes again played a strong game in net, facing forty-four Eagle shots.

On Sunday night, the Chiefs took on the Port Hope Panthers and the Chiefs fell behind 3-0 by the 10 minute mark of the first period on goals by Pete Schoon, Terry Downer and Justin Roy.

The second period saw both teams score a pair with Bernie Downer scoring the Panther goals and Glenn Stevenson and Kevin Gilders for the Chiefs.

The third period saw the Panthers widen their lead to 7-2 with Shawn Wakely and Terry Downer scoring. The Chiefs' final goal was scored by Doug Coyle.

The next home game for the Chiefs is Sunday, December 12, at 8 p.m. when they play the high flying Rice Lake Rangers.

LDSS girls come close

By SANDRA MITCHELL

LAKEFIELD: On Saturday November 27 the Junior LDSS girls basketball team travelled to Kenner to compete in the Kawartha Championship Tournament.

In their first game, LDSS won out over the tough Adam Scott squad by the score of 22 to 18. Melanie Nicholls and Melanie Prikker added 8 and 4 points respectively. The team's excellent defense was a main factor in the win.

In their second game, the Juniors squared off against I.E. Weldon, where their superior offense led them to victory with a score of 55 to 33. Top scorers for the game were Kim Southern with 18 and Melanie Nicholls with 12.

The tournament had a double elimination set up which meant that the teams that lost their first game could still go on to the championship game if they won their second game. Adam Scott won their game against Cobourg West which meant the Juniors had to face them again.

The game was a long hard fight with each team gaining a lead of two points only to have the other team tie it up immediately afterward. Both teams were tired from the long day but they played well. The final score was 25 to 24 for Adam Scott. Debbie Ianison had an outstanding offensive and defensive game scoring 6 points, as did Sheri Thornton. Kim Southern and Glynnia Rose got 4 points each and Melanie Nicholls and Debbie Buchanan both added 2 points each.

The loss of this game meant the end of the Junior girls' basketball season. Their season had nine wins for three losses, and their final standing is a very close second in the Kawartha schools.

Oldtimers in Marmora Tourney

Eight oldtimer hockey teams converged on Marmora on the weekend for their annual tournament.

Oshawa won the A final with a 4-1 victory over Mador and Marmora took the B championship with a 10-4 decision over OMC of Peterborough.

Also taking part in the day-long event were Stirling, Belleville Legion, Hastings and Belleville Teachers.

The competition was followed by a dance in the Community Centre sponsored by Labatt's. Other sponsors were Marmora IGA, Cassidy's Furniture and Appliances, Art Henry's BP, McConnell Funeral Home and Gerald Fox.

ONE FOOT IN THE FURROW

BY BOB TROTTER

Stereotype hurts farmers' image

Two teenagers pranced into the restaurant. They were young, fresh-faced, clean-cut kids, normal in appearance with the uniform of the young: jeans and jackets.

Seated at a table was an older man with his leg in a cast. His crutches were on the floor under the table with about a foot protruding in the aisle.

One of the teenagers tripped over the crutches. "Ya dumb farmer!" said his friend. "Watch where you're going."

A typical scene? Yes, unfortunately, it was too typical because it happens literally hundreds of times a day in various forms. It typifies the prevalent attitude toward farmers and agriculture in this nation.

If you are dumb, you are a farmer. You may be other things, too, but you are a farmer, a rube from the boonies who hasn't enough brains to do anything else.

"If brains were dynamite," said the youth, "you wouldn't have enough to blow your nose."

In most other countries of the world, farmers are treated with great respect. Senior governments provide all kinds of grants, loans subsidies and legislation to keep farmers farming. These older civilizations have a deep-rooted fear of losing farmers. They know what a famine is. They know how important agriculture is to the welfare of an entire nation. They do not hesitate to grant farmers the respect, even the devotion, that is necessary to keep them producing food.

In this country, the opposite is true. Farmers get less and less in the way of government help. The federal government, for instance, spends less than two per cent of its whopping budget on agriculture.

Ever since the days of Sir John A. and Sir Wilfrid, a cheap food policy has been championed by governments.

Canadians spend less of their disposable income dollar on food than any other nation in the world with the possible exception of the United States. Farmers here have out-produced every other sector of the economy. In fact, when Canada's industrial workers are falling behind in production, farmers continue to improve. Without agriculture, 43 jobs of every hundred would disappear.

But still, farmers get less for their efforts than their city brothers and sisters.

And it ain't improving with age. The farmer who grew the wheat gets less for the wheat in a loaf of bread than the person who makes 61 cents. The gap between the price the farmer gets and the price you pay for those beans gets wider and wider, even when farm production costs are going up, up and away.

"We are vying for more respect from the government and the public. We are determined to convince them of our true worth, of our need and our right to a bigger slice of the economic pie."

So said Ralph Barrie last month at the Ontario Federation of Agriculture's annual meeting.

It will be a long, hard struggle to gain that respect but it is sorely needed.

the wrapper for the loaf.

You pay $1.29 for a can of apple juice. The farmer who grew the apples—nursed and nurtured them through an entire growing season, nursed the trees for five years, picked and sorted the fruit—gets 17 cents from that can of juice. The firm that made the can gets more than the farmer.

A bag of white beans sells for $1.15. The farmer who grew the beans gets 37 cents.

But, here is the clincher. Here is what angers the farmer. Three years ago, farmers got 26 cents for those beans which sold for

SHEPHERD'S NOOK

BY KEN YARROW

ONTARIO SHEEP ASSOCIATION: it would seem I am continuously talking about organization. Well, a little more of the same; information on one of these.

The following is a direct quotation from the OSA handbook:

"To sheep producers in the Province of Ontario:

"The Ontario Sheep Association exists for the purpose of encouraging, promoting and representing the sheep industry in the province. This booklet is designed to acquaint you with the work and the programs offered by the association, as well as to help you know where to look for other information."

"In recent years the OSA has become recognized by governments and industry as the voice of the Ontario sheep industry. However, to maintain a strong voice with these groups, any association needs strong membership. We encourage your participation in the future of your industry through membership in your association. We also welcome your questions or comments.

Remember, the OSA exists to serve you, the sheep producer.

Sincerely
Francis Winger
Secretary."

Some examples of the objectives listed in booklet are as follows.

To represent interests of producers, to encourage and promote improvement in all phases of sheep breeding, production and marketing; to co-operate with the provincial and federal governments in sheep improvement programs.

Anyone interested in obtaining this booklet may do so by writing, The Ontario Sheep Association, R.R.1, Stevensville, Ontario, L0S 1S0.

I, myself, have just spent a night and a day in Toronto at the annual meeting. While at this time I can say it was very informative. I have as yet to formulate an article. Hopefully, next week I can supply you with some type of report.

On reading this over, I see I neglected to mention something important. The booklet also includes a short history of OSA as well as some of the committees and projects undertaken by them.

If you do not want to write to Francis, contact me and I will try to get them for you as soon as possible.

Did you hear about the feller who went to visit the zookeeper? During his rounds, the keeper got in with a cage full of lions, having picked up a broom on the way. He walked over the lion, hit it a wallop on the posterior; lo and behold, the lion got up and massaged his back. Of course, the feller was awed, so the keeper did a repeat with a different lion. After this repeat performance, he asked if the feller would like to try it. Sure, he said, but please don't hit me too hard.

Choice of Christmas books needs care

BY CATHARINE TOZER
Infant Development
Consultant

Books are an excellent idea for preschool children at Christmas time. Prices ranging from $5 for a paper storybook to $20 for the best picture book are too expensive for parents to keep up with but within the range for Christmas gifts.

First-born children are invariably introduced to books later than children born into families where picture books already exist. At 10 months children are ready to practise the new skill of remembering what things look like and to move on to the challenge of looking at pictures.

Look for Books That Catch Your Attention

There are always myriad children's books on the market and trends come and go so follow some tips to find the book that will make the greatest contribution to a young child's library.

Ask parents of preschoolers about their favorites, query the librarian about which books are borrowed most often and question preschool teachers about which ones they prefer. Bad books do not exist.

Pictures Hold Children's Attention, Spark Imagination

Buy books for preschoolers that are appropriate for their age and interests. Get your money's worth with cardboard or cloth books for very young children. The art work in children's books is what separates the cost, so look for the most colorful clear pictures you can find. Books for children 10 to 18 months of age should be very simple; they should be done in primary colors (red, blue and yellow) and there should be only one or two pictures on each page. Good examples of books with simple pictures are the Chubbly board books of Bruna or Ole Rison.

As imagination develops, around the second birthday, books with stories can be introduced. Start with the simplest and move to more complex. Two-year-olds will still be interested in naming the pictures but they can follow short stories too.

Richard Scarry books are replacing Dr. Seuss and they can hold a child's interest for months. Margaret Wise Brown's Goodnight Moon is an excellent first storybook for 14 to 24 months old. Maurice Sendak's Where The Wild Things Are is a very popular imaginative storybook for 3 and 4 year old children.

Novelties such as pop-out pictures or texture books like Pat the Bunny by Dorothy Kunhardt attract attention.

Text of Children's Books Meant for Adults

Always read a storybook cover to cover before you buy it. Does it hold your attention? Do you find yourself anticipating what will come next? The story may be written mostly for a parent so that there will be excitement in their voice as they read to the child. If you like the story too then you're more likely to request the book. Pictures should be interesting enough to spark conversation themselves. Can you find something to talk about in the picture without the use of the story written underneath? Pictures that stimulate questions are best. The aim of a good children's book should be to encourage long talks between a parent and child.

Parents who find it easy to make up their own stories might prefer books with no story at all, just interesting pictures. Canadian author Robert Munsch told his stories to preschool children for ten years before he published them as books with illustrations. Stories such as The Dark by Munsch fall apart without the excitement of story-telling in your voice. Munsch uses the age-old technique of repetition to keep the child's attention and he adds the plot so that the adult will enjoy telling the story over and over.

In choosing a book as a Christmas gift for a child consider some experience the child is currently working through such as a new baby in the house, preschool, a trip or a first visit to the dentist.

Think about whether you want to buy a "read alone"

book or a "read to me" book. "Read alone" books should be easy for the child to hold, the pages should turn without sticking and of course, these need to be durable to withstand the wear and tear of a young child.

This column on child development is provided by the Infant Stimulation Programme of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit. Your comments and questions regarding issues in child development are invited. Write to: Infant Stimula tion, c/o the Health Unit, Box 337, Cobourg, Ont. K9A 4K8.

Mainstream smoke worse

Non-smokers in mainstream smoke are being exposed to a powerful carcinogen in concentrations 50 times greater than mainstream (inhaled) or exhaled smoke, says a Health and Welfare Canada report.

The danger originates from sidestream smoke, the smoke that goes directly into the air from a burning cigarette, says Don Wigle, chief of the department's non-communicable disease division.

He says the carcinogen, N-nitrosodimethylamine (NDMA), is one of the most powerful known. A non-smoker exposed to air heavily contaminated by tobacco smoke (in a smoke-filled bar for example) inhales as much NDMA in one hour as a smoker does by smoking 15 non-filter or up to 35 filter-tipped cigarettes, Dr. Wigle says.

In other words, the smoker who has a filter is better off than the non-smoker who is breathing the sidestream smoke directly, he says. However, smokers also have to worry about any sidestream smoke they inhale.

NDMA has produced cancer in all animal species tested and by various methods of exposure, including inhalation of a single dose, Dr. Wigle says.

A California study showed that non-smoking office workers who work in tobacco-polluted air for more than 10 years have impaired pulmonary functions, Dr. Wigle says. Although statistical comparisons can be tricky, these non-smokers may be inhaling the equivalent of 10 cigarettes a day.

This information may be beneficial in getting substantial limitations on smoking in public areas says Dr. Wigle. However, he says it's also important that people are better educated about the dangers they may face from NDMA and other chemicals.

"What we need is to get non-smokers much more aware of what's happening," and to get them to speak out for better protection through non-smoking bylaws, for example, he says.

Stewart named

Ralph Stewart, of Belleville, has been appointed to the Hastings, Prince Edward and Belleville Housing Authority. Municipal Affairs and Housing Minister Claude Bennett announced today.

Stewart, President of S. & M. Supplies Ltd., will serve on the nine-member authority which manages Ontario Housing Corporation's 1,020 assisted housing units in Brockville, Belleville, Deseronto, Frankford, Madoc, Marmora, Picton, Stirling and Tweed.

The federal, provincial and municipal governments are invited to nominate individuals for appointment to the housing authority by provincial order-in-council. The province appoints the housing authority chairman.

Commenting on the appointment, OHC chairman Allan Moses noted that the day-to-day management of all of OHC's 94,000 housing units is carried out by local housing authorities, although the primary responsibility for assisted housing remains with OHC.

Policeman: "Malam, didn't you hear me whistle when you went through that red light?" Lady driver: "Yes, but I never flinched when driving."

NOTES AND NOTES

Winter Short Courses

Plans are under way to hold several of these courses starting in January. There will be a beef course centered on the Belleville area starting January 26. There will be a dairy course centered on the Marysville Deseronto area starting January 27. For cash crop farmers, the course will be in the Grafton area January 25. There will be also another dairy course in Brighton as of January 26. These courses will be on the average of about 6 teaching days and likely held over a period of 8 weeks. Full details will be announced in late December or early January.

International Agricultural Exchange Program

With more people looking for opportunity, this program may suit the needs of Canadian citizens between the age of 18 and 30. It is an opportunity to work in agriculture in areas such as Europe, the far East and the United Kingdom. Full details are available at county agricultural offices including the application form. It should be noted that in exchange programs we will likely need some host farmers for young people from other countries. These forms are also at the county office.

Human Mistakes in Accidents

Human mistakes cause over 90 per cent of all farm accidents, according to professional accident investigators. For instance, machine operators don't allow for weather, steep hillsides or slippery footing; also, accidents occur because equipment is left unguarded. Human errors cause nearly all farm accidents so it only makes sense that you can prevent them.

Keeping the Dairy Feed Dollars Home

By T. Wayne Martin
Feeding our dairy cattle nutritionally and economically starts with quality feed production. For 1982 most of the homegrown feed is in storage, and for this year, we have to do the best job of feeding with what we have. This workshop will look at various feeds found on the farm, feeds of different qualities, and purchased supplements. The task of the day will be to use these feeds, their feed analysis, and build as nutritionally economic rations as we can.

The emphasis will be on the practical using homegrown feeds, balancing them where needed with purchased feed, and doing it as economically as possible. In the process we will try to familiarize you with the nutritional requirements of the cow, how to use the feed analysis, and how to do it as economically as possible. Tom Droppo, Dairy Cattle Specialist, will be assisting with the day's program. Date: Wednesday, February 24, 1983, at the Legion Hall, Stirling.

1982 Soybean Cash Advance Program

Soybean producers will once again be able to enrol in the Soybean Cash Advance Program. The program is designed to provide producers with a cash advance for their beans that are stored at harvest time. The effect is to provide some financial assistance to producers while, at the same time, remove some beans from the market at harvest time when there is normally a glut on the market and transportation bottlenecks.

The rate of advance is $140 per tonne or $3.81 per bushel. The funds are available through Agriculture Canada with the maximum amount for one producer set at $15,000. Two shareholders or partners, $30,000, and three or more shareholders, $45,000. Growers should note that the advance must be repaid by July 15, 1983, or as the beans are sold at an earlier date. All advance payments must be included in taxable income in the year in which the advance is received.

The program is administered through the Ontario Soybean Growers' Marketing Board and applications will be received from October 15th to December 15th, of 1982. Application forms are available through the OMAF offices or licensed soybean elevators, or the Ontario Soybean Growers' office.

Farm Land Taxes to be Eliminated

At the recent OFA Convention, Agriculture and Food Minister Dennis Timbrell announced a proposal to eliminate property taxes on productive farm land and farm buildings. The proposal would come into effect for the property tax year of 1984 and would take the form of rebates of 100 per cent on farm land and farm buildings for those farmers who qualified. Farm residences would be treated as other similar residences in the same community except that the residential lot would be assessed at 50 per cent.

The result should mean that total net property taxes would be reduced for the majority of farmers who qualified. Under the plan, the minimum production requirements to qualify would be raised from a gross productive income of $5,000 to $8,000 for 1982 and 1983. Tax rebates of 50 per cent covering farm land, farm buildings, and residences, will continue on this basis through 1982 and '83. When the new tax system is in place in 1984, the minimum productive farm income would be raised to $12,000 in southern Ontario, and $8,000 in northern and eastern Ontario. North umberland would be in southern Ontario.

Farmers should note that, in establishing productive farm value, regulations concerning livestock sales will require that, to qualify for rebates, livestock sales will be included only where livestock has been on the farm for at least 60 days. The proposal will also require that the Ministry of Revenue reassess farm properties across Ontario, separating the assessment for farm residences and residential lots from that for farm land and outbuildings.

In making the announcement, the minister emphasized that the proposal will give Ontario farmers a system comparing favorably with other jurisdictions. It will tax farm residences on the same basis as those in the urban area, with tax on the residence lot discounted by 50 per cent and should have a positive and progressive effect on Ontario's farm and food production.

Dairy Genetics Seminar

Dairy producers in the area will have an opportunity to take part in the Understanding Dairy Genetics seminar to be held in the Brighton Township Community Centre, Codrington, Tuesday, December 14. The seminar, co-sponsored by the Ontario Branch of Holsteins Canada, Eastern Breeders Inc., and Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, will get under way at 9:45 a.m. and conclude at approximately 3:30 p.m. There will be a fee of $10 per person which will include the noon meal. Preregistration is through Mrs. Lois Keyes, Eastern Breeders Inc., Box 2000, Kemptonville, Ontario, K0J 1G0.

know that it is here and available to help. This has been accomplished through the signs Accident is Just a Word Until It Happens, which are to be seen along the roadside, and bumper stickers with the same slogan. They have also had displays at several functions throughout the county. Next year the association hopes to purchase an item of safety equipment which could be used by farmers throughout the county. Your ideas would be welcome. Just come to the next meeting or contact Janice Laver, 705-924-2623 or Bill Dorland, 613-475-0891.

CHEESE FILLETS

Place about 500 g of frozen cod, hake or sole fillets in a baking dish. Sprinkle with lemon juice and chopped onion. Mix one can of Cheddar Cheese Soup with 125 ml milk and pour over the fish. Bake at 230 degrees C (450 degrees F) 25 minutes. Season to taste.

Thaw a package of frozen fillets withing 30 minutes using your microwave oven. Defrost in the oven for the time recommended by the book that comes with your appliance, then let stand the remaining portion of the 30 minutes.

MEMORIAMS

ELLIS - In loving memory of my dear husband, Orvie, who passed away Dec. 3, 1973. It's true God only takes the best.
So I know you're up there with all the rest.
You filled my life with love & cheer.
How I wish you still were here.
Memory fades & life departs.
You'll live forever in my heart.
Lovingly remembered by wife Meta (May). -11

DUNN - In loving memory of a dear mother, Eva, who passed away on Dec. 6, 1980. In the memories of you, Mother.

Int those past months you were ill & down.
I prayed so much to be with you for that one last Christmas, so bad.
But God knew you suffered long enough.
And it was time to pass on where you'll have no more illness or worry.
But we all know you've done your share & more.
Here on earth with your kindness to everyone.
You were one of the best here on earth.
Mother, sister.
You'll never be forgotten by me.
And I believe we will be reunited again.
For always to stay together.
Sadly missed by son Dave. -11

IN loving memory of Sherwin who passed away Dec. 12, 1979.
Those whom we love go out of sight.
But never out of mind.
They are cherished in the hearts.
Of those they left behind.
His wife Helen & family. -11

STEWART - In loving memory of my dear mother & father: Florence, Oct. 9, 1975. Ernest, Dec. 6, 1977.
Though your smile has gone forever,
And your hand I cannot touch,
Still I have so many memories.
Of the parents I loved so much.
Your memory is my keep.
With which I'll never part.
God has you in his keeping.
I have you in my heart.
Lovingly remembered by daughter Nellie. -11

SPROUL - In loving memory of James, who passed away Dec. 9, 1976.
A dear husband, father, grandfather & great grandfather.
Always remembered by his wife Isabel & family. -11

EMPEY - In loving memory of a dear son, Robert M., who passed away Dec. 2, 1979.
Just when your life was brightest,
And your years on earth were blessed.
You left our family circle.
For a home of eternal rest.
Ever remembered by Dad & Mom. -11

MEMORIAMS

LOWERY - In loving memory of a dear brother & uncle, Harold, who passed away Dec. 9, 1981.
We often think of bygone days.
When we were all together.
The family chain is broken now.
But memories will live forever.
To us you have not gone away.
Nor have you travelled far.
Just entered God's Eternal Home.
And left the gate ajar.
Sadly missed & lovingly remembered by Judy, Harry & Lynne. -11

BIRD - In loving memory of a dear husband, father & grandfather, Harold, who passed away Dec. 6, 1981.
So dearly loved by one & all.
His memory is as sweet today.
As in the hour he passed away.
Always remembered by wife Pauline & family. -11

LOWERY - In loving memory of a dear brother who passed away Dec. 9, 1981.
We little thought the end was near.
And only those who have lost can tell.
The pain of parting without farewell.
More each day we miss you brother.
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts.
Sadly missed by Jane, Art, Sherrie Lynne & Dougie. -11

SINE - In loving memory of a dear husband & father, Everett Sine, who left us Dec. 9, 1981.
We think of him in silence.
No eyes can see, no heart can feel.
But still within our aching hearts.
His memory we keep.
Lovingly remembered by wife Emma & family Marvin, Marie, Jean & Carol. -11

LOWERY - In loving memory of a dear brother & uncle, Harold Lowery who passed away Dec. 9, 1981.
He left us quietly.
His thoughts unknown.
But left us a memory.
We are proud to own.
So treasure him Lord.
In your garden of rest.
For when on earth.
He was one of the best.
Lovingly remembered by sister Anne, brother-in-law Ron & Kenny. -11

EMPEY - In loving memory of a dear husband & father, Robert, who passed away Dec. 9, 1979.
Though his smile is gone forever.
And his hand we cannot touch.
Still we have so many memories.
Of the one we loved so much.
His memory is our keepsake.
With which we will never part.
God has him in His keeping.
We have him in our hearts.
Dearly loved & sadly missed by Marie, Robert, Donna, Beth & Leanne. -11

Madoc IGA honored

Of 28,000 independent grocers on the Canadian Grocers' Alliance list (IGA), Madoc's Bob and Mary Jane Henderson won a place on the annual honor roll as showing extraordinary operating performance. A letter from the president of IGA informed Bob and Mary Jane of their award and said, "When one considers there are more than 28,000 independent grocers in Canada, this recognition is indeed a very distinctive one." The Hendersons were insistent that their staff were behind any successes they were credited with, and said they were happy to receive the award on behalf of their staff. Several area IGA operations have received accolades recently. The Lakefield IGA received awards in two categories, and the Bancroft IGA received recognition for outstanding growth. Staff photo.

Jehovah's Witnesses convened in Brighton

BY LORNE BRODIE

Jehovah's Witnesses concluded a two-day convention at Brighton, Sunday afternoon.

An audience of 804 heard Mr. Laurence Gray, district supervisor, speak on the subject, How Does the Truth Affect Your Life?

Truth can truly change lives, Mr. Gray told his audience. He illustrated this point by the Witnesses' own experiences relative to their beliefs about governmental authorities.

"At one time the Witnesses identified the 'superior authorities' of Romans 13:1 as being Jehovah God and Jesus Christ," he said, "but around 1960, because of more accurate understanding of Bible teaching, we came to realize that these 'superior authorities' are actually the worldly governments."

He explained that this truth has had a marked beneficial effect on our lives.

Witnesses have worked more conscientiously at obeying government laws and regulations. This has brought about a better understanding with authorities. Governments in general have appreciated our changed attitude.

Witnesses from 8 congregations were in attendance. There are over 70,000 Witnesses in Canada in 1,100 congregations.

Pride of Place - Brenda Hudson

Madoc's Brenda Hudson has written another book.

Pride of Place, the story of the settlement of Prince Edward County, is in print and on sale, and Brenda will be on hand to autograph copies during a signing session at Greenley's Bookstore, Belleville, this Friday evening, 17 December.

On sale for $10, Pride of Place can be purchased for half that price under the Wintario half-price-back scheme, where Wintario tickets are accepted for 50 per cent of the book's value.

Brenda Hudson is in charge of the art department of Centre Hastings Secondary School, (CHSS).

In addition to teaching, she has found time to be the secretary of the Madoc Historical Society, and to write two books.

Fabrie of a Dream, her first book, was the story of the settlement of Madoc and Elzevir Townships, and it created in her an interest in some of the founding families of the area.

Brenda said in an interview that she has also written, but not published a children's book. She intends to publish it after further work.

Born in Lancashire, England, Brenda attended the College of Art in Liverpool, where she, her future husband, Robert, and John Lennon were all in the same class.

Brenda married Robert in the early 1960's and taught art in high schools in England.

They emigrated to Scar borough in 1968 and Robert taught for two years before the couple moved to Madoc.

While Brenda has been with CHSS as head of the art department and working with gifted children, Robert has worked as a freelance artist, has worked with Madoc COPE and is now working with Stirling Printers as a graphic artist. Robert illustrated both of Brenda's books.

The couple has three children: Wendy, now studying English at Queen's University; Avril, in Grade 12 at CHSS, and Terry, attending grade four classes at the Madoc Public School.

In a statement about her book to the Belleville Intelligencer, Brenda said she has a "love claim" to Prince Edward County, but that the descendants of the pioneers can have genuine pride in their community.

The United Empire Loyalists began settling the county in 1874, Brenda said, and in two years their descendants will celebrate the centennial of the first settlements.

Brenda's overriding interest has been in the area's founding families and she wrote "Each family has its own story which binds together many other names, like string tied around wild flowers, flourishing in great numbers within a few generations."

Free adult tutoring will be extended to Wednesday evenings

Any adult who would like help in reading, writing or mathematics, at any level, can get specialized tutoring during the day or on Wednesday evenings at the Centre Hastings Adults Day School, operating out of the Orange Hall, Madoc.

There is no charge, there is no specific schedule, there is no attendance requirements, there is no cost for material, and tutoring is done when an individual is available and according to the wishes and needs of the individual.

Laura Thompson, Adult Day School teacher, announced in a press release that commencing Jan. 5, 1983, she will be available from 5-9 p.m. Wednesday evenings to tutor adults at the Orange Hall.

Thompson, a teacher with the Hastings County Board of Education, is operating an informal school for adults who find themselves without certain skills.

"We do not try to fit anyone into a rigid schedule or learning course," Thompson explained, "We teach specifically to what an adult wants to learn."

Adults have attended the school to learn to read and write enough to get a driver's licence, to make out invoices for businesses, to learn enough mathematics to operate a cash register, to learn to read food labels, and in some cases just to learn to read for pleasure.

"Some adults work during the day, but would still like to improve their reading, writing and arithmetic skills," Thompson said,

"so we are extending the hours on Wednesdays to allow working adults to come in and learn what they See School page 23

Queensboro youth group

About 20 Madoc, Eldorado and Queensborough young people gathered at the old Queensborough School Friday night for a potluck supper and dance. They are members of a new youth group, organized by Reverend Hilary Scrutton, Queensborough United Church minister. The new group takes the place of a youth group that operated in Eldorado for more than a year, meeting in local homes. The new group, started in early October, has held a hayride on Fred Bailey's farm and a dance at Hallowe'en in the Madoc Township Hall, Eldorado. The group meets Monday nights at the Madoc Township Public School, except for the second Monday of each month when the meeting is at the manse in Queensborough.

Usual attendance is about 20, but Reverend Scrutton indicated she would expand the supervision as necessary if more young people wish to join their friends. Staff photo.

Eldorado UCW held Christmas meet Dec. 9

BY MINNIE MOORCROFT.

It was a beautiful, sunny afternoon with a fresh mantle of snow on Thursday, December 9th. Eleven Eldorado United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Mary McCann. Some members braved unsanded, sidewalk hills to arrive safely at 1:30 p.m.

President Mary McCann chose an appropriate Christmas poem to begin the business session.

It was planned to send Christmas cards to each of the twenty-six residents at Madoc Retirement Home, and also to take a poinsettia for their pleasure.

Violet Johnson was the convener. Christmas Curiosity was the topic.

Examples and origins of various Yuletide Customs were found to be very interesting. Mince pie is strictly of Christmas origin with its spices, carols have been used since the 15th century. cards in 1844 English artist William Dobson made a card to cheer a dear friend and to send a spiritual message.

Gifts, the giving of gifts, of course, dates back to God's gift of His only Son, followed by the gifts of the Wise Men from the East. Later, in the 4th century, Bishop Nicholas in Asia Minor extended giving to include Christmas.

Bible verses were the inspiration for these and many other traditions.

The theme for worship was Miracles of Christmas. Readings of miracles were interspersed with the singing of carols, which had been written and inspired by these miracles. Bible verses John 3:16 and various verses from Luke were used.

Carols sung were Joy to the World, While Shepherds Watched, O Come All Ye Faithful, O Little Town of Bethlehem and Silent Night.

Do we fail to see the miracles in everyday life? The question led to discussion and mention of modern miracles, surgery and in human kindness.

Violet closed with a Christmas prayer. An informal social time followed with a Christmas lunch and exchange of gifts.

Attendance was reduced by two, due to Helen Wannamaker's accident. Helen slipped in snow, fell, and broke her right wrist, or bone in hand. Good Samaritan, Winnifred Ketcheson, took her to the Medical Centre for immediate attention.

Mrs. Lily Miller spent the past week in Ottawa, visiting her sister, Mrs. Stewart.

Break and enter at Madoc Bowl

Constable Jerry Rollins, Madoc OPP, looked over the cash drawers at Madoc Bowl Saturday, after a theft during Friday night. Thieves pried open a cash register and a drawer and made off with about $60 in small bills and change. Entrance was gained by prying open a section of wall, and the thieves left by a common hallway to the apartments next door. Rollins called in a fingerprint unit to assist in the investigation.

Madoc, Huntingdon represented at tourism meeting

Bob Bancroft, Proprietor of the Madoc Hotel, and Reeve Glen Franks, Huntingdon Township, were among more than fifty people present at the Canadian Room at Ye Olde Barn Restaurant on Wednesday, December 1st, to share a banquet with the Bancroft and District Chamber of Commerce, and to hear what plans were being made to help the economy of the area by encouraging tourism.

Guests included representatives from the councils of the Village of Bancroft and of most of the townships in North Hastings. The concern of the Chamber of Commerce is to impress on the municipalities the importance of tourism to the area and to make the county and the province aware of the tourism potential in North Hastings.

Mr. Sloan, guest speaker was substituting for Mr. Bartz, the Minister of Tourism and Recreation. Mr. Sloan was General Manager of the St. Lawrence Parks Commission and had visited North Hastings many times. The Ministry is keen to sell Ontario as a travel destination because it is the second biggest foreign earner for the province.

Mr. Sloan said that our major attraction is at our feet, referring to the minerals which bring many visitors especially at Gem-boree time.

Bancroft Area Development Strategy

Mr. Sloan listed several suggestions for special events and other things to attract visitors, from a report prepared by Layen-thol and Horwath, Management Consultants for the Ministry in September. The title of the section for this area is entitled, Bancroft Area Development Strategy. The opportunities described included the development of a Mineral Park, a Boat Tour to the Park, a Mineral Guiding Centre, Canoe Routes and Cross Country Ski Trails. Mr. Sloan mentioned a Lumber-jack Festival.

The Ministry has a number of ways in which it can make long-term investments to assist the local people but who must take the initiative. "The real strength is the individual operator."

Mr. Sloan was happy to see how the local area had used the Ministry's theme "Ontario, your's to discover."

Municipal Support Needed

He spoke directly to the reeves and other representatives of the local municipalities when he emphasized that tourism is an industry and needs support from municipalities. The ministry has a Municipal Awareness Program which centers around a 15-minute film and which will be ready in January.

The next speaker was Ken Willocks, Chairman of the Tourism Development Committee of the Bancroft and District Chamber of Commerce. This committee's submission to John Sloan was in the form of a two-page letter in which three of the opportunities suggested in the Layen-thol-Horwath report were chosen as the ones that should be given immediate attention. The committee felt they should be selective in choosing just a few opportunities with the greatest long range potential. The three chosen were: 1) Creation of a Mineral Display Center; 2) Creation of a Mineral Outdoor Park; and 3) Beautification of the village through a riverside walk.

A Mineral Center

The Mineral Display Center could be built in the Freight Shed at the Railway Station. This center would extend the season of visits by collectors from the 7 days of the Gem-boree to a possible 7 months.

The Mineral Park could become part of an Eagle's Nest Panoramic Lookout which they hope to develop.

The committee sees the Riverside Walk as an excellent start to the beautification of the village.

The submission stated that they realize expert advice and assistance is needed from the ministry to guide the local people to achieve their "opportunities". It is suggested that the sum of $8,000 be made available by the government to Bancroft to conduct the necessary research and to develop the opportunities.

Mr. Vankoughnet gave a short speech in which he said he was happy to see positive things being done in the area and to see the chamber working with local councils.

The evening ended with the showing of a film entitled, Wish You Were Here, made for the ministry to promote tourism in Eastern Ontario from Gananoque to Georgian Bay. This is a colorful film, showing holiday activities during the four seasons. It is used in Great Britain as well as the United States.

Glen and Donna Franks celebrated 25th

Mrs. Wilbur Bateman, Mrs. Melvin Lees, and Mrs. John W. Wickens.

Many gifts and cards were received including a silver serving dish from the councillors and their wives.

Following the afternoon gathering, twenty-four of the family met in Madoc Hotel at 6:30 for a dinner.

It was also the occasion of the approaching birthdays of Glenn's mother and father, so the evening ended with the serving of an anniversary cake by the hotel staff, and a birthday cake made and decorated by Wanda and Suzanne Franks.

Springbrook

Members of the Rawdon Fire Department and their wives had as their guests Rawdon Council and their wives at their annual Christmas party at the fire hall on Saturday evening. Dinner was catered to by Annie's Restaurant. Stirling, F. Stapley supplied the music. Several spot dances and a door prize were given out during the party.

The CGIT girls are having their annual Vesper Service on Sunday evening, December 19, at 7:30 p.m. The annual Sunday School concert is being held on December 22. A Christmas Eve service for the Rawdon Springbrook charge is being held at Mount Pleasant this year.

A dedication service was held during the morning service on Sunday for gifts that had been given in commemoration of the church's centennial year. This dedication had been delayed owing to the illness of Rev. Bryson and we are very grateful that he is able to be with us again. A brass candelabrum was dedicated, a gift from Don and Patti Gaunt, Toronto, a pulpit fall, a gift from Lois E. Ross, Bradshaw, Agincourt; a memorial window above the door was a gift from the UCW in memory of adherents and members. The junior choir contributed several musical numbers under the direction of Mrs. Marilynne Meiklejohn. A fellowship hour followed the service.

Rev. James Bryson conducted the inaugural meeting of the new Rawdon Council at the municipal offices on Monday.

The Social Action Committee hosted the Christmas meeting of the UCW on Thursday evening. This was a general meeting for both afternoon and evening units. Margaret Thompson, president, conducted the meeting. Mabel Fleming and Annabelle McCormack were in charge of the workshop and program. Roll call was Name a Christmas Tradition at Your House. Teddy Coe entertained with the bag pipes.

Cheryl Reid and Dianne Stiles contributed trumpet selections. A social hour followed the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bradshaw, Agincourt, visited Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mason on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Acker, Oshawa, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reid and family.

Mrs. Kathleen McMullen, Stirling, spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brownson.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brownson are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Swanson and boys at Livonia, Michigan.

OPP check 54 complaints

Officers from Madoc detachment investigated 54 general occurrences and five traffic accidents from November 28 to December 4.

The general occurrences included eight persons charged with liquor violations, three persons charged with impaired driving and two persons charged with theft.

In the five accidents investigated there was $8,400 property damage done and four persons received minor injuries.

On Friday, December 3, at approximately 7 a.m., Harold W. Wilman of RR 2, Marmora, was northbound on Highway 14 when the vehicle he was driving went off the road, struck a guard post and went into the east ditch. Damage to the Wilman vehicle was estimated at $2,000. Wilman was charged with careless driving.

On Thursday, December 2, at approximately 10 p.m., Joseph Andrew Bell, of Marlbank, Ontario, was eastbound on County Road 14. The right front wheel of the vehicle he was driving caught the edge of the pavement causing the vehicle to go into the ditch and roll over. Damage to the Bell vehicle was estimated at $900. Bell was not injured.

Pope defends parks expansion

On December 15th, the battle over proposed expansion of Ontario's provincial parks system comes to Kingston. Over 500 have attended each of the previous meetings in Thunder Bay, London, Toronto and other major centres. Hundreds of ordinary citizens have already presented their views to the Minister of Natural Resources, Alan Pope, in person. He will be in Kingston at the Portsmouth Harbour Olympic site, 55 Yonge St., at 7 p.m.

At stake are the proposed Strategic Land Use Plans released earlier this year. They will guide Ontario government policy on Crown lands (85 per cent of the province) for the next 20 years, including provincial parks. The Minister proposed a slate of 245 new provincial parks last spring. These, together with existing parks, would bring the total proportion of Ontario's forested land reserved for park use to about 7 per cent. Extractive industries have argued that the parks proposals would be a "crushing blow" to the economy of the province; they want access to all Crown lands.

Conservation, camping and other interest groups argue that 95 per cent of the province should be enough for the extra-active industries. "At least a small part of our province must be reserved for future generations as a remnant of the wilderness that once stretched for the St. Lawrence to Hudson's Bay," argues Professor John Lee, Parks Committee Chairman of the Sierra Club of Ontario. "Asking for 7 per cent is not asking for a lot."

Pressure has already influenced the Ministry to substantially reduce its proposed new parks. Conservationists are voicing their objections to reductions by turning out in droves at local meetings. They want Mr. Pope to stand by his original plan, and go down in history as the "father of Ontario parks."

The 245 parks are part of the system to be completed according to the Ontario Provincial Parks Planning and Management Policies (known as the Blue Book). This policy provides for six classes of provincial parks, including the heavily used recreation parks, the protected nature reserves and the large wilderness parks.

No night shift.

There are lots of things about Daniadown continental quilts that are unique. One is their "Hi Loft" construction.

The walls of the quilt trap the filling, allowing it to loft up to its full thickness.

Hi-Loft construction exclusive. Greater than inside conventional quilting.

All over insulation means you're cool in summer warm in winter.

That means uniform, all over insulation. And no shifting. The filling stays put in the quilt. The quilt stays put on you.

Ask your Daniadown dealer for details. Or send for our full colour brochure.

And rest easy. daniadown quilts ltd. Dealers located right across Canada.

OBITUARIES

IRIS MARGUERITE ALEXANDER

Iris Marguerite Alexander, RR 2, Madoc, died suddenly at her home December 8, at age 61. Iris was the daughter of William and Georgina Roberts, and is survived by her husband Arthur Alexander. Iris lived in Madoc until 40 years ago when she moved to her RR 2 home. Also surviving Iris are: Carol and Melvin Gordon.

RR 2, Madoc, Joan and Earl Wiggins, Madoc, John and Jeannie Alexander, RR 2, Madoc, Robert and Susan Alexander, Belleville, Earl and Sandra Alexander, RR 2, Madoc, Jeannie and Lloyd Beatty, Ottawa. She is survived by brothers Bill Roberts, Eldorado, Earl Roberts, Willowdale, and by sisters, Grace Walden, Welland, and Cor-na McGee, British Columbia. Iris was predeceased by three sisters: Marjorie Heath, Stirling, and Olive Roberts and Thelma Roberts.

Iris was a housewife who was educated in Madoc. She was a member of the Madoc United Church.

The funeral service was held December 11, at 1 p.m., in the Queensborough United Church with Reverend Hilary Scrutton officiating.

Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Bearers were Wayne Roberts, nephew, Beverley Heath, nephew, Albert Ramsay, nephew, Clarence Ramsay, nephew, and Harold Tokley and Donny Gordon.

RICHARD W. GUPPY

Richard W. Guppy, 65, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on December 3, after a six week illness.

A resident of Coe Hill at the time of his death, Richard was born in Toronto, educated in Toronto, and was employed by Tone Craft Paints, known as Color Your World.

He is survived by his wife Isobel (Bud) S. Jenkinson, and by a sister, Doris, Mrs. Al Gunn, Birdsall Avenue, Toronto.

Richard was a member of the Anglican Church.

He was a veteran of the Royal Canadian Air Force, belonged to Legion Branch 581, served in the volunteer fire department and was a member of the Coe Hill Sports Club.

SPORTS

"..just for fun" league gets serious

HASTINGS: was the scene of a violent conclusion of a tournament sponsored by the Hastings Sunday Night Hockey League last Saturday night. The final game and the tournament was won by Norwood Bargain Barn, but not until at least four players were ejected from the game after two separate fights involving several players forced the referees to call the game with more than a minute remaining.

With Bargain Barn leading the Flames from Hastings 6-2, it was simply not worth continuing and risking injury to the players or the officials.

The all-day event was the second annual tournament held by the league. A league that ironically was organized a year ago to give men an opportunity to play "just for fun". However, tempers began to flare and small bumps became major offenses to the emotional participants.

Earlier in the day the Peterborough Junior Farmers won the consolation championship of the eight team tourney.

Lakefield girls' team wins nine straight

Lakefield: The Lakefield Intermediate Girls Basketball team have had an undefeated season. The two coaches, Jane Trevor and Lou Foley are pleased with the wins but Trevor said that sportsmanship is one of their prime objectives. None the less, the girls have secured 281 points. The highest contributors on the point scale are Maureen Pind and Lisa Weirsdma.

The girls who form this winning team are Maureen Pind, Lisa Weirsdma (captain), Wendy Lavallee, Kelli Chittick, Miranda Piorro, Lisa Dunford, Patti Taylor, Karen Atkins, Elizabeth Budd, Alisa Rose, Lisa Renout, and Lisa Hutchinson.

Where do competitive teams go from here in intermediate action? The semi-final, on December 14 at Peterborough College Vocational School (PCVS).

Games

The determination of this team is reflected in the game scores. When Lakefield met Prince of Wales, our team out maneuvered them in a 44-4 win. The game against Westmount was an impressive 38-4 score. The rest of the standings were: Chemong 34-25; Queen Elizabeth 9-4; Adam Scott 22-14; Grove 30-14; Millbrook 41-16; Confederation 36-21 and North Cavan 26-10. Way to go team!

Douro Dukes rack up to two wins

The Douro Dukes Intermediate C team declared war on their opponents in their December 3rd and December 7th games, which added four points for them in the standings. The action was evident in the game against Port Hope when Douro netted a 9-5 victory. Douro had the home ice advantage and utilized it in a full scale effort, to claim the win.

The winning streak continued for the next game when the team beat Campbellford by two goals on Tuesday, December 7. Douro scored the win, 5-3 on Campbellford's home ice. Wayne Batley, from the Douro team is half way on the top 10 scorers' list. Tim Pearson from Bobcaygeon still tops the standings with 25 points, followed by Dave Nicholson, Cannington and Bob McCallister, Bobcaygeon with 21 points. Tom Galand fills the fourth spot. Other action in this league took place on Wednesday December 1 when Brighton trounced the Bobcaygeon team in a 15-5 game.

Past Games

were unable to take advantage of their home ice situation on Friday November 26 against Cannington. Cannington took the term to task with a 13-1 score. Douro maintained its no-win strategy, at this point in the season, out of the seven games played.

The Douro team lost six games with one tie, which provides the team with one lone point for the season. Bobcaygeon doubled the score for itself against Campbellford that same evening with an 8-4 victory.

Bobcaygeon continued its winning streak with a slight edge over Port Hope on Saturday November 27 with a 4-3 score. Action between Cannington and Campbellford took place that Saturday with home ice advantage for the Campbellford team. The game netted a 6-5 result.

Top three scorers

The top three scorers for these games were Tim Pearson, Bobcaygeon (23 points), Bob McCallister, Bobcaygeon (20 pts.), and Tom Galand, Cannington (20 pts.).

Norwood Peewees top Havelock tournament

On Saturday, December 11, Lynch's Auto Service Peewee 'A' hockey team travelled to Havelock for a major tournament. In game one, Norwood played Havelock and beat them 4-2. Goal scorers were Jim Crawford with two and Brent Irwin and Mike Payne with one each. In game two Lynch's Auto Service played a strong Frankford team. Norwood played an excellent two-way game with superb goaltending from Matt Handford and Scott Toms to defeat Frankford 3-0. Jim Crawford had 2 goals; a single to Scott Rogers with a long drive from the point. Ron Buchanan assisted on all three goals.

This put the locals into the championship final against the Stirling team that had allowed no goals all day. Lynch's Auto Service scored at 5:13 of the first period with Mike Payne scoring. Stirling came back in the third period to force the game into overtime. The first overtime went scoreless. But with 27 seconds left in the second overtime Todd Wood put a long shot past the Stirling goalie to give Norwood an exciting 2-1 victory.

A combination of superb goaltending, excellent defence and forwards back checking gave up only three goals all day. Mike Payne deservedly was awarded the tournament MVP.

Marmora Atoms do well through busy schedule

BY SUSAN M. CUDDY

MARMORA: The Marmora Atoms have been quite busy with three road games and one at home.

The team travelled to Trenton on November 21, and emerged the victors with a score of 6-2. The goal scorers for Marmora were Evan Robinson assisted by Doug Fluke and Andy Meers; Bernie Cassidy, assisted by Robbie Cole, Doug Fluke, assisted by Evan Robinson; Evan Robinson, assisted by Doug Fluke and Andy Meers; Chris Ellis, assisted by Doug Fluke; and Evan Robinson closed the game with an unassisted goal.

The team then travelled to Warkworth and lost with a score of 6-3.

The score was 3-0 for Warkworth with approximately four minutes left in the second period when Doug Fluke, with the aid of Brad Falls and Mike Shorts, put Marmora on the scoreboard. Warkworth kept pressing and finally scored with one minute left in the second period.

At the top of the third period, Marmora was down 4-1 when Evan Robinson scored unassisted. Two minutes later, Doug Fluke sent home goal number three and the score was tightened to 4-3. Warkworth's Wayne Clarke stepped in then to remove the threat by scoring two quick goals. Wayne Clarke scored five of Warkworth's goals.

On December 3, Marmora hosted Brighton and lost 6-1. The lone goal was scored by Chris Ellis, assisted by Evan Robinson.

On December 8, the Atoms were back on the road again and travelling to Frankford. The Lions' bus was full of happy faces that night as it carried home the victors.

Robbie Cole, assisted by Todd Ellis and Doug Fluke, started off the game with two quick goals, followed by Doug Fluke, unassisted, to set the score at 3-0 at the end of the first period.

Tony Genereaux of Frankford scored three goals in a row to tie the game up. With just five minutes left in the game, Doug Fluke broke the tie with the help of Robbie Cole and Todd Ellis. And just for good measure, with 21 seconds remaining, Doug Fluke scored unassisted.

On December 18, at Marmora arena, the Atoms will host an eight-team tournament. Teams will be coming from Warkworth, Havelock, Tweed, Brighton, Trenton and Frankford. Be sure to keep this day open so you can go and cheer the Marmora Atoms to victory.

ONE FOOT IN THE FURROW

BY BOB TROTTER

Bob has the numbers to back statements

The poor, hard-working, hard-done-by farmer is always misunderstood or maligned by an unsympathetic public and/or government.

The predictability and lack of factual content in your columns bothers me because I understand you are some sort of teaching journalist supported partially, I presume, by my tax dollars.

In conclusion, I think you should change the heading of your column to One Foot in a Rut.

That is a quote from a letter from J.R. Upper, RR 4, Fergus, Ontario. It is one of half a dozen received recently deploring the content of these weekly meanderings.

Let me hasten to add that more than enough letters are received in praise.

What Mr. Upper did not like was a column written a month ago on pollution.

I suggested that farmers get blamed for a lot of pollution and seem to have little recourse against pollution legislation. Mr. Upper apparently felt I was too hard on industry and that farmers are as much to blame as anyone else for pollution through the use of herbicides, pesticides, fertilizers and over-tillage.

Can't argue that point. Certainly, farmers are responsible for some pollution. The point of the column, though, was that farmers have little in the way of political clout; that big business seems to get away with blatant pollution.

I stand by that assumption. I still think business gets away with pollution with platitudes and knucklerappings. And if I am in a rut about the plight of farmers, here are a few figures - not mine, you understand, but from some of the best brains in the country - to prove that agriculture is in serious trouble and it is time urban dwellers were made aware of it:

Net farm income will decrease - get that! - decrease - by 28 per cent this year, sinking to a level matching 1971. No other group in Canada faces such economic distortions.

Unions all across Canada are steaming about a six per cent increase - increase, that is, - and farmers will be facing a decrease.

Total cash receipts will fall from $18.7 billion to $18.5 billion. Profits will fall from $3.8 million to $3.7 billion. Farm debt will increase as much as 10 per cent. Energy will cost farmers 15 per cent more. Farmers, the same as most every other sector of the economy, will have to tighten their belts. But what concerns me and it should concern everybody in Canada, is that some farmers will not have a belt to tighten. They are being forced into bankruptcy at a greater rate than at any time since the Great Depression.

Corn prices are down as much as 20 per cent. Wheat is down five per cent. Feed grains are down 15 per cent. Hog and beef prices will be in trouble all through 1984 and 1985. There is a world surplus of dairy products and farmers are being asked to cut back production. Cut back production and you sell less. Ergo: less income.

And where do these projections come from? From the best brains in Canada attending the Agriculture Outlook Conference in Ottawa early this month. You wanted factual material?

You got it.

SHEPHERD'S NOOK

BY KEN YARROW

Christmas thoughts - a happy time of year when families get together, animosity is put aside. Certainly, one could be sarcastic and say, why just at Christmas? My answer is we are human.

Being human, we never have and never will agree on all issues. The real problem is when people are deeply hurt. Once this takes place then spiritual sets in and who knows what the final outcome will be.

Aside from these lasting and on-going quarrels,

Christmas certainly does a lot to alleviate the minor ones. People meet or get together and find the problem was not nearly so big as it had been made out. A feeling of general good will exists and it is the best medicine in the world. Unfortunately, for some it is a lonely time, a time of memories and wishfulness. May God help them to gain some measure of cheer from the season. Possibly some of them need only to get into the middle of things and they will find alternatives to dwelling on the past. Many tend to think they are intruding and those who would welcome them think the person does not want to see them. Unaggressive and open discussion does wonders to eliminate misunderstandings.

Christmas is a time of giving. What does giving mean to you? In these times of lowered buying power, consideration must be given to price - of course. Do you spend what you have all on your favorites? I can recall many gifts I have received that in dollar value were almost negligible. But I knew the person giving it had put a lot of effort into making or finding it. Within their spending range they had showed the concern to find the gift that I would use and enjoy. Many persons of this temperament will use judgement in their spending and rather than spend large amounts on a few will put much care and thought into many small gifts. Remember a small gift given with love can reap larger benefits than an extravaganza with hope of reward.

A bit rambling, but I get that way at Christmas. A sense of remorse for the things I have not done, and a hope that maybe next year I will do better.

A closing thought: although Christ taught obedience to God's laws, He dwelt equally on compassion, understanding, love and equality among men. We cannot reach, in the near future, anywhere near His level, but we could try a little harder. Fair dealing and mutual respect would go a long way.

Merry Christmas to everyone.

NOTES AND NOTES

Extension Service started in Ontario in 1900, it originally was called the District Agriculturalist Service. Later the name changed to 1. The Agricultural Representative, Service, then 2. The Agricultural Branch, then 3. The Extension Branch now with reorganization it is again the Agricultural Representative Branch responsible for the county office. Associated with this main stream are a multitude of branches and resource people. Hastings County Office started in 1910 when county council approved the establishment and A.D. McIntosh became the first Agricultural Representative. Many changes later we the staff listed in matter our branch name work towards the good of agriculture in Hastings County.

Christmas toy suggestions

BY CATHARINE TOZER
Infant Development
Consultant

Mrs. S.G. writes to ask, "What can I buy my 20-month-old grandson for Christmas?"

Your grandson is at a stage where his independence is fiercely important to him and he's probably spending long hours trying over and over again to perfect new skills. A 20-month-old likes to pour, scoop, shovel, rake, sweep, mop, hammer or vacuum, and the harder it is to manage the more determined he'll be to put it to use.

Keeping this in mind and accounting for your grandson's own personality, choose a gift that matches his skills, challenges him to learn more and suits his interests.

Sounds like a tall order? Well, there are a number of different types of toys that might suit the interests of the 18 to 24-month-old.

Once a child has mastered the art of stacking simple blocks, he'll experiment with building castles, and then he'll be ready to try more complex play sets. The Samsonite Luggage people also make Lego and a junior building set called Duplo. The pieces are larger and easier to manipulate for children under three years of age. Read the details on the package and examine any construction toys before you buy to be sure it's not too complex for the child you have in mind.

Dolls and Stuffed Animals for Little Boys, Too

Just as every little girl should have trucks and cars to play with, every little boy should have a doll or at least a cuddly stuffed animal. Trucks and dolls inspire different types of imaginative play and each child should have the chance to enjoy them. Fisher Price makes a simple first doll called "Lolly" and there are other cuddly, non-jointed and simple dolls on the market as well. Sad to say, though, even 20-month-might be too old to introduce a doll since it's around 21 to 24 months that children begin to show their own ideas about sex roles. He might feel he's too much a man to play with dolls.

If you're thinking of stocking stuffers, you could look for Kiddi-craft's bath ducks or mini bathbubbles by Tomy (wind up animals that propel through water). Playskool makes jumbo beads to string onto a cord, 28 large colored wooden beads come in 5 different shapes. Playdough or crayons (Crayola's easy-off crayons or chubby stumps) are good choices for young children.

Wind-up music boxes, puzzles by Ambi, Fisher Price or Simplex, or a hammering table will challenge the skills of the under-two-year-old. With Ambi's "Knocky-block" toy he can hammer the colored balls through to the other side of the hammering table and back through again.

Since, as 18 to 24-month-old will be, learning to pretend, he'll love any toy that arouses his imagination. A child size tea set, telephone, marching band, medic kit or dump truck would be the real thing in his imagination. Fisher Price play family peg people are popular, though they're an expensive toy investment. The play family action garage or farm would hold a young child's attention as he learned about cause and effect, and for both toys are highly rated by the

2 to 7 year old by the Canadian Toy Testing Council.

A child size table and chair would be welcomed by Mom and Dad, and toddler too. He would enjoy this vote of confidence in his developing independence.

Hints on freezing make-ahead foods

The holiday season means colored lights, carols, snow — and usually too little time to do all you want.

Food and nutrition specialists with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food suggest a little work now can lighten the load in the busy days ahead.

Freeze casseroles and have dinner waiting on ice. A few little tricks will help ensure delicious results.

Since sub-zero temperatures don't improve food, always start with top quality ingredients. Avoid foods that don't freeze well. Potatoes may turn grey or completely disappear. Hard cooked egg whites become tough. Watery vegetables like tomatoes, celery, zucchini and green pepper can be frozen, especially if they're cut in small pieces, but they won't retain their original crisp texture.

Seasonings like salt, pepper, herbs and spices often change in icy temperatures. When preparing dishes for the freezer, add 1/4 of the normal amount and re-season to taste just before serving.

To prevent the final product from being overcooked after reheating, undercook all ingredients as the dish is being combined.

Sauces thickened with flour or cornstarch tend to separate on freezing.

The dish could be stirred vigorously to recombine the sauce as it reheats but it's often easier to substitute partially diluted, canned cream soup for the sauce. If the ingredients are completely covered by the sauce, there's less chance of freezer burn developing.

If dishes are not properly packaged and dry air from the freezer is allowed to come in contact with food, moisture is drawn out, unpleasantly changing the color, texture, flavor and aroma. To prevent this 'freezer burn' eliminate any air pockets from around the food and use heavy foil, plastic wrap or rigid containers designed specifically for sub-zero temperatures. The plastic bags used for produce in grocery stores and thin plastic wrap, including the kind used by meat departments, are not moisture-vapor proof and won't protect the food properly.

Ten straight for Madoc Peewees

BY BILL DENISON

MADOC: Here on Madoc ice, December 10, the Madoc Peewees won their tenth consecutive victory by a 5-3 margin over visiting Marmora Peewees.

After the first period the score was 1-1. Stephen Bancroft scored his first of 3 for the night, to open the game. Marmora scored on a fluke drop by Dave Osborne. Madoc's goalie, to tie the score.

Madoc added two more in the second period in the sticks of Stephen Bancroft and Brian Forestell, making the count read 3-1 in Madoc's favor.

In the third period, Madoc rammed in two more goals by Brent Forestell, who broke in past Marmora's defence, deked the goalie, and scored a beauty, followed by Stephen Bancroft only 46 seconds later, on another picture goal. With the game apparently salted away 5-1, Marmora put on a strong surge in the last six minutes and beat goalie Jeff McMaster twice, but still fell short, the final score ending 5-3 for the mighty Madoc Peewees.

Point-getters for Madoc were: Stephen Bancroft, 3 goals, 1 assist; Brent Forestell, 1 goal, 3 assists;

Brian Forestell, 1 goal, 1 assist; Alan Danford, 2 assists; and Derek Chapman, 1 assist.

Highlights of the game were: the excellent line-combination play of the two Forestell brothers flanking centre Stephen Bancroft; also, the defence work by Madoc was outstanding, particularly Alan Danford, who broke up many rushes by Marmora and skated hard both ways.

Coach wants Anthem played before games

In Marmora, December 10, the Bantam A deserved more than the 4-4 tie shows.

Madoc led 2-1 after 1 period and 4-1 after two periods, only to have Marmora tie it up before it was over.

Lennie Hyde and Scott Chapman beat Marmora's goalie to run Madoc up 2-0 early in the game. Before the first period was over Marmora got one back.

The second period was a speedy, free-wheeling one with Madoc scoring two beauties by Peter Ringelman and Duncan Kosziwka, running the tab to 4-1.

With six minutes to go, penalties came fast and furiously, with Madoc being two men short twice. Using this advantage, Marmora banged in 3 goals to equalize the score. Doug McCoy, leading Madoc on a rush, playing two men short, in the last 20 seconds, got past the defencemen, but fired a backhand too high in a great attempt to give a deserving Madoc a victory. It ended 4-4.

Point men for Madoc Bantam A were: Scott Chapman, 1 goal, 1 assist; Lennie Hyde, 1 goal, 1 assist; Peter Ringelman, 1 goal; Duncan Kosziwka, 1 goal; Chris Daniels, 1 assist; and Larry Bird, 1 assist. Team record to date 5 wins, 2 losses, 1 tie.

Special note by the strong request of Bantam coach Richard Chapman, he challenges all the other Madoc coaches to have the National Anthem played before every game each team plays. He has set the example by being the only team that begins each game this way. How about it, the rest of you?

Novices trounce Marmora 24-0

BY BILL DENISON

In Marmora, December 11, an experienced Madoc team clouted the Marmora Novices 24-0.

Because the Marmora team has had little ice practice time and with less chance to work together, the Madoc team had little trouble winning.

Following are the point makers in this scoring hey day. Brad Phillips, 9 goals, 5 assists; Tom Burnside, 5 goals, 3 assists; Tim Bailey, 4 goals, 6 assists; Derek Davidson, 4 goals, 3 assists; Brad Bateman, 1 goal, 4 assists; Chad Bateman, 1 goal, 1 assist; Jason Daniels, 4 assists; Scott Tracey, 3 assists; Dave Hobson, 1 assist; and Charlie Brown son, 1 assist.

Many of the boys put on good performances. Special mention should be made of Dave Hobson's good back up work on defence.

This win leaves the Novice team with a 3-1 record.

Peewees made it 4-2 over Marmora

Marmora played host to the unbeaten Madoc Peewees December 6. Final count: Madoc 4, Marmora 2.

Right from the opening whistle this proved to be a hard-hitting thriller. Madoc had their work cut out for themselves in order to keep undefeated.

Marmora opened the scoring in the first period, but Brian Forestell, star of the game, with three goals and 1 assist, tied the game for Madoc with only 3 seconds left in the first period.

Madoc, with Brian Forestell's second goal, got the only marker in the second period.

Marmora tied it all up, beginning early in the third period. It was a back and forth battle until, with almost 4 minutes to go, Madoc, being a man short, were led again by Brian Forestell who beat the Marmora goalie for the winner.

Stephen Bancroft rifled home his 19th goal of the season with only 39 seconds left to "ice the cake".

Marmora pulled their goalie for the last few seconds, but to no avail. Madoc won again!

Stephen Bancroft got one assist also, while Brent Forestell gathered 3 assists. Alan Danford earned one assist on Madoc's second goal.

Dec. 9 House League results

Hawks and Canadians played on December 9 to a 10-3 decision for the Hawks.

Point-getters for the Hawks: Andy Griffith, 3 goals, 2 assists; Jason Bailey, 2 goals, 2 assists; Tom Burnside, 2 goals, 1 assist; Shawn Gray, 2 assists; Kevin Breen, 1 goal; Tim Osborne, 1 goal; Mark Bossio, 1 goal; and Derek Lucas, 1 assist.

Point-getters for Canadians: Angus McNeal, 2 goals; and John Chappelle, 1 goal.

Kings and Bruins played to a 15-2 decision for the Kings.

Point-makers for Kings: Pat Bailey, 4 goals, 2 assists; Jason Bailey, 4 goals, 1 assist; Brad and Derek Davidson, 2 goals each; Tim Bailey, 1 goal; 4 assists; Tim Osborne, 1 goal, 4 assists; Mark McQuigge, 3 assists; and Greg Tobin, 1 goal.

Point-scorers for Bruins: Wade Wickens, 2 goals.

In this second game both Jason Bailey and Tim Osborne were used on the King's team as they were short players. This is why they appeared in both scoring lists for the two games.

House League Standings (December 9): Kings, 2 wins, no losses, 4 points; Canadians, 2 wins, 1 loss, 4 points; Hawks, 2 wins, no losses, 4 points; Flyers, 0 wins, 2 losses, 0 points; Bruins, 0 wins, 3 losses, 0 points.

Games scheduled for December 16 - (1) 5:30 p.m., Kings vs. Canadians; (2) 6:45 p.m., Flyers vs. Hawks.

Huntingdon Council has inaugural meeting

The inaugural meeting of the Township of Huntingdon was held at the Township Hall December 7, 1982.

Rev. M. Hawley opened the meeting with prayer and the following elected members took their Oaths of Office:

Reeve Glenn Franks, Deputy-reeve Walton Reid, Councillor Owen Ketcheson, Councillor Eric MacMillan, and Councillor Kenneth Yarrow.

Reeve Franks expressed his appreciation for being able to serve as the reeve for the next three years, and felt that council could work together for the good of the township.

He felt the township is in a better financial position than it has been and with provincial grants being lowered and hard economical times, it will be a challenge to keep services up and taxes low.

Deputy-reeve Reid indicated that he was glad to be back on council and that he would strive to work with the other councillors co-operatively to solve any problems that might arise.

Councillor Ketcheson said he appreciated the support given to him by the township, was looking forward to working with council, and would like to see some policies continued and a land use policy implemented.

Councillor Yarrow said he was glad to be back on council and that he would work in co-operation with council to face any issues as they arise.

Councillor MacMillan said he was pleased to be elected, and he would accept any help he could get as a new councillor from the rest. He intends to treat each ratepayer's problem as his own and try to solve it accordingly.

The Rev. M. Hawley addressed council prior to adjournment for lunch and the meeting resumed at 1:40 p.m.

J. Wallace, Deputy Fire Chief, attended council to discuss the purchase of air paks, a water outlet from the cistern, and the appointment of a fire inspector. The Fire Chief and Deputy Fire Chief are to meet council to further discuss these matters on December 20.

The Fire Department was advised to purchase two air paks, one to be paid for in 1982 and one in 1983 and the two existing air paks will be traded in on new ones.

Third reading was given to by-law 2095-82, being a by-law to close a portion of road allowance between Lot 13, Concession 13 and Lot 15, Concession 14.

Road Voucher No. 11 in the amount of $18,478.17 be approved with the deletion of the payment for rental fee of grader in the amount of $2,461, to be paid in January of 1983, making the total approved $16,017.17.

Hilliard Poole, Road Superintendent, reported to council, there will be a road tour on December 18, 1982, road committee to meet at 10 a.m.

A letter will be sent to the Moira River Conservation Authority asking permission to install a boat launch pad on Moira Lake between Lots 7 and 8, Concession 13 and 14; and also requesting their assistance in constructing this boat launch.

The Road Superintendent was advised to purchase an office desk from S. Danford and Sons Ltd. for $75.

By-law no. 2100-82 being a by-law to appoint the Deputy-reeve to attend County Council in the absence of the Reeve, was given three readings, and was signed, and sealed.

General Voucher 12-82 in the amount of $24,274.40 was approved for payment.

The following appointments were made for one year only:

Township Road Committee: all members of council;
 Township Property Committee: Walton Reid, Eric MacMillan; Stirling Arena Board: Walton Reid;
 Madoc and District Arena

Board: Doug Phillips, Ken Yarrow, Owen Ketcheson; Lower Trent Region Conservation Authority: Russell Sills;

Moira River Conservation Authority: Ted Pollock;

Centre Hastings Medical Centre Board: Walton Reid.

The following persons were named to the Huntingdon Township Recreation Committee: Owen Ketcheson, Eric MacMillan, Ted Pollock, Margaret Chislett, Wm. Waugh, Jim Douglas, Gary Ferguson, and Randy Hachey.

Gordon Preston and Ted Pollock were appointed as Livestock Valuers and will be paid at the rate of $20 per valuation.

Councillor Ketcheson declared Conflict of Interest on the Municipal Drain. By-law no. 2101-82 being a by-law to amend the by-law 2059-81 to provide for drainage works in the township was given three readings, and signed and sealed.

A letter will be sent to all Municipal Drain landowners with final assessments, indicating to them that any amount under $300 is due and payable on or before December 31, 1982; any amount over this can be paid on a three year period with interest charged at the same rate as that on taxes; installments to be due and payable at the same time as tax installments.

Council adjourn until December 20, 1982, at 7:30 p.m.

1st place prizes were $5 each and an entry into the Zone F 3 competition which could come from nine branches. 2nd place prizes were $3 each. Honorary mention prizes were $2 given to runners-up in place of the usual award of $1 to each entrant. Total branch prizes awarded amounted to $77.

First place winners at Zone can progress, if winners, through District, to Provincial, and to Dominion. Last year a Marmora Branch winner in posters, Janine Ralph's entry in the senior level (Grades 10-13) proceeded to a Dominion title. No entries in poster, essay or poems were entered at this level this year even though there was a 1st prize of $10 and a 2nd prize of $5.

Marmora Branch 237's Color Party under Sgt. At Arms Bill Bailey have been very busy of late. Accompanied by several other members they have paraded at Santa Claus parades at Madoc, Cordova and Marmora.

Besides the Marmora November 11th parade, they also attended at Havelock and Keene ceremonies. Carrying colors have been Ernie Martin, Fred Wooler, Gord Marshall, Clare Holloway and Joe Dubeau and for the Auxiliary Nancy Gordon, Lillie Lucas and Pat Fluke.

Don't toss the snow

When mounds of snow begin piling up around your door, resist the impulse to grab the nearest shovel and start plowing energetically to the street. Snow shoveling is heavy work and requires the proper technique if you want to avoid straining your heart and back.

The Ontario Safety League offers the following shoveling tips:

Cover as much exposed skin as possible, especially when the wind chill factor is below -6 Celsius (20 degrees F). Use multiple layers of light-weight clothing for easy movement. Remove the top layer as you work to prevent overheating.

Use a sturdy, light-weight shovel to push/snow out of the way. If you must lift it, take out small scoops, and use your legs and entire body to help lift the load, not just your arms and back.

Smoking and drinking alcoholic beverage are out while shoveling. Cigarette smoking constricts your blood vessels, making your heart and lungs work that much harder. Drinking may give you a false sense of energy and lead you to over-exert yourself.

The best time to shovel is before eating, or at least one to two hours after eating.

If at any time you feel a pain or heaviness in your chest, or become dizzy, faint, or start sweating profusely, stop shoveling immediately and get medical attention. You may be having a heart attack.

"WHERE THE QUALITY IS ALWAYS GREATER THAN THE PRICE"

Norm Critch, Alfred Wilman, George Hoover

George Hoover, Eldorado, and Alfred Wilman, Madoc, received Life Memberships in the Canadian Legion last Wednesday. Both men were forced to give up offices in the Legion recently, due to ill health. Alfred Wilman, explained that he is the only founding member left from the days in 1945 when the Legion was started in the old armouries.

George Hoover stood to receive his membership and said, "I'll give the shortest speech from the shortest man in the Legion. I appreciate this. Thank you." Staff photo.

And Madoc Atoms go to ten straight with 4-0 win over Tweed

BY BILL DENISON

Tweed Atoms played host to the mighty Madoc Atoms, December 11.

Tweed was defeated 4-0 by Madoc who have now run their season's record to a fantastic 10-0.

Tweed were much improved since their last clash with Madoc. After Madoc got the only goal, off the stick of Joey Kehoe, in the first period, they added two more in the second and one in the third. The second period goals were scored by Jeff Sawkins, who also tallied Madoc's only counter in the third period. Jeff Sawkins led the team potting 3 goals. Joey Kehoe scored 1 goal, while Jason Bailey grabbed 2 assists, Shawn Chapman, 1 assist and Derek Wood, 1 assist.

Tweed showed more strength in this game and kept skating hard against the Madoc boys, breaking up their plays many times. Madoc's good forecheck ing and the exceptional combination play of the red box line of Jeff Sawkins, Jason Bailey and Derek Wood, produced some fine hockey.

Definite mention of the second line for Madoc, consisting of Jim Bonter, Ian Ketcheson and Pat Graham should be made. They worked a great game as well.

All being said, it was a hotly contested game closer than the score might show.

Doug Chapman and Norm Mahoney

Honorary Memberships in the Madoc Legion were given to Norm Mahoney and Doug Chapman in a ceremony last Wednesday evening. Legion President

Norm Critch thanked both men for their ceaseless contributions to the welfare of the Legion branch, its members and to social and fund-raising activities.

Homemaking Club looking for leaders

Have you ever considered being a 4-H leader? If you enjoy working with young people between 12 and 26 years of age and would like to be a community volunteer, please give this careful consideration.

Ontario Heritage of Cooking is the January 1983 4-H project. To prepare leaders for the project a two-day leaders' workshop will be held on the following dates: January 17, 18, 1983 - Madoc United Church Hall; January 25, 26, 1983 - Picton United Church Hall; January 27, 28, 1983 - Foxboro United Church Hall. Here leaders will focus on the project activities in preparation for their own club meetings.

In this project 4-H members will learn more about the development of Ontario food traditions. Who invented peanut butter? Who started the tradition of Sunday roast of beef customs? These and many more food customs will be studied as members prepare a multicultural meal at each meeting. Menus will include Scotch Eggs from the Scottish, Dutch Peach Kuchen from the Mennonites, Braided Pork Chops with Cherry Sauce from the Russians and Apple Pie, Greek style.

After leaders have attended the 4-H workshops they return to their community and organize a 4-H Homemaking Club. Girls and guys who are 12 as of March 1983, are encouraged to participate. The project consists of 7 meetings which are usually held at the leaders' home or local community hall. To include the project all members and leaders join together and present an Achievement Program of skits, exhibits and demonstrations related to the project. Award presentations are also made at this time.

Why not organize a club in your community? When you see the accomplishments of your members and experience the personal satisfaction as a volunteer, then you'll know your efforts have been worth while.

The 4-H Homemaking Clubs in the Quinte area are co-ordinated by the Rural Organizations and Services Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. For pre-registration information, please contact Valerie Clark, Home Economist, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Stirling, 395-3394 or Picton, 476-3224.

If you want to make a big contribution to your community, let 4-H help you do it. Become a "4-H Leader today".

Land O'Lakes Cruisers will play at Big Brothers Big Sisters dance December 17

The Land O' Lakes Cruisers will entertain at a dance for the Big Brothers and Big Sisters Centre Hastings organization at the Beach Hollow Resort, December 17, at 8 p.m.

Partial proceeds will go to the recreation committee of Big Brothers Big Sisters, to create safe, enjoyable activities for the children served by the organization. Tickets will cost $10 per couple and $7 single.

In a press release late last week, Shirley White, Co-ordinator, explained that Big Brothers Big Sisters require community support to carry on their work with children.

"Mark the date of the dance on a calendar," the press release said, "We need your support and have a Merry Christmas."

Drinking-driving crackdown planned

Solicitor General George Taylor and Ontario Provincial Police Commissioner James Erskine have revealed a program designed to make Ontario highways safer over the holiday period and keep drinking drivers off the road.

Both Mr. Taylor and Commissioner Erskine, who is also chairman of the Ontario Traffic Safety Council, emphasized that police would be doing their utmost to get drinking drivers off the road.

One of the methods will be by enforcing the temporary suspension law which requires marginally impaired drivers to surrender their licenses to police for 12 hours if it is so indicated by a portable breathalyzer known as an Alert device.

The Solicitor General told a news conference that through the Ontario Police Commission he is urging all Ontario police forces to join in the Christmas and New Year's safety campaign, using such methods as the temporary suspension program, spot checks and enforcement of the seat belt laws.

"The temporary suspension law, enacted by the legislature last year, is proving to be one of the most effective instruments the police have in combating the drinking-driving problem," Mr. Taylor said.

He said some members of the public seem to regard it as a measure to be used only during the holiday season, when, in fact, the OPP alone has issued more than 9,000 suspensions already this year.

Mr. Taylor also said the ministry and the OPP were co-operating with the PRIDE organization in getting their message to the public of the tragedies caused by drinking and driving.

PRIDE (People to Reduce Impaired Driving Everywhere) is a volunteer organization dedicated to promoting public education about the damage that impaired and drunk drivers do. Many members have lost relatives who were killed in accidents involving impaired and drunk drivers.

The minister said the OPP has tape cassettes with messages from PRIDE members which will be distributed to radio stations across the province by community services officers.

LEGALLY SPEAKING is a regular column written by legally qualified people under the auspices of COMMUNITY LEGAL EDUCATION ONTARIO.

Drinking and Driving: "Blowing Over 50"

By STEVEN AUERBACK

A new section was added to the Highway Traffic Act in 1981 to try to get drinking drivers off the roads. Police officers now have the right to stop any motor vehicle on the road in order to find out if the driver has been drinking to excess.

If a police officer signals you to pull over to the side of the road and stop, you must do so, even if you think there is no reason for the officer to suspect you have been drinking. If you fail to comply, you may be fined anywhere from $100 to $2,000.

Once you have pulled over to the side of the road, the police officer will observe you in order to determine if you have been drinking excessively. If you seem unsteady or if the officer smells alcohol on your breath, you will be asked to take a breath test. If you refuse, you may be prosecuted under the Criminal Code. According to the Code, if the officer has reasonable grounds to suspect that you have alcohol in your blood and you refuse to take a roadside breath test without a reasonable excuse, you may be found guilty of an offence. For a first offence, you may be fined anywhere from $50 to $2,000 or be imprisoned for up to six months or both. Therefore, it is unwise to refuse to take a breath test.

The breath test involves blowing into what is called a "roadside screening device". If the test shows that the proportion of alcohol in your blood is at least 50 milligrams per 100 milliliters, what is referred to as "blowing over 50", the officer may ask you to surrender your driver's license. Your license will then be suspended for 12 hours.

The Highway Traffic Act requires you to hand over your license immediately if requested to do so. If you refuse, you may be fined anywhere from $20 to $100.

You may request that a second breath test be conducted at a police station. This test, called a breathalyzer test, provides a more accurate reading than a roadside screening test. If you blow under 50 in the breathalyzer test, the suspension on your license will be lifted and you will be free to drive away; otherwise the suspension remains in effect.

If your test (at the roadside or at the station) shows that the level of alcohol in your blood is more than 80 milligrams per 100 milliliters, you may be prosecuted under the Criminal Code for impaired driving.

MEMORIALS

BROWN - In loving memory of my dear wife, Enid Agnes McCulloch, who passed away Dec. 14, 1981. Dear mother of Nancy, Terry, Brian, Paul & Jacqui. Loving grandmother of Richard, Timmy & Nicole. There is a family who misses you dearly. In a home where you used to be.

There's a family who wanted to keep you. But you would it not to be. You left many happy memories. And a sorrow to great to be told. But to us who loved you & lost you. Your memory will never grow old.

Sadly missed & always remembered by husband Jack B. Brown & his family & mother Cora McCulloch.

KENNEDY - In loving memory of Reg Kennedy, who passed away Dec. 18, 1978. It is sad to walk the road alone. Instead of side by side. But to all there comes a moment.

When the ways of life divide. You gave us years of happiness. Then came sorrow & tears. But you left us beautiful memories. We will treasure through the years. Sadly missed by wife Mavis, son Reg & daughter-in-law Linda.

KENNEDY - In loving memory of dear father & grandpa, Reg Kennedy who passed away Dec. 18, 1978. Christmas time is coming fast. It makes me remember Christmas past.

MEMORIALS

Tears swell up in my eyes. When I think there were no good byes. But the warmth in my heart, & strength of my soul, will forever remember & miss you Daddy dear. Daughter Kim, son-in-law Steve Patterson.

You held me in your arms when I was small. To think I won't remember seeing you at all. You cannot stand here by my side. But still the warmth of your will I feel from inside, still spreading your love & joy.

Grandson Andrew.

CLAYTON - In loving memory of a dear brother, brother-in-law & uncle, Harley, who passed away Dec. 15, 1981. One night when I was all alone. I sat & thought of you. I thought of all the pain you had. And the Hell that you went through. But now your pain is over, our fight with life is done. In our hearts you're still so close. You're still our Number One. Sadly missed, but never forgotten. Gail, Sue & Stephen.

McLAUGHLIN - In loving memory of a dear father & grandfather, William, who passed away on Dec. 13, 1976. Farewell, dear father, thy work is over. Thy willing hands will toil no more. A loving father, kind & true. No one on earth we'll find like you. Lovingly remembered by son William & wife Eleanor, & grandson Terry Robert.

McLAUGHLIN - In loving memory of a dear mother & grandmother, Janet, who passed away on Dec. 27, 1977. In our hearts, your memory lingers. Sweetly tender, fond & true. There is not a day, dear mother, that we do not think of you. Lovingly remembered by son William & wife Eleanor, & grandson Terry Robert.

DAVIDSON, Hannah Mary - In loving memory of a dear wife & mother, who passed away on the 21st of Nov. 1975. I remember the day I met you. And the day God made you mine. I remember the day He took you.

And will to the end of time. With all the heartaches I had. One thing makes me glad. That you chose me to share your joy. Loving grandmother of Richard, Timmy & Nicole. There is a family who misses you dearly. In a home where you used to be.

WEBBER - In loving memory of Winston Webber, who passed away Dec. 14, 1980. Sometimes we didn't see you very much, but we loved you just the same. We were proud to call you Brother.

And tell everyone your name. You made us feel so good, when you walked into a place. A little joke for both of us. To remember you for a while. Now when we feel down-hearted.

And we really need a lift. We think about our Brother, who's presence was a gift. Always remembered by Rae & Bonnie, Robin & Timmy.

WEBBER - In memory of Winston Webber, who passed away Dec. 14, 1980. What would we give, if we could say "hello" in the same old way. Now gone are the days we used to share. But in our hearts you were always there.

The gates of memory will never close. We miss you more than anyone knows. Who's presence was a gift. Always remembered by Donna, Eric & Victor.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

LOWERY - In loving memory of a dear son & brother, Harold Jr., who passed away Dec. 9, 1981.

A wonderful son & brother, not rich but proud. Merely one of the working crowd.

A smile to all, a heart of gold. One of the best the world could hold.

To this wonderful person came a sudden end. He died as he lived, every one's friend.

Always loved & sadly missed by Mom, Dad, brothers Neal & Chris. -11

WEBBER - In loving memory of a dear son & brother, Winston, who passed away on Dec. 14, 1980.

We little thought the end was near. And only those who have lost can tell.

The pain of parting without farewell. More each day we miss you, son & brother.

Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow.

That lies within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by Robert & Vera, & brother Harold. -11

WEBBER - In loving memory of dear brother & uncle, Winston, who passed away Dec. 14, 1980.

We often think of bygone days. When we were all together. The family chain is broken now.

But memories will live forever. To us you have not gone away. Nor have you travelled far.

Just entered God's eternal home. And left the gate ajar. Sadly missed & lovingly remembered by Bernice & Sean Outingdyke. -11

63 percent of population uses 45 per cent of natural gas

Back in 1949 when Harry Carlyle graduated from the University of British Columbia with a Bachelor of Applied Science degree in engineering physics, he didn't expect to become the Senior Vice President of Gulf Canada Resources.

And at that time, the Canadian Petroleum Association had not yet been launched, but Harry has persevered long enough in the oil patch to become the current chairman of the Board of Governors of that group of major Canadian oil and gas producers.

Speaking in his capacity as CPA chairman, Mr. Carlyle recently gave an appraisal in Vancouver of Canada's natural gas supply and demand situation.

Said Mr. Carlyle: Gas consumption in Central Canada—Ontario and Quebec—which represents 63 per cent of Canada's population accounts for only about 45 per cent of total consumption.

The prairies, with about 17 per cent of the population, uses 17 per cent of the natural gas production which totals slightly less than 3 trillion cubic feet per year. Of this total 1.7 trillion is used in Canada and about 1 trillion is exported to the United States.

Demand in Canada is expected to double to about 3.4 trillion cubic feet in Canada by the year 2000.

Some growth is forecast for the 1980s with the gas pipelines now pushing east of Montreal to markets hitherto untapped.

The federal government currently encourages conversion from imported oil to domestic natural gas by pricing natural gas at a substantial discount which currently amounts to about 30 per cent.

Export volumes of natural gas are expected to grow in the 1980s if the National Energy Board approves all or a portion of the applications for export currently on file. The applicants are asking for approval to export 27 trillion cubic over a period of 25 years.

In making its decisions for export, the NEB requires that the industry prove it has reserve volumes equal to 25 times current annual Canadian demand. It also takes into account reserves required to meet current export contracts and it also looks at the industry's ability to deliver its reserves to market.

It is Mr. Carlyle's opinion that the NEB may not approve all of the current applications on file, but he is optimistic that the Canadian natural gas industry will continue to find and develop new reserves of gas, particularly in the frontier and offshore regions.

Keep rolling in the snow

The secret of moving safely on slippery winter surfaces is to avoid abrupt changes in speed or direction, says the Ontario Safety League. Keep your eyes well ahead of your car so you can anticipate lane changes and turns and make them gradually.

Don't follow too closely—you need all the margin for error that you can get when roads are unpredictable. Slow down when approaching intersections or highway exits.

Be wary of warming trends. Ice is twice as slippery at minus 1 degree celsius as it is at minus 12 degrees. Ice patches in areas shaded by trees or underpasses can catch you by surprise. If you hit an icy spot—ease up on the gas, hold the wheel steady and roll through.

If you do start to slide, don't panic and don't hit the brakes. Take your foot off the gas and turn your wheels in the direction you want to go. When you feel the skid is corrected, straighten your wheels.

When slowing the car down on a slippery surface, squeeze the brakes by pushing down on them slowly until they begin to lock, then let up and repeat the process. The old method of pump braking can actually cause the newer disc brakes to lock because they do not release as quickly as the old drum brakes. Squeeze braking is not likely to lock up either kind of brake and also lets you feel what the car is doing and sense a lockup right away. The league advises drivers to practice the squeeze braking technique away from traffic to get a feel for how it affects your car.

Of course, the best advice for winter driving is to do everything more slowly.

Obituaries

EMMA IRENE BATEMAN

Mrs. Emma Irene Bateman, loving wife of the late Burton Bruce Bateman, formerly of 251 North Street Stirling, passed away Monday, December 6 in the Edward Street Manor, Stirling, aged 81.

She is survived by a son, R. Elwood Bateman of Stirling by her grandchildren, Firth Bateman and Glenn W. Bateman, Bonnie (Mrs. George Atkinson), and by two great grandchildren, Todd and Sarah Jane. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Munro of Oshawa, Ontario, and Mrs. Alice Pollack of Essex County, Ontario.

Mrs. Bateman was born July 50, 1901, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs.

Manley Wescott. She was predeceased by her brothers Wesley, Walter, Lorne Russel and Wilfred, and by a son, Robert F. Bateman.

Mrs. Bateman was a member of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, and a Past President of the Springbrook United Church Women.

Funeral services were held at the William J. Thompson Funeral Home, Stirling, and St. Paul's United Church, officiated by the Reverend Kenneth Russ.

Burial services were held at Mont Nebo Cemetery, Springbrook.

MATILDA MURIEL
COOKE

Mrs. Matilda (Tollie) Cooke (nee Fleming) of 104 Belleville Road, Stirling died in her home last Monday, November 29.

She is survived by her husband, Howard Clinton Cooke and her three children: George Cooke of Parry Sound, Ontario; Gerald Cooke of Markham, Ontario; and Lois, Mrs. Francis Thompson, of Moira, Ontario. She was also survived by her sister, Mrs. Edna Campbell of Belleville and eight grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. Cooke was a life-long member of the Ivanhoe Women's Institute.

Services were held December 1 at the Thompson Funeral Home, Stirling, officiated by the Reverend William Campbell. Burial services were held at Eggleton Cemetery.

FRANCES ISABEL PREST

Francis Isabel Prest died in Belleville General Hospital November 21, after a lengthy illness at age 41.

She is survived by her mother, Nellie Prest of Ivanhoe; a sister, Evelyn Prest of Ivanhoe and a brother Ivan Prest of Madoc.

Frances Isabel Prest, Ivanhoe, was well known and had many friends. She taught school in Marmora before becoming the teacher librarian for the three Stirling Public Schools prior to falling ill.

Frances had not been very robust for some years, but her indomitable courage carried her over more than one critical illness which might have daunted a weaker spirit.

Frances was a top honors student in her school career. She attended White Lake and Ivanhoe Public Schools and Centre Hastings High School.

She graduated from Queen's University with a B.A. degree and attended Peterborough Teachers' College.

She taught Sunday School at Bethesda United Church, White Lake, where she was a church steward.

Services were held November 25, at the McConnell Funeral Home, Madoc, by Rev. Roy McGrath and Rev. Gordon Adams. Soloist was Mrs. Donna McConnell.

Interment services were held at White Lake Cemetery.

Bearers were: Ronald Moffatt, Glen Bennett, George Patton, Maurice Gunning, Gary Anderson and Edmund Fleming.

Revised year eliminates November 11 holiday

A revised school year, announced last week by Education Minister Dr. Bette Stephenson, eliminates November 11th as a school holiday and will require schools to hold Remembrance services on that day.

Dr. Stephenson, in a statement to the Legislature said that if Remembrance Day falls on a Saturday or Sunday, Remembrance Day services will be held in the school on the preceding Friday. The change was recommended by the Royal Canadian Legion.

The school year will consist of 194 school days of which there will be a minimum of 185 instructional days. The March break has been moved ahead a week and will be the same week for all school boards. Easter Monday has also been fixed as a school holiday.

Boards will no longer have the option to designate another day as a holiday in lieu of Easter Monday. The Christmas vacation will be two full weeks but school boards will still be able to opt for a Christmas vacation that varies in length from year to year.

Up to nine of the 194 school days may be designated as professional activity days and a number of them must be devoted to curriculum development implementation and review. School boards will be required to evaluate activities undertaken on professional activity days.

The changes result from the work of a committee appointed by the Minister to study the school year. The committee met with educators and parents across the province and held public meetings in the major centres.

Miss Eastern Ontario pageant raises age

New age limits of 19 to 24 will be in effect November 1, 1983, for the Miss Ontario Pageant, Orvan Buchanan, President of the Miss Eastern Ontario Pageant, announced recently. The age limit for 1983 pageant has been moved up to comply with the Miss Canada and Miss Universe contests, Buchanan said in a press release.

Other changes are:
1) professional models may now enter and do not have to be representing a town, village or other sponsor. The pageant is now open to any girl wishing to sponsor herself or enter with other backing.
2) Effective this year the

Dr. Stephenson said that the changes will become effective on September 1, 1983.

pageant will include entries from an expanded area, including such locations as Peterborough and Cobourg.

3) The girls will now be permitted to wear panty hose during the bathing suit competition.

4) The contest will again take place in the town of Perth, at Perth and District Collegiate, on Saturday, March 26, 1983. Entries have already started to come into head office.

Again this year the program will conclude on Saturday night with a reception for the new queen and a dance.

For further information on pageant inquiries please call 267-5194.

DRAW WINNER

Kelly Stewart of Mar mora is $100 richer this week thanks to the Madoc and District Ringette Club. They sponsored a draw for a money doll and Kelly's name was drawn as the winner last Friday afternoon.

Papers as usual over holidays

Although our regular weekly editions will be published over the holiday season, the offices of The Review will be closed Friday, December 24, Monday, December 27 and Monday, January 3. Have a happy holiday.

elected and appointed positions in various organizations. He recently became the newly elected chairman of the Hastings County Board of Education.

"Our major problem is that of declining enrolments and the diminishing financial resources that decline produces," Mr. Burnside said to the board after his election was confirmed. "This situation, during a period of escalating costs and the poor performance of the local economy, coupled with the threat of a drastic reduction in grant-in-aids, does not present a very pleasant financial picture for the coming year," he said.

His message to the board was definitely a message of caution and restraints. "We are maintaining too much classroom space in many of our schools. Solutions must be found! Closure of schools is both unpleasant and unpopular, but is an issue that we must face squarely.

Somehow, we have to find funds to maintain and expand new and valuable programs, such as apprenticeships and computer training, as well as meet the requirements of Bill 82 covering special education for children with exceptionalities, while at the same time maintain at a high level our traditional curriculum," he said.

Mr. Burnside was one of the few experienced members of the Hastings County Board of Education who survived the recent elections. He brings to his new post a wealth of experience both on the Board of Education and through municipal politics.

At 57 years of age, Mr. Burnside has served as reeve of Madoc for 12 years, was the warden of Hastings County in 1964, has sat on such boards as the Belleville General Hospital, Child ren's Aid Society and the Maitland River Conservation Authority.

Having served on the Board of Education for six years as the representative for Madoc, Elzevir and Grimshawe, Marmora and Lake and Rawdon Townships and the village of Deloro, Madoc and Mar mora, Mr. Burnside has served as chairman and co-chairman of the personnel committee and has also served on accommodation, transportation, liaison, director of performance review and executive committees on the board.

A major problem facing Mr. Burnside and his board in the near future is the ratification of the elementary and secondary school teachers' contracts for the coming year. There is a possibility that agreement will be reached by Wednesday of this week providing both sides agree.

Tom Burnside was elected County Board of Education as Chairman of the Hastings

Is 8 per cent raise justified?

The Editor
A week ago today I arrived at my mother's house to do some work at approx. 11:30 a.m. I found two hydro trucks at Kram's, the house from their doors attracting my attention. I finished the job at 5:30 and, returning to my car, heard the diesel engine running.

What appeals me is that Ontario Hydro receives every penny from the consumer in fact another 8 per cent increase the coming year. If these irresponsible employees are allowed one and one-half hours for lunch (that I saw) how much time do their superiors enjoy for lunch? Do they ever check on the workers they are responsible for?

Let's ensure low electricity rates by contracting out most jobs to responsible and more efficient private contractors.

Sincerely yours
Ron Bunch

Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Township Council meetings

The Elzevir and Grimsthorpe Township Council met in the course of their business on Monday, November 29, 1982, at 7:30 p.m. with Reeve Jack Robinson presiding. Councillors: D. Brough, W. Mundle, H. Lewington, and L. Whitfield were in attendance.

Stewart Roy, road superintendent, gave his report on road work and repairs to equipment.

It was moved by L. Whitfield and seconded by W. Mundle, to approve a land severance application for Frederick Hauphoff. Carried.

A resolution was read from the Township of Faraday for an act to provide for the removal of certain wastes from the Malvern area. It was moved by L. Whitfield and seconded by D. Brough to receive and file it. Carried.

It was moved by W.

Mundle and seconded by H. Lewington to receive and file a request from the Tweed Chamber of Commerce for a donation to the Santa Claus parade. Carried.

It was moved by D. Brough and seconded by W. Mundle to receive and file a copy of an inventory of municipal facilities for the Hastings County Planning Board and a letter from the Village of Madoc stating that the dump would be open on Monday, Wednesday and Saturdays. Carried.

It was moved by D. Brough and seconded by W. Mundle to have the clerk receive subscriptions to the Municipal World for council members, the clerk and road superintendent. Carried.

It was moved by W. Mundle and seconded by H. Lewington to receive and file all other miscellaneous correspondence from the Ministry of Natural Resources, Municipal Affairs and Housing and from Employment and Immigration Canada, approving the Elzevir Township Works Program. The project was approved for hiring 3 people for a total of 60 work weeks, and a Federal grant of $15,000 in 1983. Carried.

It was moved by W. Mundle and seconded by D. Brough to approve OHRP Loan #1232000016. Carried.

It was moved by D. Brough and seconded by W. Mundle, to approve plans for Bell Canada's new lines in the township. Carried.

It was moved by L. Whitfield and seconded by H. Lewington, to approve the 1982 Tax Write-offs on the enclosed list. Carried.

L. Whitfield adjourned the meeting to meet next on December 1, 1982.

The Inaugural meeting of the newly elected 1982 council was held in the council chambers on Wednesday, December 1, 1982, at 7:30 p.m. with Reeve Jack Robinson presiding. Councillors: D. Brough, M. Fraser, H. Lewington and W. Mundle were present.

By-law #82-10 was first introduced, being a by-law to permit the first meeting of the council after a regular election to be held at such hour as may be fixed by council by by-law. Fraser. Carried. Signed, sealed and numbered #82-12.

D. Brough adjourned the meeting to meet next on January 3, 1983, or at the call of the reeve.

Brownie Christmas

BY S. JOHNSON

On December 14, the first Madoc Brownie Pack held a combined Enrolment and Christmas party. All Brownies were present and seven 'Tweenies' (new Brownies) were enrolled. Service Stars were presented to second and third year Brownies.

Following the enrolment ceremony, the older Brownies presented a play, Teddy Bear's Smile, and a Christmas poem. Santa's Patch, after which gifts were exchanged and lunch was served.

Brown Owl (Sheila Johnson) and Tawney Owl (Lois Budd), were extremely pleased with the number of mothers, fathers and other guests who came to share this occasion with the girls. Special thanks to the mothers who helped with costumes and crafts and lunch.

Madeline Jensen of 25 Seymour Street in Madoc is pictured here with the Mother's Morning Out

Gourmet Christmas Basket she won at the draw held on Friday morning of last week. Santa Claus made the draw after he visited the children, a highlight of the morning.

cheque of $2,000 to Lieutenant Buck of Tweed Salvation Army. While presenting the cheque, Mr.

Critch stated how happy he was to make the donation to an organization that is always involved in serving the community and those military personnel who need their help.

Sailfish, among the fastest of all creatures, have been known to swim 68 miles per hour.

Bell expects 6 million calls over holidays

On Christmas Day, traditionally the busiest phoning day of the year, Canadians are expected to keep the telephone network humming with some 6 million long distance calls to distant friends and relatives.

The whole Christmas-New Year period is generally busy with Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year's Eve contributing the highest call volumes.

"In the Belleville area, extra employees will be on duty over the holiday period to handle operated assisted long distance calls," says Donna Huffman, Bell Canada Manager in this area.

Most of the calls, though, will be dialed direct by customers who dial "1" plus the area code if needed and the number still the fastest and cheapest way to call long distance.

Donna warned that circuits for some calls may become overloaded at busy times because of the heavy demand on particular lines.

The peak periods to avoid, if possible, are weekdays from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. and holidays and weekends in the early afternoon and early evening.

Discount rates are available at certain times on customer dialed long distance calls. The details are provided in the front of the telephone book.

Bell Canada says the greatest number of overseas calls will be to the United Kingdom, Italy, Greece, Germany, Portugal, France and Yugoslavia. Callers should remember the time difference between Canada and the overseas country. It may mean the difference between an answered and an unanswered call.

Holiday calling can be smoother by planning ahead. Get numbers in advance. Directory Assistance for numbers in North America is available by dialing "1", the area code if needed, plus 555-1212. Overseas numbers can be obtained from Bell Operators now and kept handy for the actual call.

Bell Canada is promoting Long Distance Gift Certificates as Christmas gifts. They are sold in $20 packages with four $5 certificates in a greeting card. Customers can buy the certificates by visiting any Bell Phonecentre or Public Office, by calling the local Business Office or by calling 1-800-268-9191. Toll free to order them. A mail in coupon appears in account inserts that went out in recent customer bills.

Although the certificates are designated for payment of long distance calls, Bell says they can be used for paying a telephone bill of any type of telephone purchase customers make.

The certificates will be accepted by most major phone companies in Canada and the United States.

Douglas - Wickens wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas

November 27th, 1982, at RR 5, Madoc, the home of the bride's parents, Kimberly Ann Wickens became the bride of William John Douglas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wickens, RR 5, Madoc, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, also of RR 5, Madoc.

Reverend Roy McGrath performed the ceremony amidst friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a street length dress of white rose lace, over silk, with plunging sweetheart neckline, long sleeves ending with ruffles at the wrist. The flared skirt was gathered at the waist and accented with ribbon ties.

To complete her ensemble the bride wore a crown of baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of red roses with white baby's breath and white streamers. She wore a silver cross, a gift from her mother.

Karen Wickens, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor attired in a street length, flowered, sheer dress with bolero jacket, in old rose. She carried a bouquet of small rose and white carnations with baby's breath.

Laurie Wickens, niece of the bride, was flowergirl, dressed in a floor length gown in old rose with ribbon tie and carried a white basket of small carnations and baby's breath.

Bestman was James Westly Wickens of RR 5, Madoc, brother of the bride.

Following a reception held at Ivanhoe Recreation Centre approximately 200 guests enjoyed dancing to the music of D.J.'s Roy Kelley and Wayne Blair.

The happy couple are residing at RR 5, Madoc.

Springbrook UCW

The United Church Women hosted a lovely Christmas dinner at the church dining hall last Tuesday for the senior citizens of the Rawdon area. After dinner, all joined in singing some familiar Christmas carols, led by Mrs. Grace McKeown. A number of prayers were given and Reverend James Bryson extended thanks to the ladies on behalf of the guests.

The Springbrook Women's Institute held their Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Cassidy last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Mumby were hosts to a number of their relatives at a pre-Christmas dinner held at the Four Seasons Hotel in Belleville last Sunday.

Obituary

STANLEY BIRD IRVEN

Mr. Stanley Bird Irvén of 25 Green Street, Stirling, passed away at his residence Friday, December 10, aged 82.

He is survived by his wife, Kathleen Mabel (nee Jackson), and several nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irvén (nee Ostrom), and his brother, Roy Irvén. Stanley Irvén was born in Sidney Township, February 8, 1900, and lived in the area all his life.

An employee of the Department of Highways for 25 years, Mr. Irvén also farmed on the Sidney eighth concession. He was a member of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, a life member of the Stirling Masonic Lodge #69 G.R.C., a member of the Keystone Lodge, Stirling, and a lifelong member of the Stirling LOL.

Funeral services were held Monday, December 13 at the William J. Thompson Funeral Home, Stirling, Masonic Lodge services Sunday evening, December 12 in the Thompson Funeral Home, and the LOL memorial service was held immediately after at the funeral home.

Burial services were held at Stirling Cemetery, officiated by Reverend Kenneth Russ and Envoy Bram Humphries.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mumby, Mrs. Roma Jeffrey and Maryanne Jeffrey of Napanee, Mrs. Bernice Rollins of Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. Reg McKeown, Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKeown and children Allan and Leanne and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rollins and son Kevin.

Afterwards, a social evening was enjoyed at the Mumby home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chumbley of Belleville were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mason on Sunday.

Mrs. Elda Bateman and Debbie have moved into their home in the village, which they recently purchased from the estate of the late Mrs. Maggie Martin.

"Drinking is your business"

"If you drink and drive, that's our business"

"If you drink, that's your business. If you drink and drive, that's our business," is how the state trooper puts it in a well-known TV advertisement, but the Madoc detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police are confirming that message for the holiday season.

Constable Dennis Bush told Cembal Publications this week that they will be out using the Alcohol Level Evaluation Roadside Testers (ALERT). "We'll be doing random checks during the holiday season and, if during those checks, there is a suspicion that the driver has recently consumed alcohol, he will be asked to take the ALERT test."

Don't live under the false security that you can refuse the roadside test and get away with it. By law, the driver must take the test or be charged with failing to submit to the breathalyzer test, a charge which carries technically the same charge as failing the test - a fine of not more than $2,000 and not less than $50 or imprisonment for 6 months or both.

There are two of the ALERT systems that will be used by the Madoc OPP and Constable Bush warned that the coverage would be a little more intense than in the past. That pattern has already existed this year as approximately one-third more charges have been laid this year than last. All available officers will be out to try to ensure that no one is killed by a drinking driver.

Right now, you still have the option of not drinking while you drive and not having to worry about ALERT. If you do drink and drive and you are pulled over, and you are asked to take the test, the options are limited and they depend on what the ALERT tells the

Charges pending

Charges are pending against two local Madoc youths following three break-ins and one attempted break-in which occurred during the December 18-19 weekend.

The Madoc Review office, the Walter Lorenz Survey office, and the Madoc Public School were entered. An attempt was also made at entering the Madoc Canadian Tire Store.

The rear window of the Madoc Review office was broken and removed by the culprits, causing approximately $25 damage, and approximately $100 was grabbed from the cash-box, reports the Madoc detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

officer. The little machines have three settings that can mean the driver is free to continue on his way or he could end up being taken to the police station for the breathalyzer test. If instead, the warn light comes on, your driver's licence will be suspended immediately for twelve hours, after which you will be able to come back and pick up your licence. If you fail the roadside test, you go to the station for the breathalyzer.

Constable Bush got a very serious look on his face when he talked about failing the test. Obviously, they were prepared to do their job although they would much rather be able to wish everyone they a Merry Christmas and a safe and happy new year. The way you get treated by the OPP during the holidays depends entirely on whether you heed their warning or not. You decide.

Fowler - Bailey marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey

St. John's United Church was the setting for a lovely summer, double ring ceremony, that took place on July 31, 1982, at 6 p.m. Roxanne Marie Fowler and Christopher Daniel Bailey were united in marriage.

Roxanne is the daughter of Garfield and Sheila Fowler of Campbellford. Chris is the son of Frank and Marlene Bailey of Stirling. The marriage was officiated by D.D.M. Smith and Rev. J. Cox of Peterborough. The wedding music was played by Chuck Wilkins and four lovely solos were sung by Michelle Honey, friend of the bride and Lorie Hadley cousin of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked radiant in a long formal gown of white silk and organza. The fitted bodice featured a stand up mandarin collar, with inserts of Venice lace and ruffles front and back. The full bishop sleeves were cuffed with matching lace and flowers. The long full skirt fell softly into a chapel train. A Juliet cap covered in seed pearls and flowers held her two-tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion. Roxanne carried sweetheart roses, baby's breath and English ivy on a white marriage Bible, given to her by Eleanor Bailey, grandmother of the groom.

The maid of honor was Paula Snider of Oshawa.

friend of the bride. The bridesmaids were Kim Fowler, sister of the bride, Kelly Bailey, sister of the groom and Melissa Fowler, sister of the bride. All the bride's attendants wore identical formal gowns of blue silk jersey with a chiffon over skirt draped from the hip on one side to hem on the other, with a chiffon cape. They all wore matching wrist corsages of blue and white carnations, white daisies and baby's breath. The flowergirl, Kristina McEathron, cousin of the bride, was lovely in the baby blue lace and chiffon ruffled gown. She carried a white wicker basket of daisies and baby's breath.

The groom was attired in a grey tuxedo, with blue carnation boutonniere, matching the dresses of the bridesmaids.

The best man, was John Vandervort, friend of the groom; ushers were Michael Bailey, brother of the groom, Terry Bailey, brother of the groom, and Mark Montgomery, friend of the groom. All the groom's attendants wore identical grey tuxedos with ascot ties and blue carnation boutonnieres. After the wedding, the reception was at the Legion Branch, Campbellford, where the mother of the bride received the guests wearing a street-length dress of raspberry ice jersey with matching lace jacket. She wore a corsage of pale pink orchid and baby's breath and burgundy accessories. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a street-length pale green dress with chiffon waist length jacket. Her corsage was of pale pink sweetheart roses, with beige accessories.

Father of the bride wore a grey, pin striped, three-piece suit with white carnation and father of the groom wore a light camel three-piece suit and white carnation.

For their honeymoon trip, the bride wore a white sleeveless dress with pink overjacket. The corsage was sweetheart roses and ivy. The groom wore beige slacks and brown velvet shirt.

Prior to their marriage, the couple were honored by many showers.

The happy couple have taken up residence in Willowdale, Ontario, where they are both employed.

CHSC meeting

Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club held an executive meeting Saturday night, December 11. During the meeting, Constable Bob Bruce of Madoc Detachment drew the winning ticket on our snowmobile draw. Claude Cayer of Scarborough, Ontario, held the lucky ticket (no. 261). We appreciate all those who helped in making this draw a success.

We have set a date of January 9, 1983, for our Annual Poker Run. Registration time from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club welcomes all snowmobilers to their groomed trails, which are free of charge. Any contributions to the maintenance of these trails will be greatly appreciated.

Midgets now six games without a defeat

BY BILL DENISON

Not since November 12, have the Midgets known defeat in regular league action. This margin was widened Tuesday, December 14, at home, with a sound trouncing over Frankford 10-5. The Midgets now boast a neat 7 wins, 1 goal and 2 ties record to date.

After Bob Bronson put Madoc in the lead in the first period, Frankford netted two goals to lead 2-1 after one period.

However, that was it for Frankford, and Madoc were runaways with 5 straight

The third period saw a 4 goal split ending the affair: Madoc 10, Frankford 5.

Counting points for Madoc were: Kevin Bertrand, 2 goals, 2 assists; Steve Lamb, 2 goals; Bob Bronson, 2 goals; Eric Brinks, 1 goal, 3 assists; Byron Hobson, 1 goal, 2 assists; Doug Reid, 1 goal, 2 assists; Wayne McGowan, 1 goal, 1 assist; Kevin Fox, 3 assists; Peter Brady, 2 assists; Mike O'Riordan, 1 assist; and Mark Campbell, 1 assist.

Wednesday night, December 15, at Colborne, Madoc's unbeaten Peewees kept on winning, downing Colborne 8-5. Peewees now are 11 wins - 0 losses!!! The first period was a see-now affair seeing the tally read 3-3 at the end.

Madoc soared ahead with 4 unanswered counters in the second period making it 7-3.

One more goal for good measure in the third period ended it at 8-5 for Madoc. The big line of Brian and Brent Forestell and Stephen Bancroft counted 7 of the 8 goals.

Stephen Bancroft had a hot night and blazed in 4 goals and 3 assists. This gives Bancroft 26 goals and 25 assists for the year, thus far. Brian Forestell added 2 goals and 1 assist, while his brother, Brent, notched 1 goal and drew 2 assists; Trevor McTaggart added one goal; Derek Chapman, playing strong defence, gained 4 assists for the night; and David Wood had 1 assist to round out the scoring.

The whole Peewee team put in a good all round performance to earn the victory.

Good Show By Midgets

The Madoc Midgets entered a highly competitive Silver Streak Tournament in Sutton, Ontario, from December 17 to 19. There were 60 teams in the tournament. The boys managed to stay among the upper half, but were outclassed by higher level teams.

In the first game played against Six Nations, they were defeated 6-1. Byron Hobson's unassisted 2 goal was all Madoc could manage in the scoring department. They played an aggressive game getting over twice as many penalties as the other team. They played well, but just couldn't score goals.

The second team Madoc encountered was Sutton. Final count was 4-3 for Madoc.

This was an extremely rough battle. Again, Madoc received twice as many penalty minutes and for the last five minutes to play, they had only three men on the ice. However, Madoc held on to win the rough-house affair by one goal.

Scoring for Madoc were: Eric Brinks, 6 goals, 3 assists; Doug Reid, 1 goal, 1 assist; Wayne McGowan, 1 goal; Mark Tripp, 1 assist; and Kevin Bertrand, 1 assist.

The last fixture played by Madoc was lost by the count of 6-0 to Uxbridge. It was much closer than the score showed. All the breaks seemed to go to Uxbridge, with some unfortunate, shaky goaltending, allowing goals that should not have gone in.

Congratulations go out to the boys from Madoc for an excellent effort in a tournament against many teams with a higher classification than Madoc.

Houseleague action

BY BILL DENISON

First game: Canadians 7, Kings 3.

Two undefeated teams went down to defeat in house league play this week. The Kings lost 7-3 to the Canadians for their first loss. Canadians moved into first place with the victory.

Kings led 3-2 at one point in the game, but Canadians rallied for 5 straight unanswered goals for the victory.

Canadians' point getters: Wade Wickens, 2 goals, 1 assist; Angus McNeal, 2 goals; Sean Bush, 1 goal; Tom Delane, 1 goal; Tim Quinville, 1 goal; John Game 2: Flyers 11, Hawks 8.

In what was probably the closest battle in a really hard fought, back and forth, evenly played house league game, the Flyers upset the undefeated Hawks 11-8 for their first win of the year.

The Hawks had led 8-7 part way into the last period when the roof fell in, and the Flyers connected for 4 consecutive goals, winning the contest 11-8.

Point getters for Flyers: Brad Phillips, 3 goals, 3 assists; Dave Hobson, 3 goals, 1 assist; Keri Kos Chappelle, 2 assists; and Jason Francis, 1 assist. Scoring points for Kings: Joey Kehoe, 1 goal, 1 assist; Brad Davidson, 1 goal, 1 assist; Tim Bailey, 1 goal; and Scott Howard, 1 assist.

Gathering points for Hawks were: Andy Griffith, Hawks were: Andy Griffith, 4 goals; Jason Bailey, 2

nuk, 3 goals; Peter Damson, 2 goals, 1 assist; Cory Masters, 1 assist; Rodney Forbes, 1 assist; Jason Weickert, 1 assist; and Jim Bonter, 1 assist. In this recent battle, the

Novices win 2 straight

Sunday, December 19, the Madoc Novice team made it two consecutive wins over Campbellford. Last Sunday, December 12, in Campbellford the Madoc boys came home with a convincing 7-0 victory. In the return match here, Sunday night, it ended Madoc 11, Campbellford 5. The team record now is a very good 6-1.

In this recent battle, the goals, 1 assist; Shawn Gray, 1 goal, 2 assists; Tom Burnside, 1 goal; and Mark Bossio, 1 assist.

Games scheduled for December 23, 1982:

5:30 p.m. - Kings vs. Hawks
6:45 p.m. - Bruins vs. Flyers.

boys went "right to town" and ran up a big 5-0 first period lead.

The second period saw Madoc get slack on defense on various occasions, and Campbellford took this advantage and before the period was over the score read Madoc 7, Campbellford 4.

Stephen Osborne put on a good goalkeeping performance during his last half of the game and held out many tough Campbellford shots. Madoc outscored the visitors 4-1 in the third stanza, with the end result reading 11-5 in Madoc's favor.

Pointmen for Madoc were: Brad Phillips, 4 goals, 4 assists (this gives Brad 26 in the seven games played in the seven games played this season, plus a team leading 15 assists also!);

Madoc Novice team, playing in Campbellford, December 12, trounced them 7-0 for their second straight shutout on the weekend, and an overall average of 4 wins and only 1 loss on the year.

The Madoc lads again demonstrated an excellent whole team effort with strong defence work being key. Point getters were: Brad Phillips, 4 goals; Tim Bailey, 1 goal, 1 assist; Chad Bateman, 1 goal; Tom Burnside, 1 goal; and Dave Hobson, 1 assist.

Top Novice point makers to December 12: Brad Phillips, 21 goals, 10 assists, 31 points; Tim Bailey, 11 goals, 8 assists, 19 points.

December 12 report

Madoc Bantams move into first place tie

BY BILL DENISON

Madoc Bantam A team moved into a first-place tie with Colborne by defeating them, right on their home ice, 7-4, December 12.

It was a rough-house, thrilling rematch, as Colborne won here in Madoc, November 12, by the same score 7-4. In evening up the games against Colborne, Madoc had their work cut out for them.

Colborne scored first, but before the period was over, Madoc's Peter Ringelman and Stephen Needham had each notched a marker making it 2-1.

Peter Ringelman banged in his second to begin the second period, but Colborne brought the score to 3-2 after two periods.

The game was rough throughout with 29 penalties being handed out. At one time in the third period, Madoc had 7 men in the penalty box, and Colborne had 6. The third period saw goals traded back and forth, with red hot Peter Ringelman, rifling 2 more goals home, along with Chris Daniels and Danny Powell each scoring one. It finally ended 7-4 for Madoc. Lorne Bronson was outstanding in Madoc's goal making many starring stops. It was a good all out effort.

Jim Denison, assistant coach took over coaching the Madoc boys, in the absence of coach Richard Chapman. This was the second win for the team under his direction. The team's record is now an excellent 6 wins, 2 losses and 1 tie.

Point getters in the game: Peter Ringelman, 4 goals, 1 assist; Danny Powell, 1 goal, 3 assists; Stephen Needham, 1 goal, 1 assist; Chris Daniels, 1 goal; Duncan Koszwick, 2 assists; and David Denison, 1 assist.

Top Bantam pointmen to December 12: Peter Ringelman, 14 goals, 4 assists, 18 points; Duncan Koszwick, 6 goals, 11 assists, 17 points.

Happy Wanderers Senior Citizens' Club meetings

By VIOLA WANNAMAKER
The Happy Wanderers Senior Citizen Club 473 held their Christmas meeting December 8 at 2 o'clock in the church hall. There was a good attendance and all were happy to exchange gifts with each other.

The meeting opened with O Canada, with the president, Mrs. Maude Deline, presiding. A poem, "No Room at the Inn," was read. The Secretary, Mrs. Helen Wannamaker, read the minutes and the Treasurer, Mrs. Frankie Donaldson, gave a good report.

A thank you card was received from Mrs. Nina Storing, who has returned from the hospital. Mrs. Margaret Bosley thanked the club for cards received when her relative died.

A bus trip is planned for January 31, to Belleville to visit the new Senior Citizens' apartment building. There will be a show at the Cinema at Quinte Mall January 20. Mrs. Helen Wannamaker read a letter concerning Zone 18 meeting and Coston Parauik gave a report on the zone meeting.

There will be a picnic dinner July 7 at the high school.

There will be an executive meeting February 12. A Christmas supper was enjoyed by the Senior Citizens at the Orange Hall, December 10 at 5:30 p.m. The Senior Citizens are pleased to be able to have their meetings at Trinity United Church Hall, and the Drop-in Centre at the Legion for games and Dancercise exercises. The club also thanks the council for their help at the Information Booth. A donation will be sent to O'Hara's Mill operated by the Moira River Conservation Authority.

The next meeting will be January 12 at 2 o'clock. A card party will be held the first Wednesday of each month.

Mrs. Alma Blackburn presented Maude Deline with a jewel for her duties to the club for 1981-82. Maude thanked the club for their co-operation. There were gifts presented to Maude and Frankie Donaldson from Ruby Hamilton. Mr. Clarence Stevenson won the door prize.

Mrs. Alma Blackburn installed the officers for the next year. President - Mrs.

Mrs. Alexander hosts December W.I. meet

Mrs. Ed Alexander was hostess for the December meeting of the Queensborough WI, which was held in the hall on Wednesday evening, December 15.

Mrs. Roy Rollins, president, opened the meeting with a poem followed by O Canada, the Ode and Mary Stewart Collect.

The program was in charge of Mrs. A. Sutton, which began with piano solos by Angus and Laura McNeil. This was followed by a puppet show on the Christmas theme titled The Magic Box, which was very interesting. Rebecca Best played several Christmas carols on the violin.

Jennie Lewis and Nicky Devolin then sang a couple of songs and led in a singing of carols by everyone.

Mrs. Arthur Holmes read a couple of selections, Poor little Penny Baxter and Grandma's Taking Dancing Lessons.

Mr. George Best then presented a pantomime, which was enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Sutton concluded the program with a reading.

The business meeting followed the program. The Roll Call, Bring a Christmas Tree Ornament to Exchange, was answered by 18 members. There were a number of visitors present.

It was decided to send Mrs. George Best and Mrs. J. Bagshaw to the training school for the next 4 H girls' club coming up in the new year.

An invitation to attend Madoc Institute's January meeting was read. The meeting closed with the Queen and lunch was served by the hostess and assistants.

Christmas message

Once again, as the Christian world prepares to celebrate the birth of Christ which gives each of us so much promise for the future, I would like to extend to you all my very best wishes.

Christmas is a time for spiritual renewal and reminds Christians throughout the world that God stands and directs the broad movement of history, and gives continuity to the world's course. In this time of celebration and reflection, let us not forget those around us and remember that friendship is still the most effective weapon in the struggle against human suffering.

In looking to the future, we cannot help but be cheered by the potential of Canada in human and natural resources. As Canadians and as residents of Hastings Frontenac and Lennox and Addington we will play an important role to forge a bright future, confident in ourselves and in our country.

As I send you this message at this Christmas Season, it is with a sincere wish that Christ will be more real to you and yours than ever before. Your encouragement and support during this difficult period has made it possible for me to carry on the work so necessary and I sincerely thank you from the bottom of my heart for all of this.

Merry Christmas - Happy New Year.

Novices play four

The Stirling Novice team played four games this week.

On Tuesday, December 14, they travelled to Keene and defeated them 5-2. Goals were scored by Trevor Torrance, Rob Donohue, Craig Kearse, Jeff MacRae, and Jeff Ashley. Picking up assists were Jason Stark, Eric Manlow, Todd Reid, Mike Moore, Danny Striker, Casey Ruttan and Jeff Ashley.

On Friday night, they played an exhibition game against Madoc and were defeated 4-3. Stirling goals were scored by Trevor Torrance, 2 (assisted by Eric Manlow), and Dagny Striker, 1.

The Cooney Farms Blues

outscored Warkworth by 4-1 in Saturday's game. Trevor Torrance had a hat trick and Jason Stark put one in the net. Assists went to Craig Kearse, Todd Reid, Trevor Torrance and Casey Ruttan.

On Sunday, December 19, the boys played an excellent game and defeated Warsaw 9-0. Goals were scored by Trevor Torrance, 3; Brad Ling, 2; Jeff Ashley, Rob Donohue, Danny Striker and Eric Manlow. Everyone picked up at least one assist. Now that's great team work! Scott Sharp was in net for the shutout.

In the league standings, the Novices have a 10 win, 0 loss record.

Madoc W.I. meeting

By A.B. HAGERMAN

The Christmas meeting of Madoc Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Vera Hell. Mrs. Alma Winslow, president, read a poem on the ABCs of Christmas to set the mood.

The ode and Mary Stewart collect were repeated in unison.

Mrs. Jean Keene at the piano, led the group in a medley of Christmas carols. The roll call, A Christmas custom from another land, was answered by 15 members and there were four visitors. Many interesting Christmas customs exist in European countries.

Jean Keene, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and the financial report. The correspondence was dealt with, a letter from the co-ordinator of the Materi Girls Centre had been received and a card from the sponsored girl there.

The January meeting will be a pot-luck dinner and each member is requested to bring two dishes. Queenboro WI are to be our guests. The guest speaker is our Dairy Princess.

The fourth and last meeting of the quilting course is on January 12 from 9 to 12 noon. Members to be sure to bring their completed articles.

A comparison of today's prices and those in the Sears Christmas Wish Book for the year 1933 proved almost unbelievable. The two junior visitors took up

St. Paul's United Church, Stirling was the setting for the August 28 wedding of Cheryl Ann Morton and Daniel Gerrard Walsh. Reverend Ken Russ and Father Patrick Kelly officiated at the 4:30 ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Morton, Stirling; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Walsh, Corbyville.

Mr. Evan Bogart was the organist, accompanied by Mr. Francis Sager, who played for the soloist. Frank Wallwork accompanying her on guitar singing A Wedding Prayer which he composed.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor-length gown of chiffon over satin. It featured an empire waist, with a lace bodice, and a stand-up collar with wide lace cuffs. Her derby hat, trimmed with lace, gathered, back forming a mid-length train. She carried a bouquet of amethyst roses mixed with pink carnations and white satin ribbon flowing from the bouquet: She wore a gold locket, which belonged to her grandmother.

Matron of honor, Janice Storms, sister of the bride, wore a full-length pink jersey gown with spaghetti straps. It was accented by a sheer floral jacket gathered at the waist with ribbon and ruffles at the wrists and neck.

She wore a white hat accented with amethyst roses and pink carnations and carried a lace fan with the same flowers.

Bridesmaids, Cindy Stailkovich, Kelly Lott, friends of the bride, and Tanya

Lynch, niece of the groom, wore mauve dresses identical to that of the matron of honor. They also wore hats and carried fans, identical to that of the matron of honor.

Jennifer Walsh, niece of the groom, was the flower-girl. She wore a pink, floor-length polyester gown featuring a flowered lace ruffle and full sleeves, matching the matron of honor. She carried a "lace basket with flowers matching the bridesmaids and wore flowers in her hair. Ring bearer was Mark Storms, nephew of the bride, wearing a three-piece grey suit, with white velvet bow tie and white shoes. He carried a white heart-shaped satin pillow.

The late Jack Walsh, brother of the groom, was best man, assisted by ushers Vincent Bremont, friend of the groom, Jeff Morton, brother of the bride, and Mike Gilmor, friend of the groom. The groom and his attendants all wore grey tuxedos.

The guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a floor length pink polyester gown, with a sheer overlay bodice and a three-quarter length overlay skirt. She wore an orchid corsage. She was assisted by the groom's mother, wearing a floor length yellow polyester dress with a matching jacket. She also wore an orchid corsage.

A dinner and dance was held at the Batavia Community Center. After a honeymoon to points north, they have taken up residence at 544 Dundas St. East, Belleville.

Madoc man at Maple Flag air exercise

By WALTER W.
CROMWELL

Recently, Mr. Cromwell accepted an invitation from the National Defence Department of Information Services, Ottawa, to visit CFB Edmonton and the Maple Flag air exercise at CFB Cold Lake, Alberta from October 3 through October 8. Flying from CFB Trenton, he was shown operations of the Air Rescue Co-ordination Center, Survival Training School and several flying squadrons. A trip was taken to CFB Greisback to see the Canadian Airborne Training Center and the School of Aeromedicine. In midweek it was on to CFB Cold Lake to observe over 100 aircraft and crews involved in Maple Flag, saw live firings of weapons by Canadian pilots and attended over a dozen lectures and briefings on different aspects of operations at military facilities in Western Canada.

Mr. Cromwell is a resident of Madoc Township, writer, woodcarver and air lore buff.

northern Alberta. A highly detailed map is produced showing the relative positions of the aggressor forces and the defending units. Armed with this intelligence report, American and Canadian crews, operating F-111, A-7, F-16, A-10 and CF-104 aircraft are required to destroy targets to the rear of the enemy battle line.

In opposition, additional pilots are assigned the role of the enemy, whose duty it is to launch anti-air counter measures. Each mission commander has the complete freedom to devise whatever tactics he believes will accomplish the assigned task within the timescale laid down by the intelligence briefing.

Interestingly enough, enemy and defending forces are divided numerically in a 2 to 1 ratio, the "Good Guys" getting the short end of the stick. This imbalance is in direct relationship to how military planners perceive the overall East-West threat. The Warsaw Pact countries have an advantage in numbers, our advantage lies in the effective application of the ("Triple T") training, tactics and technology.

Colonel Tom Hall, Commanding Officer of this year's Maple Flag, when asked about the outcome of this battle, remarked with a sly grin, "Not to worry, by the end of the two weeks, whether by chance or by design, the defending forces will drive the aggressor back to the original battle line."

A typical mission begins in the early predawn light as a flight of A-10 Thunderbolts lifts off from Cold Lake and heads for the Primrose Range. Dropping to 100 feet or less, they fan out and penetrate the airspace being monitored by the "Enemy forces".

Hugging the tree line, skimming below the horizon over small lakes and marshes, so as not to be "painted" by the enemy radar, they seek their targets. When only a mile or so from their objective, they "pop up" to 400 feet, roll inverted and sight the targets through the top of their canopies. A quick weapons selection, a dive and several hundred rounds of 30mm cannon shells will shower down on the enemy tanks dispersed below among the trees.

Exit is made from the same perspiration inducing height of 100 feet and less. All the while enemy aggressor aircraft will be searching, trying to pick out the camouflaged A-10s skimming the tree tops. Little over an hour after starting their mission, the flight of A-10s settle back onto the 12,600 foot runway, pleased with their success and with their luck.

Pleased with their luck for in addition to the obvious threat posed by the enemy fighters, the A-10

pilots had to avoid detection by radar guided anti-aircraft guns and surface to air missile sites that are scattered over the range. These electronic monitoring sites record the aerial activity and relay the information to the Maple Flag Command. At the end of the day's operations, after debriefing aircrews and correlating their first hand assessments with the electronic feed back, the overall flow of the battle is adjusted in readiness for the next day's intelligence briefing.

Later that afternoon, I asked Major Bill Ames, an A-10 pilot with the 174th Tactical Fighter Wing from Syracuse, New York, how his mission had gone. "Very well, we got into our targets and out again without being detected by the first movers (fighters). I think our air cover kept them so busy they didn't have time to worry about us." Had his other missions been as successful as the last one he flew? "Not all, I've had worse, much worse but everyone learns."

During pilot debriefings, egos often receive minor dents but are easily repaired by the invaluable experience gained. When the Falklands crisis became a hot war, Royal Air Force Harrier jump-jets had just completed two weeks of air combat training during April at Maple Flag No. 9. No doubt the lessons absorbed by the British while honing their fighting skills played no small part in their spectacular aerial successes during their deployment in those troubled islands.

The Israeli Air Force is another case in point.

Fighter pilots received their transitional training on the new F-15 and F-16 aircraft in the United States. These exchange pilots take part in Red Flag meets in the southern U.S., the counterpart to our northern Maple Flag. The 79 air combat victories against the Syrians with no IAF losses is testimony to the value and the quality of these exercises. As a result of the demonstrated value of the meets, our NATO allies, namely Italy, Germany, Denmark and the Netherlands will be participating in future Maple Flags in Canada.

With the arrival of Canada's new fighter aircraft this fall, the CF-18 Hornet, CFB Cold Lake will be opening a new era in Canada's aviation history. We now have the "state of the art" and are building and installing up-to-date support facilities. A new CF-18 flight simulator for pilot training, and the multi-million dollar Air Combat Manoeuvre Radar system, is the most exciting addition, along with extra maintenance hangers, electronics bays and new housing for the over 600 personnel that will swell the base's population.

It was evident in conversations with military personnel from the newest recruit to unit commanders that some problems do exist throughout the services. A positive "make do" attitude is also evident however.

Major J. Zuanatas, Commanding Officer of 447 Squadron who flies the free world's largest helicopter, the CH-147 Chinook, called it, "a collection of spare parts flying in close formation." Keeping those parts airborne has on occasion resulted in the cannibalization of one to keep the others operational. Through necessity the squadron technicians have increased the time between major overhauls to 400 hours compared with 100 hours for the same aircraft type operated by U.S. Forces. They have turned a liability into an asset - excellent maintenance!

Overall, if the Maple Flag exercises and CFB Cold

Lake are an accurate yard stick for measuring the performance of our military, then I feel as Canadians we are getting a fair if not a hefty return on our defence dollar. Irrespective of political considerations, fiscal monetary restraints and those rivalries between Air, Sea and Land elements of the Unified Forces that we hear so much about the coast to coast mix of dedicated people makes the Canadian Armed Forces work and work well.

At a time when the catch words of our society are, average, adequate and satisfactory, I found it personally refreshing to be involved with people who consider being "outstanding" the norm, and being "excellent" the goal.

Rebekah Assembly President Visits

By EVA L. BROWNSON

On December 9, 1982, Sisters of Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, Madoc, partook of a delicious turkey dinner and exchange of Christmas gifts. Following this, a draw took place; the beautiful quilt drawn by Sister Bernice Hall, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, will be going to White Horse, Yukon, won by Angie Richardson. The hanging macramé table drawn by Sister Lillian Johnson, District Deputy President, was won by Mrs. Joan Campbell, and the floral arrangement won by Mrs. Helen Hardy drawn by Sister Pat Saboda from Stirling.

Later, Noble Grand Sister Wanda Dunford welcomed 23 members of Oakdale Lodge and 6 visitors from Belleville, Stirling and Campbellford. Sister Bernice Hall, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, was introduced by Sister Reta Allote and Sister Karen Bailey. Grand Lodge soloist, sang Amazing Grace for her. Sister Beverly McKerracher, Grand Lodge Chaplain, was introduced by Sister Jean Scott. Sister Hazel Thompson in-

During the evening, Sister Helen Fleming was presented with a 15-year jewel by Sister Hazel Thompson; Sister Helen Wannamaker was presented with a 15-year jewel by her daughter, Sister Norma Norman and her husband Brother Emil Wannamaker. Sister Anna Carman presented her husband, Brother Delbert Carman, with an engraved lighter on behalf of the lodge. The following Sisters will receive jewels later as they were not present: Sister Mary Danford, Sister Elvie Brownson, Sister Helen Chambers, Sister Ruby Danford and Sister Sadie Miller.

Noble Grand Sister Wanda Danford, announced that the next card party would be on January 3, 1983, at 7:30 p.m.

After lodge was closed, Sisters Bernice Clarke, Jean Bailey with soloist Eileen Yzeroff, presented a humorous skit.

To date, there will be three new members initiated in Oakdale Lodge in the New Year.

The First Christmas

When I say "Christmas" what comes first into your mind? Santa Claus? Reindeer? Presents? Well, to tell you the truth, shouldn't it be Mary and Joseph and baby Jesus? Well, here's my idea of the first Christmas. A long, long time ago in Nazareth, there was a young maiden named Mary. One day, while Mary was sleeping, she had a dream. In her dream, the angel of the Lord came down and spoke to her. "You will have a baby," he said. "It will be God's only son, and you are to name the baby Jesus." All of a sudden the angel disappeared, and Mary woke up. She knew it was no dream, and rushed happily over to her next door neighbor, and told her the whole story. Her neighbor was happy for her. Now Mary had a boyfriend, who was a carpenter named Joseph, and they were in love. Now God knew this and a while later the same thing happened to Joseph. He told him like Mary only maybe a bit different. And so later on, Mary and Joseph got engaged. Now God had it all planned, and it came to rule by Caesar Augustus that everybody must go back to their own town, city village or country so they could be counted and have the population written down. Now, Mary and Joseph weren't very rich, but were able to afford one donkey to put everything on. It took about two days and one night, but they finally made it. On their journey or trip, Mary rode on the donkey. And when they reached Bethlehem, they went probably to the nearest inn and asked for a room. Now even though Mary was having a baby, they could find no other than a lodging stable and a manger for a bed. Also that night, shepherds were watching their flock or herd of sheep, when the angel of the Lord came upon them. And they were very afraid. "Fear not," said the angel, who was Gabriel. "For I bring you great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you this day in the city of David, a Saviour is born which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you. You shall find the baby wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger. And suddenly there was a whole bunch of heavenly hosts, saying 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men.' And then they disappeared. The shepherds talked this over and knew this was truly a sign from God. So they set off about two miles and two blocks to us. And there they found him, just as the angel had predicted. And so they went around the blocks, yelling, "The Saviour is born! The Saviour is born!" Now probably that same night too, the astronomers the same star and told King Herod of this. And so King Herod called for his wise men, and told him to find him so he may worship him also. Now King Herod, of course, only wanted to find baby Jesus so he might kill him because he was afraid that he might grow up and rule over his land as well as King Herod. Finally, they reached baby Jesus, who was now a baby no longer, and they offered him gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Mary and Joseph accepted the money and perfume and the wise men set off again. But God told them in a dream not to go back to Herod, but back to their own country, so that Herod could not find out about Jesus. Later on God told Joseph in a dream to go back to Egypt, and that he did. And that is why we celebrate Christmas. So Merry Christmas everyone!

Garfield Learns a Valuable Lesson About Giving

"Hmmm, let me see. Odie, Jon, Lyman, Nermal," Garfield said as he was busy writing his Christmas list. "I wonder what each of them will give me this year," he muttered as he took a bit of the huge peanut-butter-and-jelly sandwich laying beside him. He thought for a moment and then said, "Jon will probably get me a dumb ribbon to tie around my neck; Nermal will make me another one of those cute, little fuzzy things you don't know what to do with; Odie won't get me anything because he's too dumb; and Lyman will give me a picture of himself I'm supposed to cherish forever. Oh boy, some holiday!"

Just then Jon, Garfield's owner, entered the room with Nermal, a cute, lovable cat that always has to be reminded by Garfield that cute is tasteless. "Garfield, how many times must I tell you not to make your paw prints in my drawing room?" asked Jon. Jon left the room, disgusted.

"Oh, your Christmas list," said Nermal. "Interesting."

"Hey that's none of your beeswax," said Garfield slapping Nermal on the poor kitten's nose. Nermal left the room whining.

"The little rat," Garfield muttered. "He's always sticking that lovable, little nose of his into everyone else's things. Boy, I guess I'm stuck with a bunch of dumb gifts this year, again."

That night it was Christmas Eve. Garfield slept in his kitty-box next to the tree. Later that night at about twelve o'clock something woke him up. There before him stood a tall, fat figure in red with a white beard. "Santa Claus," yelled Garfield. "It's you!"

"Yes, Garfield, I heard you talking about all those things your family will probably get you and you're right, but just remember one thing, any gift ever given to you will always be from the bottom of their heart and it shows they care," informed Santa. "Merry Christmas!"

The next day everyone sprang out of bed and rushed to the tree. Garfield remembered what Santa said and smiled and laughed the whole day long. It was the best Christmas ever.

What do you think Christmas is all about?

Do you think Christmas is all about Santa Claus? Getting presents? Or the Christmas dinner? Well you're wrong! Christmas is all about Jesus, and do you know how Christmas got its name? From the Christ Jesus of course and I'm going to tell you about him.

Mary and Joseph (Jesus mother and step-father) were travelling to Bethlehem. The angel Gabriel told them that Bethlehem was the place where, their son Jesus would be born. When they got to Bethlehem they found out there was no place for them to sleep that night. An innkeeper told them that there was a stable out behind the inn and at least they'd have a roof over their heads. In the middle of the night baby Jesus was born. There was a big star over top of the stable. Far away three shepherds were watching their sheep. An angel came up to them and said, "In a little town of Bethlehem, a Saviour is born. Follow that star and it will lead you to him." So they went. Then the angel went to three wisemen and said, "In a little town of Bethlehem a Saviour is born. Follow that star. The wisemen and shepherds brought gifts to the Christ Jesus and worshipped him. That is the story of how Jesus Christ was born. So now you should know the true meaning of Christmas."

The Christmas Surprise

It was the month of December and the snow was falling very heavily. It was two weeks until Christmas and mom was in her bedroom wrapping gifts. The Christmas tree that dad had got from the woods was decorated very beautifully. My two brothers were outside making a snowman, so I decided to take a little peek in my mother's room to see what I had got for Christmas. I saw a wrapped up package addressed to Tommy from Santa Claus. Beside that package there was another package that had a big lump in it. Then all of a sudden the big lump moved! What could it be? The package was addressed to Karen. Love Santa Claus. For the next week and a half I was so puzzled. Then it came Christmas Eve and I couldn't wait until Christmas morning. It finally came and I ran into the living room and opened the package. I couldn't believe my eyes! There was a beautiful puppy with a big red ribbon on his neck. That was the best Christmas I ever had!

Santa Gets Stuck

One night I lay upon my pillow waiting for Santa to come. My brother said there wasn't any such thing, but I was out to prove him wrong! My camera lay beside my bed on my little night stand. That's when I hear him! At first I heard, "Help! Help! Help!" (I jumped out of bed and wouldn't you know it, forgot my camera!) scurried down the hall and down the stairs. What a sight! There was Santa, but only half of him was to be seen! Where was the other half you ask? Stuck in the chimney, that's where!

"Help! Help!" he cried. "Please get me down!" Well here was my chance to prove my brother wrong. So I said, "Wait a minute, I have to wake up my brother and prove to him your real!"

"No! No!" pleaded Santa. "Or my being here would be a waste of time."
"But you don't understand," I replied. "He is always bugging me about it!"
"Now you listen here, I watch every move you make and your brother only has one present, that's a big lump of coal!"
At Santa's reply I was over at the chimney and tugging at the end of his coat. Finally after an hour of tugging, Santa was out.
He said, "You have been a good girl and deserve lots of presents and candies, but go to bed now." I jumped for joy then hurried off to bed.

When I woke there they were, lots and lots of presents and candies. I was as happy as a kitten eating a big fish. As for my brother he changed his mind about Santa.

The Christmas Robber

One dark Christmas night, Jane was lying in bed waiting for Santa. She could not sleep. She was too busy thinking of all the presents she would get. Jane's dad was not home, but he would be soon. Spots, her puppy, started barking. In the distance she could hear something; it seemed to be coming from the living room. She crept out of bed and put on her old raggy skipper. (She hoped she would get new ones for Christmas). She opened the door, went to the living room and peeked around the corner. It was only Jane's dad. Jane rushed to her bedroom. She pretended she was asleep. Her father came in and kissed her goodnight. When morning came Jane was the first one up. Jane was so excited. But when she went out to the tree it was bare. She called her mom and dad. They said it was robbers. Luckily her mom and dad had kept their presents for Jane hidden. Jane had a merry Christmas anyway.

The Little Evergreen Tree that was Afraid

Once upon a time, one day in the forest, there was a little evergreen tree. This little evergreen tree was very, very worried because it was coming close to Christmas and he was wondering if he was going to be a Christmas tree! As the days passed, he was beginning to become very agitated. Of course, he did not want to be a Christmas tree at seven years of age, but there was a very good chance that he would be.

One day as he woke up from his pleasant sleep, he was very flabbergasted to see one individual with a hatchet in his grasp. "Oh no, will this mean I am going to be chopped down to be a ridiculous Christmas tree, that will, after Christmas, be left for dead?" he wondered. Just then, the individual came up to the tree right next to him. The little evergreen tree was in deep sorrow for his best friend had been taken away to become a Christmas tree. He was also very relieved.

There was one week left until Christmas and the little evergreen tree was very jovial because he thought, by now, everybody would have a Christmas tree. Just then, there was the sound of leaves being trampled on. Then, out of nowhere, there was a little boy that was around ten years old. The boy then went over to the tree with an axe in his hand and started to chop him down. "Ow! Ouch! leave me alone!" he cried. The boy did not hear him and continued to cut him down. He then carried the tree over to a navy blue truck. The little fir tree then went for a long ride until they came to a fair sized house. The boy picked the little tree up and carried him into the house. (Remember, he wasn't very big.) They then stood him up beside the fireplace and put beautiful decorations all over him. At this point, he was very depressed. Next, they put boxes underneath him, big and small.

The days passed. This was now Christmas eve and everyone was asleep. Just then, on the roof, there was a sound, like reindeer walking. All of a sudden somebody with a long, white beard and a red suit came down the chimney with a Ho! Ho! Ho!

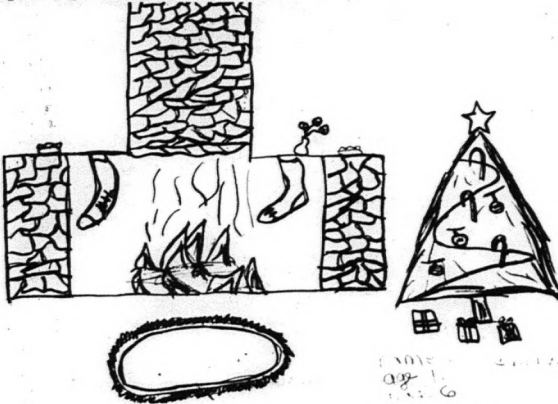

The little tree thought, "Who could this be?" Santa Claus looked over at the little Christmas tree and said, "My, what a nice Christmas tree!" The tree replied, "Thank you." "I could have sworn that that little Christmas tree spoke," said Santa.

"I did. You said, my what a nice Christmas tree and I said thank you," said the tree.

"Well, why do you sound so sad little Christmas tree? Christmas is a time to be happy!" "They cut off my roots and I will be dead in a few days without knowing my purpose," replied the tree. "Well little Christmas tree, you let people admire your beauty and put Christmas presents underneath you and this makes people happy. This is your purpose. "Oh, thank you Santa Claus, thank you for telling me my purpose here. Goodbye, Santa Claus." "Goodbye little tree, goodbye!" said Santa. "Merry Christmas!"

The Gift from God

Many years ago there lived an old man named Matthew. Matthew was very old and he was also very kind. He had been alone ever since he turned thirteen. He was now tending his master's flock up on a hill in the darkness.

He sat under the big oak tree which grew with him from seed years ago. He had watched it grow up and now it towered over all the other trees around. Matthew saw down on a large flat rock which was under his favourite tree. He had been with his master since he was thirteen and was happy to be with him yet.

The next morning Matthew herded his flock down the hillside and into the field. Here, they would graze until evening and then be herded back up into the hills.

Matthew also ran the stables for his master during the day. He had to clean and feed all the donkeys and sell them at a profit. Donkeys were in demand now that King Herod had ordered a Census throughout the land.

Matthew's master had ordered him to sell them for the highest price and if this meant taking all the money they had, he was to do so. But, Matthew was not a greedy cold "business man". At times, he would make the difference in price from his own pocket to help some poor buyer.

The next day when Matthew came down from the hills, his master was there to meet him. He told him not to sell anymore donkeys to anyone because the few he had left were to be sold to very important friends he had. Matthew then went in and closed the stable door and went on about his work.

Later on in the day, Matthew heard a faint knock on the door. He thought it was just somebody wanting a donkey so he didn't bother answering. Then, the door opened and in walked a lady and her husband. She was the most beautiful lady Matthew had ever seen. Very quietly she came over and asked him if they could buy a donkey. Matthew could tell that they had little money and were desperate to be on their way. He was about to refuse but then some strange feeling came over him. He seemed to know they needed that donkey for a very special reason. The shepherd nodded his head and went and brought out the best donkey which was left in the stable. The man offered some money but Matthew refused. So then they were on their way. Matthew watched them until they were out of sight and then went back to work.

That evening as Matthew was about to take his flock up into the hills, his master stopped. Matthew could tell he was furious because he had sold the donkey. He told him that after tonight, he could no longer work for him and he was to get off his land by morning. He handed him his weekly pay and was off. Poor Matthew. He was alone again and nowhere to stay. He wouldn't be able to get another job because of his age and his health was not the very best. Matthew sadly herded his flock up into the fields and sat down under the mighty oak tree. He would never again watch his flock and sit under this tree. Matthew began to weep when an Angel of the Lord appeared to him. She told him to follow the bright star and he would see a gift to the world greater than any gift ever known or ever to come. She also told him the star would shine upon it. Matthew stopped weeping. He sat there amazed at what he had just seen. He slowly got up and took his staff and looked to the sky. There was the star shining brighter than any star in the dark sky. He started on the long journey to see the world's gift from God. The journey was long and difficult especially to an elderly man like Matthew. But he kept on. He had an urge inside of him that kept him going. He kept on when he noticed that the star seemed to be brighter than ever. It was shining on a tiny, brown stable. There were angels singing and other shepherds watching on and three wise men with their precious gifts were there. Matthew went closer until he was at the door of the stable. There, in the arms of the lady to which he had given the donkey which cost him his job, lay a tiny baby. But this was the most beautiful baby Matthew had ever seen. It was Christ of Lord, the gift from God. Mary told Matthew to come forward. He touched the baby's hand. A strange but wonderful feeling came over him.

There, the old shepherd died. But this time he was not alone. He was with people who cared and were kinder than anyone else in the world. Matthew had died peaceful and happy, holding the hand of Christ our Lord.

Christmas Eve

On Christmas Eve when everyone sleeps,
No one can look, no one peeps,
While Santa's working, he sings a song.

And then at midnight the clock goes bing bong, Santa's done now and away he went.

And left the presents he had sent.

In the morning there are presents the children receive.

And that is the end of

CHRISTMAS EVE!

The Eve Santa was put in a Squeeze

I lay in bed on Christmas morn.
Listening for my brother
Lorne.

But he was, of course
asleep.
Not letting out the slightest peep.

I wanted to go down and look,
To see if I got my story
book.

Then the moment came.
I said "I'm not late"

Into the family room I crept.
I yelled out and almost wept.

"Santa hasn't come!"
Then a voice said, "I came, some"

"I'm stuck in the chimney,"
he said.

I ran up to my parents bed.

I tried to get it through their head.

Then finally I yelled out and said,

"Come down and look And see if I got my story
book."

He's in the chimney.
Then, he called to my family.

"We'll have to wait till I get lean."
So we fed him not a bean.

Then when he was ready to go,
He came down the chimney,
oh, so, slow.

When it was night,
He started on his flight.

To give the children their late toys,
And that he did without a noise.

Jenny and Todd learn a Lesson

One wintery day near Christmas, Jenny and Todd were playing out in the snow.
"Dinner!" called their mother from the window! But Jenny and Todd did not obey, they just kept on playing. Finally their mother yelled again, but they still disobeyed. "If you don't hurry up," said her mother. "Santa Claus won't be on time."
So they hurried towards their "two floor" farm house. They hung up their coats and sat down at the dinner table.
After the dishes were cleared up, they went to bed.
"Alright! Alright! I'll get up," said Todd sleepily.
"What's the hurry?"
"Don't you know what day this is?" asked Jenny.
"Yes. It's December the twenty fourth. Don't you understand it is Christmas Eve. Santa's going to come tonight!" replied Jenny excitedly.

"So what?" said Todd.
"Who cares?"
Todd Albert Bradford for your fourteen years did I ever hear you say that once?
"That's because I'm three years older than you," replied Todd.
"Santa's going to be late if you don't behave yourselves," said their father.
The day passed quickly and Jenny and Todd went to bed.
The next morning both children raced to see their stocking, but they were empty.
"I told you he would be late. Santa Claus never comes on time if you are bad children," commented

Santa Arrives in a Chevy

This was the before Christmas, when everyone was in bed waiting for Santa Claus. Suddenly there was a noise and it woke up Peter, the children's father. Peter looked out the window and he saw a 59 CHEVY and eight reindeer pulling the car! It was Santa Claus. Peter looked surprised! Santa Claus got out of the car with a big, big green box. As Santa came in through the door, Peter hid away behind the curtain.

Santa opened the big, big green box. In it was a drum, a toy air plane, a doll and toy soldier for the children. For mom he had left a gold watch, slippers and an electrical mixer the same thing Dad accept for the electrical mixer. What an experience Peter had! And that was the night when Santa came in a 59 Chevy.

skating, tobogganing, skiing, and snowshoeing. This tournament went on five days and finally the tournament was over and guess who got crowned for being best reindeer? yes, you are right! Pokey was crowned. One week before Christmas Santa got chicken pox and was very sick and Mrs. Claus got very worried. Two days before Christmas they ran out of blue paint and they sent the littlest elf, Speedy for the paint. He went on a long hard journey to the other side of the mountain. When he came back, Santa was well. It was the Night Before Christmas and they set out on their journey to give all the children their gifts.

My Christmas Dream

One day I was lying in bed dreaming of Christmas. I heard a glass fall onto the floor. I got off my bed and went to see what had made the noise. I looked all over the house, and much to my surprise, there standing in the all was an elf! As I approached him, he became very nervous and said: he needed help. He was hungry so I gave him some cookies and milk. The elf was very grateful and said

"Thanks alot Sean for everying." As the little elf approached the door he said, Santa needed extra help and was wondering if I could come with him. We dashed to the door together and as quick as a flash we were flying through the air behind eight tiny reindeer. This was the best Christmas ever.

Santa Gets a Cold

One blizzardy Christmas night Santa was getting ready for the big trip all over the world to the little children. Then he hooked up the reindeer and put his sack in the sleigh and got ready to go. Before he set off he gave Mrs. Claus a kiss. On his way he started to sneeze - he sneezed and sneezed until his face turned red! Then he started to cough - he coughed and coughed until he got sick! He finally said, "I think I have a cold." He coughed and sneezed a couple more times before he turned around and went home. He told Mrs. Claus, that he had a cold and he couldn't go on the trip to give children presents. So Mrs. Claus put Santa into bed and she gave him some soup and hot chocolate. Mrs. Claus didn't like the idea of the children not getting presents for Christmas so she put Santa's suit on and took the toys to the children and then returned home. Santa didn't even know that Mrs. Claus was gone. Whenever Santa gets sick Mrs. Claus is always there. So don't worry!

Christmas at the North Pole

Once upon a snowdrift, at the North Pole in 1999, at Santa's workshop an obstreperous little elf thought that the sled being pulled by reindeer, was out of style. He thought that a super sonic jet would be perfect, with a bombay to drop the presents. The elf quickly got a toy diamond necklace to hypnotize Santa into doing anything he said! It was three days before Christmas when he put his plan into action. He paid a visit to Santa when Mrs. Santa was cooking. It hardly took Santa ten minutes to get a flying fortress rigged up and loaded with presents and gas. On Christmas Eve the trance wore off and he was a few minutes late getting his sleigh hitched up and ready. Oh the elf was unemployed for the next three years. So in 1999 Santa was late, now you know why.

The Star and the Little Tree

This is the story of the little tree that had a big ending as well as a big beginning. The little newborn tree on the lot of R.A. Sagar was far away from all other trees of his kind. On December 16, the tree had enormously grown quite large over the night. By December 24, the tree was at full sprout and 14 feet high. But that night when the tree looked up into the sky it saw the brightest star he had ever seen in its life. He knew it must have been the Bethlehem Star. The next morning he had popcorn and ornaments all over him and a star shaped like the Bethlehem Star.

Christmas long ago

When my mom was little, things were different than they are today.

People decorated the trees with paper trees bags of candy, apples and oranges and giant popcorn balls. They had problems often. Some of them did not have enough money to pay the rent or buy groceries, but one of the worst problems was whether or not Santa would come. When he did come, they only got small things like candy-canes and pennies and tin cups or pieces of cake.

Do you think you would like to live back then?

The Unwanted Tree

One year a week before Christmas people started buying Christmas trees. Then when everyone had bought a Christmas tree one tree was still left. Nobody came and nobody cared so they closed up the tree forest. Everyone went home to decorate their trees. I peeked through someone's window and saw them decorating their tree with popcorn strings, candy canes, gingerbread boys, angels, Christmas lights and red and green candles. Then I went to the tree forest and something magical had happened. The tree that was left had animals around it and it was decorated. All the animals were singing, clapping or opening presents. I saw lots of animals and presents. Then in the morning I realized it was only a dream.

Santa isn't Coming

It was only two nights before Christmas as the Martins were sitting around their fireplace, on their broken down furniture. Their shabby clothes were hanging in threads. The parents were trying to think of a way of telling their children that Santa Claus wouldn't be coming to their house this year. They didn't have enough money to buy any presents.

Mikey looked up at his mother and asked her when they were going to get their Christmas tree. He said "Christmas is in two days and Santa Claus won't have anything to put the toys under."

Their father had something to tell them as the children crept closer and sat ready to listen. The father said, "We just received a letter from Santa Claus and he said that he wouldn't be able to make it here. He's been so busy looking after his sick reindeer that he didn't have enough time to make any toys."

Is there really a Santa Claus?" asked Mary. The father sat there a minute and then replied, "Well, a long time ago there was an old couple living at the North Pole. One morning they woke up and found a paper bag on their door step. The lady opened it and looked inside and there was a little baby. There was a note inside the bag that said "Please Take Care." The lady took the baby inside and showed it to her husband. They both decided to keep it. When the baby grew up he opened up a factory and started making toys. Then he decided he wanted to do something for all of the kids around the world. He went out to the barn one Christmas night and hitched up his reindeer to an old sleigh. Then he loaded the sleigh with toys and gave a toy to each of the children around the world. His name was Santa Claus. Santa's getting too old to do that now. He can barely make it out to the barn now. So the parents buy the toys and give them to the children for Santa. We can't afford any though this year."

"So Santa didn't really write that letter?" asked Mikey.

"No," said his father. Mikey and Mary quietly went to bed.

The next day, Mikey looked up at his dad and asked "Should we put up our stockings just in case Santa does come?"

"Yes," replied their father, so he wouldn't let the little boy down.

They put their stockings up over the fireplace before they went to bed that night.

Meanwhile, back at the North Pole, Santa's little elf that had been out looking for boys and girls who were not having a merry Christmas pulled up in his sleigh. He went running into to see Santa. The elf said, "The Martins are going to have an awful Christmas. They don't have any money to buy any presents for their children." Santa quickly told his elf to start making toys and he went to get ready.

When he came back out the elves had the reindeer all hitched up and ready to go. Santa looked at his elves and asked "Why do you all look so worried?"

The littlest elf replied "Do you think you will be okay? You haven't been feeling very good lately."

Santa said "Let's not worry about me. Let's worry about Mikey and Mary if I don't get their presents to them."

Santa reached their house and quickly slid down the chimney. He filled their stockings and put their presents all around the house. As he was going to leave he backed right into the fireplace. He let out a yell and the Martin's came out to see what was happening. Santa quickly jumped up and started back up the chimney. The Martin's ran to the window just in time to see Santa and his reindeer leaving.

A MYSTERY CHRISTMAS

Paul Smith was playing outside one afternoon he heard some faint voices and a faint light. He went to see what it was the voices got louder and louder and louder. Then all of a sudden he fell and fell and fell. He landed on a pillow of snow. He looked around. Then he got up and was going to see if he could find any people.

Suddenly a sound broke the silents he turn around he saw a little elf the elf said what are you doing here I heard you talking and saw your light. Well follow me he took Paul to a jolly old man in a red suit your Santa

Paul said Santa said will you help me. We ran out of toys I guess I can help you what do you want me to do. I want you to help me get some more toys okay my mom and I are going Christmas shopping. Do you think you can get some toys? I'll try to. Okay thank you bye, see you tonight. I hope I can get some toys for Santa. When Paul got back, Santa was so surprised that he fell out of his chair. I have enough toys for next year thank you again. You're welcome. Bye.

MERRY

Christmas

No Christmas
at all

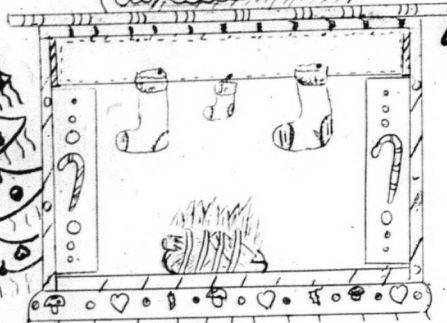

Have you ever thought of not having a Christmas? I can't imagine what it would be like without cousins coming, the family together, the smell of baking, and most of all, the excitement. Just think, some people don't even know what it's all about, because they don't have a tree, they don't get presents and most of all, they don't have too many friends to share it with. Boys and girls all over the world would love a Christmas, like some friends, and they'd especially love the joy and excitement around the cheerful time of Christmas.

For them, Christmas would be just an ordinary day, all there is to do is play. Snow would just be like grass in the summer, nothing new. You just think, what it would be like, without the tree, without the lights.

"Finally on the last note," exclaimed Santa. But the worst was yet to come. He opened the envelope and unrolled a five foot long letter!

"I need a break," he yelled, and everybody knew it too.

The next day Santa got out a snowmobile and sighed "I'm going out. He drove out. The next day Santa came back with two airline tickets.

"I'm going to Florida," he announced. "But only for 7 days."

"It's 6 days till Christmas," cried an elf.

"Then you deliver the toys," explained Santa as he walked away to pack.

Early the next morning Santa left to catch the plane to Florida. Just as the plane landed in Florida Santa realized something. The only thing he packed was his red suit! He thought how funny he would look in winter clothes! "I'm going to go home," he yelled. When he did he said to Mrs. Claus "I'll never go to Florida again."

The Fir Tree

One early spring morning a fir tree was so sad. It was sad because every Christmas Eve two or more men came to chop down a tree but never the fir tree. It seemed like they just ignored the fir tree. By and by the fir tree grew and grew. At last Christmas came again and by that time the fir tree was big now. A few days later some men came and chopped the fir tree down. The fir tree was so happy! The men took the fir tree home and decorated it with toys, strings, shining balls and all sorts of stuff. The children danced around the fir tree too. By and by they took the decorations off and put them away. The fir tree was bare now and looked not too nice. They took him and put him back in the woods for another year!

Blue Bells

Once upon a time, way on the tip of the earth, there lived a reindeer named Blue Bells. If you're wondering why he was named Blue Bells I'll tell you. His mother was wearing many, many bells when he was born.

On a cold blustery day, Santa took all the reindeer into the barn and fed them and polished their reins.

At twilight, you could hear the elves hammering, pounding, banging, talking, singing and sewing. Every night delicious smells would be coming from the pantry. Days went on. There was much hurrying and scurrying.

It was four days before Christmas. Santa was busy writing peoples names and places down. There was a weird thing going on. Santa couldn't find the bells. Santa Claus was furious. He must find them. He looked into his crystal ball. There was Scrooge! himself, going to town. Santa told Mrs. Claus he was going to town. When he reached town Santa said to himself "The only place he would be is the Video Arcade." There Scrooge was, playing Pac-man. "Scrooge!" called Santa "Did you steal the bells?" "Well um...oh yes. I borrowed them." "You tell the truth," said Santa. "Okay. They're in the wagon," replied Scrooge. So Santa Claus was able to deliver presents to everyone.

Next morning he went to Scrooge's house. Santa said, "You have a heart of gold." Scrooge said "And it's all mine! So that's how they solved the Blue Bells mystery."

Christmas Cookies

It was the night before Christmas and my mom baked some Christmas cookies and they looked good. She baked them today while my sister and I were sleigh riding in the yard. Kelly and I were making a plan that we were going to get out of bed in the night and get the cookies and only give one to Santa and then we will beg Santa for our toys and eat the rest of the cookies.

So we did it. In the morning the toys were still lying on the floor. I said Santa ate all the cookies. We opened our presents. I had lots of nice things for my presents. I wish Christmas was more often because I like to get gifts and I like to trick Mom and get a belly full of her delicious cookies.

If Jesus was born in 1982

I'm so tired. I've just rode miles out on the roads with my motorcycle one wiseman said. But it's a long way to Belleville hospital from Alberta said the second. And it's worth it said the third. They went in the hospital and asked to see the doctor. What room are Mary and Joseph in asked the first wiseman. Mary and Joseph exclaimed the doctor, why they went home days ago. They live in a little green house in Madoc. Oh said the wiseman and they walked out to their motorcycles. After that drive I'm hungry said one. Let's stop at Burger King and get a burger said the third. After they ate they got back on their bikes and started to drive again. Finally they got to Mary's and Joseph's. Won't you stay for supper asked Mary. Oh yes they said. Joseph would you quit playing video games and come to eat. I'm coming Joseph said. Just then the phone rang and the wise men had to leave. On the way home the one wiseman said all that for nothing and you know what the third said. What said the others. We didn't even see baby Jesus.

The Three Smallest Trees

One fine winter morning in the forest the three smallest trees started crying because they thought they were too small. Then one old spruce came up and said what are you crying about? We are crying because we are too small. Don't cry because look how old I am.

Just think what you could be. Heh you I would like to be a table. Ya I would like to be a chair. Well I don't know what I'm going to be. Then two weeks later a lumber jack came and cut the first tree down and he got to be a table which was put in the Lake's house.

Then the great lumber jacks came and cut the second one down and made it into a chair and they were both put in the same house. Now you know what the third tree was my favorite because the Lakes came and cut it down for a Christmas tree and they thought God would of liked it better if they were Christmas than two be a table. So that is the story of the three trees.

The Fir Tree

It was a week before Christmas and everyone had a tree and all the fir tree was the only one left. The next day there was a storm that was lasting through Christmas. There was a little girl named Jane. She watched the little fir tree. Her father tried to get into town to get a tree but he was not able to. The fir tree's animal friends watched Jane. She was sad. The animals dug the fir tree up, decorated it and took it to Jane. Jane was so happy. The fir tree died but the next spring there was another fir tree just like the other one. She danced around it. Jane and the animals had a picnic party. They played games and ate. What party. I wonder if the little fir tree will be Jane's Christmas tree next Christmas.

Christmas in Heaven

It was Christmas Day in heaven. Bells were ringing, angels singing but last Christmas an angel thought Christmas was dull. So he went home to think and then he said I see carat a Christmas tree so he found a good pine tree on earth decorated it, put balls, icicles on it and went back to heaven. He thought of rining bells and singing so he got some angels to sing in the streets in heaven then he went home again then he thought of giving presents all the angles thought he was nuts but he paid no attention. Then he was giving presents to the Lord of heaven and he said my Lord I do this to honor your son. The Lord said you have the right idea. The other angels were sorry for calling him names and calling him silly.

The Lonely Christmas Tree

It was in the late 1940s, in a small village off the 401 Highway. There was a small little wooden shack. Two very poor people lived in it. Billy and his mother Vickie. One morning on the way to school Billy saw a poor old man selling Christmas trees. There was only one little tree left and it hardly had any branches on it. He asked the man how much he wanted for it and he, answered two dollars. So Billy went on his way to school. All day at school, he thought about the Christmas tree. Billy said to himself, "Boy I wish I could get that tree!" On his way home Billy asked the old man if he could lower the price to 25 cents. For you Billy. OK! Billy said to himself I hope mommy will let me. So Billy went home and asked his mother if she would buy the tree. She said, "No we are too poor." Billy started to cry. His mother said "I would but I can't, we just can't." Billy said, "but it is only one day away from Christmas." The next day all of the kids said you aren't even getting a Christmas tree in a teasing way. Billy said "I am so. Tomorrow is Christmas." That night when Billy went to bed he prayed for a Christmas tree. Christmas morning when he awoke there was a yellow light all over the room. He ran out! There sat the little Christmas tree. All decorated with beautiful colored bulbs, lights flashing on and off. Billy ran and got his mother up in a hurry and ran out and saw the tree and said, "It's a miracle!" There was a package that said to Vickie and Billy with love. They opened the box and there sat the most beautiful puppy you ever saw. Billy hugged it and kissed it. It was the best Christmas ever because it was filled with love.

The Christmas Story

Mary and Joseph went on a trip. At night they came to the town of Bethlehem. They asked the innkeeper for a room for Mary but the innkeeper said he did not have any. The innkeeper said he had a stable they could use. Mary and Joseph said they would take it. Jesus was born that night in the manger. Mary sang happy songs to Jesus. Mary and Joseph were very happy. Shepherds were watching over the flock. Then an angel told them about Jesus and they went to Bethlehem. They went into the stable and saw baby Jesus and his mother Mary and his father Joseph. The shepherds were very glad to make him king. Three years after baby Jesus was born, the king was angry and he told the wise men to go to Bethlehem and to see who it was. The wise men went to Bethlehem and saw Jesus and gave him the gifts. After a while the king made a law that every boy should be killed. An angel woke Joseph and told him to take Mary and Jesus to Egypt because the king was going to kill all the baby boys. They stayed there until it was safe to go home.

Joey's best Christmas

Joey Cunningham was wishing all the things he had to do in preparation for Christmas Eve, all revolving around getting more presents. He'd made up a list of all the things he intended to do:

1. stretch stocking so more toys would fit in;
2. Get out milk and cookies for Santa Claus and carrots for Rudolph (an obvious bribe);
3. write a note telling Santa to leave more presents because I've been really good.

After finishing all the things on his list, he went to bed and soon dreams of mountainous piles of gifts filled his head. Suddenly, he was awakened by a strange noise in the living room, so he got out of bed and went to the living room to see what it was. Expecting Santa Claus, he was extremely surprised to see an elf, with a very long beard, climbing down the hearth, coughing and trying to brush the soot off his coat sleeve. He didn't see Joey, and as he moved towards the tree, he left footprints on his mother's carpet.

With him he had a very tired looking sack, filled to the top with assorted types of toys. He was fairly sized, but Joey didn't think that it was quite big enough.

"Hey!" he whispered, but the elf didn't hear him so he crept up behind him and tapped him on the shoulder.

"Oh!" cried the elf, surprised because he hadn't seen Joey. "What are you doing out of bed, Joey?"

"How do you know my name?" Joey inquired.

"Oh, I know everyone's name, at least those who believe in Christmas and Santa Claus!"

"But isn't that an awful lot of people?"

"I'm afraid it isn't anymore. People seem to have lost the real meaning of Christmas. They think Christmas is a time to get presents and eat. Also, some don't believe in Santa Claus, and a lot that do, are ashamed to admit it because they think their friends will laugh at them."

"Well, I believe in Santa Claus, and I'm not 'shamed to admit it."

"But how many of your friends believe in Santa Claus?"

"Lots of them!"

"But what do the ones who don't believe in Santa Claus say when you talk about him?"

"Well," he answered sheepishly, "They do laugh

I guess."

"See what I mean?"

"Yes, By the way, where is Santa Claus?"

"Oh dear, I wish you hadn't asked me that. But since you asked me, I guess I'll have to explain his absence to you."

"What's the abthenth? and why do you have to 'splain it to me?"

"Well it's very complicated. You see, Santa is very sick and he couldn't make the rounds this year because the doctor said that if he did he might have gotten worse. So since I am his chief elf, he sent me and two of his other helpers to deliver these gifts, but since he has been sick for so long, we didn't get to finish all the gifts for the children. So some may not get any gifts at all!"

"Is that why that sack is so small?"

"I'm afraid so."

"For everyone?"

"Sorry?"

"Yes. Are you sure you can't get anymore toys?"

"Yes, I'm sure."

"Well, what if I have you my gifts?"

"Then more children would be a lot happier tomorrow-morning."

"O.K. you can have my gifts so they'll have a happier Christmas. Good night Mister Elf."

"Good night Joey."

With that, Joey turned and went back to bed. But now, instead of dreams of gifts, dreams of the happy faces of the children who would be receiving his gifts filled his head. He fell asleep with a happy smile on his face.

At 6:00 he was awakened by his little sister's happy cries of joy when she saw the tree.

When Joey went out, he was startled to see piles of gifts littering the floor under the tree and the bulging of the stuffed socks. As he emptied his stocking, he found a strange object in the toe. It turned out to be a letter addressed to him. He tore it open and read:

Dear Joey:

You may be surprised when you see the tree, as you thought you gave your presents away. What happened was that I got better all of a sudden and we rushed to get the gifts finished so we could deliver them before morning. It worked and we were finished on time, thanks to you.

You see, my problem wasn't that I was sick. I was just terribly depressed because I thought that there wasn't anyone left in the

Remember

Christmas is a time to be happy and gay. For the bells that chime, They seem to say Merry Christmas to you again and again. Without decorations it is the same? I think it would be just as fine. But some people need "lights in a line." You could still have fun and eat lots of candy. But without Christmas love it wouldn't be dandy. You have your own thoughts so all I can say, Is Merry Christmas to you and have a good day!

The busy elf

Once upon a time there was a busy, busy, little elf. All he liked to do was work while all of the other little elves were playing. Sometimes when Santa Claus came out, the elves that were playing would run back into the workshop. One day Santa Claus said, "One or two elves can come to see the BIG, BIG WORLD with me." The busy little elf was so excited that he told all of the other elves that he really wanted to go. All of the other elves teased him. "I'll pick the busy, little elf," said Santa. "Yes, yes, I will." The busy little elf said, "Thank you Santa Claus." They all lived happily ever after.

Christmas celebrates mankind's hope

The story is told of George Handel in the depths of despair just before he composed The Messiah.

Away from his native land and living in near-poverty in England, he lived as a hermit in the few weeks it took him to write his glorious music.

In the end, he emerged with renewed spirit and a greater sense of creativity.

The hustle and bustle and crass commercialism of Christmas these days is enough to turn some men of goodwill into a spluttering Scrooge until the lines of this great oratorio came ringing through the snow. "For unto us a child is born, and the government shall be upon his shoulder."

When the spiritual ideal is born in the souls of men, it is a child. Walking in darkness, either moral or physical, is the death of joy or hope or self-respect. It is the path of too many people in this tired world.

But the light of Christmas can still shine brightly into weary, heartbroken lives.

You may be tired, driven, worried, weak, ill, depressed, and overburdened with care. The Christ spirit can rejuvenate. You have been trying to carry the burden of government—self government—upon your shoulders. The Child is born when you turn self government over to a power greater than you.

"And His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, the mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace."

We are prone to take such words as "wonderful" and make them trite and hackneyed. To be truly wonderful implies miracles and that is what can happen if mankind would only recognize the power of God.

A few years ago, the Guinness Book of Records was supposed to be out selling the Bible. But the Bible is still, in spite of misguided translations and misinterpretations, the greatest story ever told. It is the Counsellor, the great guidebook to self government.

This Child whose birth day is celebrated this week, is God Himself, the mighty God, always present within.

Candles and natural tree branches and garlands do not mix, states the Ontario Safety League.

Christmas gift wrappings are potential fire hazards, the Ontario Safety League states, and should be removed or disposed of as soon as the presents are opened.

Beef Weaning Weights. By CAROL MURPHY.

When bringing in your beef cows, consider weighing the calves. The heavier the calf, the better job the cow is doing for you. The Hastings-Prince Edward Cattleman's Association has available a portable scale to weigh the calves. To date, 10 herds have been done and the owners are really keen to see the results. Contact Carol Murphy at the Stirling Agricultural Office or Harold Buckley, who does the weighing at 962-4435 (evenings). Yes, we will weigh calves on Saturdays!

heart of hearts, their quiet place, their closet, must surely crave.

My love to you this Christmas.

and always available, closer than our hand, our Father in Heaven and the Kingdom of God is within.

"The Prince of Peace." Think of what perfect peace of soul could mean!

You would no longer be affected by what others think of you or say to you or do to you. Most of us are so conscious of what we think others are thinking about us, we no longer know who we really are. We are ruled by outer things, what the Joneses are doing, what our neighbors are getting. We worry about our jobs, our paycheques, what the boss thinks of us, even about what our children think of us.

We live these lives of "quiet desperation" when we could become the sons and daughters of God. That to me, is one of the greatest promises of the Bible. We have the power to become the sons of God.

Who but God could make such a promise?

And it is His birthday we celebrate at this time of year, the day Jesus Who became the Christ, was born. Does it matter when December 25 is the exact historical date of His birth? Does it matter whether you are a Christian, or Jew, a Buddhist, a Moslem, a Hindu, a Taoist, an Agnostic or an atheist?

What matters is that the hope of all mankind is celebrated the hope for peace and joy and kindness and giving and sharing and, most of all, love.

Peace and love alone, that which the Christ Child brought to the earth, could bring about the changes that all men, deep in their

Phones busy on holidays

On Christmas Day, traditionally the busiest phoning day of the year, Canadians are expected to keep the telephone network humming with some 6 million long distance calls to distant friends and relatives.

The whole Christmas-New Year period is generally busy with Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year's Eve contributing the highest call volumes.

In the Belleville area, extra employees will be on duty over the holiday period to handle operated-assisted long distance calls," says Donna Huffman, Bell Canada Manager in this area.

Most of the calls, though, will be dialed direct by customers who dial "1" plus the area code if needed and the number—still the fastest and cheapest way to call long distance.

Donna warned that circuits for some calls may become overloaded at busy times because of the heavy demand on particular lines.

The peak periods to avoid, if possible, are weekdays from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. and holidays and weekends in the early afternoon and early evening.

Discount rates are available at certain times on customer-dialed long distance calls. The details are provided in the front of the telephone book.

Bell Canada says the greatest number of overseas calls will be to the United Kingdom, Italy, Greece, Germany, Portugal, France and Yugoslavia. Callers should remember the time difference between Canada and the overseas country. It may mean the difference between an answered and an unanswered call.

Holiday calling can be smoother by planning ahead. Get numbers in advance. Directory Assistance for numbers in North America is available by dialing "1", the area code if needed, plus 555-1212. Overseas numbers can be obtained from Bell Operators now and kept handy for the actual call.

Bell Canada is promoting Long Distance Gift Certificates as Christmas gifts. They are sold in $20 packages with four $5 certificates in a greeting card. Customers can buy the certificates by visiting any Bell Phonecentre or Public Office, by calling the local Business Office or by calling 1 800 268 9191. Toll free to order them. A mail in coupon appears in account inserts that went out in recent customer bills.

Although the certificates are designated for payment of long distance calls, Bell says they can be used for paying a telephone bill of any type of telephone purchase customer's make.

The certificates will be accepted by most major phone companies in Canada and the United States,

Mushrooms big in Ontario

Ontario continues to be the largest mushroom producing region in Canada. In a nation where annual per capita consumption has grown to one of the highest in the world—one pound in 1970 to 5.25 pounds in 1981.

Ontario accounts for 45 per cent of national production.

In 1981 about 55 million pounds of mushrooms were harvested. Of this yield, 75 per cent was marketed fresh. For 1982, the estimated yield is expected to surpass 56 million pounds.

What has been responsible for the burgeoning consumer demand for mushrooms over the past decade? The Canadian Mushroom Growers' Association credits the media for creating an awareness of little-used foods and an interest in gourmet cooking. Also, the European influence on food choices has brought about greater use of mushrooms as consumers try new recipes or live up old fashions.

While consumers can enjoy fresh Ontario mushrooms every day of the year, few are aware of the intricacies of commercial mushroom farming.

The entire growth process takes place indoors where temperature, ventilation, and humidity are controlled. Mushroom farming is extremely labor intensive; labor accounts for 55 per cent of the product cost.

In Ontario there are about 45 commercial mushroom growers, concentrated in the Toronto, Leamington and Ottawa areas.

This winter, consumers can continue to use and enjoy flavorful mushrooms. At the same time, they'll be supporting a thriving Ontario industry.

OFA lobbying has paid off

"The Ontario Federation of Agriculture's (OFA) persistent lobbying has paid off," OFA president Ralph Barrie said, following the federation's 46th annual convention.

He was referring to announcements made during the convention by Ontario's minister of agriculture and food, Dennis Timbrell.

At the banquet during the convention, Timbrell announced that the Ontario Farm Adjustment Assistance Program (OFAAP) would be extended another year, and that changes would be made to the farm tax system.

"The OFA has been pressing for both of these for some time now," Barrie said, "and I'm really pleased that many of our requests have been met."

The OFAAP offers various kinds of financial assistance to farmers, including interest deferral, interest rebates and loan guarantees. "This program will provide some help in the short-term, but with many commodity prices falling, the farmers' cash flow problems may unfortunately be more serious in 1983. That's why OFA is going to continue encouraging the provincial and federal governments to reach some kind of agreement on a three-party stabilization plan," Barrie said.

The stabilization plan was discussed with federal agriculture minister, Eugene Whelan, at the convention. He expressed the hope that the two levels of government would reach agreement in the early part of 1983.

Barrie said the provincial government's proposal for changes in the farm tax system is a real indication of OFA's influence. Treasurer Frank Miller had decided to shelve the changes, but after OFA held meetings and talks with government officials, cabinet decided to go ahead with the proposals.

"Many farmers are going to benefit from the new 100 per cent rebate on farm land and buildings," Barrie said. At present, farmers receive a 50 per cent rebate on farm land, buildings and residences. Under the new proposal, which will take effect in 1984, a 100 per cent rebate will be given on farm land and buildings. Farm residences will be assessed separately, and at a rate similar to other residences in the area.

To qualify for rebate, the farm must have a minimum production of $8,000 in 1982 and in 1983. In 1984, the minimum production for rebate will rise to $12,000 in southern Ontario but remain at $8,000 in eastern and northern Ontario. Farms that do not meet the minimum production criteria for tax rebate will, however, continue to be assessed according to productivity values. A retired farmer or the widowed spouse of an active farmer who chooses to reside on the farm will be eligible for the rebate for a reasonable period, if the farm qualified for the rebate prior to retirement or death of the farmer.

"We wanted the minimum to remain at $5,000," Barrie said, "and the government wanted to jump immediately to $12,000. I could see the gradual increase as an acceptable compromise in good times, but with prices so depressed, I'm afraid many farmers will be ineligible."

Barrie, a dairy farmer from Perth, in Lanark County, was elected for his fourth term as president. For the fourth year, the first vice-president is Ron White, also a dairy farmer, from Denfield (Middlesex). The new second vice-president is Mary Wicks, a dairy farmer from Bobcaygeon (Victoria). She is the first woman to be elected to one of the top three positions.

The other executive members are Keith Buchner, a dairy farmer from Oxford; Merle Gunby, a Huron pork producer; Bridgid Pyke, a Frontenac County dairy farmer; and Harry Pelisero, an egg producer from Niagara.

Embryo transfers now a reality

The day is coming when a farmer will be able to select an embryo from storage, have it brought to the farm and inseminated, all on the same day.

Dr. Myron Mills, Head of the Embryo Transfer Service at Eastern Breeders Inc., told an audience of 150 at Kemptville College, that the future has already arrived.

Excited over new developments, Mills said embryo transfers have come a long way since the first operations were tried on rabbits in 1890. Today an embryo can be collected and transferred into a cow without surgery, he said.

The ability to determine an embryo's sex along with hereditary traits is already a reality in labs, and cloning is being done commercially.

But for Mills, the presence of frozen embryo in the marketplace represents a major breakthrough. By year's end, Eastern Breeders will begin freezing embryo, a technique which will have an "explosive" effect enabling companies to open up enormous export markets. According to Mills, "We could have long term storage from super cows," whose number he estimated to be about 100 in Canada.

The farmer who goes through with embryo transfer has to be a gambling man. With proper heat synchronization and top of the line embryo, he has a 63 per cent chance of getting a pregnant cow. If nothing happens, "you've blown $650," Mills said. The usual harvest of four calves will cost $2,400. With frozen embryo the cost can be even more. The pregnancy rate is only half as good as with fresh embryo.

At present, farmers are mainly using the embryo transfer service on cows rated high for production and very good or excellent for type. For some farmers it's the last chance to get a pregnancy from the animal. And sometimes it works, Mills said.

It appears that the embryo transfer service is firmly established as a breeding tool. Forty of the new bulls to come to Eastern Breeders are "embryo transfer bulls."

Dr. Mills was the third speaker in the KCAT Lecture Series. The fourth speaker will be John Turnbull, Director, Canada Plan Service Design Centre, Agriculture Canada. He will speak on "The latest in farm building design" on Wednesday, December 8, at 8 p.m. in the F.J. Parish Building Auditorium, at Kemptville College.

High quality rutabagas

Good harvest conditions this fall mean a plentiful crop of high quality rutabagas. Latest estimates place the 1982 harvest at 153 million pounds. Thanks to controlled storage facilities, quality rutabagas will be available all winter long.

In the store, consumers should select rutabagas which are smooth, firm, blemish free and heavy for their size. Wax, which is applied to rutabagas before they leave cold storage, prevents excessive moisture loss and shrivelling, and helps keep the vegetable clean.

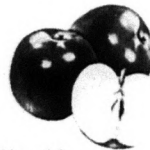

At home, this quality can be maintained by storing in the refrigerator crisper or a cool basement. Under these temperature and humidity conditions, waxed rutabagas should keep up to three months.

There is no better time to take advantage of one of Ontario's fresh winter vegetables. Rutabagas offer quality, nutrition and good food value.

Norwood minor hockey results

On Saturday, December 18, the "Lynch's Auto Service" Pee-wee A team played in Havelock and came home with a 3-1 victory. Goal scorers were Rich Goughlin with 2 and Riel Ford with a single. Scott Toms and Matt Handford had their shutout spoiled when Havelock scored with 4 minutes left in the game. Their next action is next week in the Lindsay tournament.

Friday, December 10

The Norwood Atoms were on the road to Warkworth. In this game, the locals came out on top with a 7-1 victory. Rick Heffernan and Andrew Hamilton each scored with a single goal while Day D. Stewart added 5.

Saturday, December 11

The 4-manor Atoms hosted the local Atom team today. The locals returned home again with a victory as they shut out the opposition 4-0. Duane Crawford is given credit for the shutout. Scoring: David Stewart had two, while Warren Gee and David Crowles each had singles.

Wednesday, December 15

The Norwood Juveniles played host to Fenimore.

This proved a high scoring contest with the locals coming out on top by a 9-8 score. Goals: singles went to Brian Terpstra, Kevin Morley and Rob Buchanan, Greg McCulloch added two and Mike Ruffey 4.

Friday, December 17

The Pee-wee Bantam and Midget teams were all in action at home tonight.

Pee-wee game: Warkworth were the local's visitors. They overpowered the locals by a 4-1 count. Lone goal for the locals, Cal Clarke.

Bantam game: The local Bantams hosted Keene. In this game, the locals were outscored 7-1. Lone goal by Brian Doherty.

Midget game:

The locals were host to Havelock. The opposition doubled the score on the locals defeating them 4-2. Goals by Mike Terpstra and Craig Dart.

Sunday, December 19

The Norwood Juveniles were on the road to Keene for league play tonight. The locals faced their first loss of the season, as they went down to defeat by a 6-5 count. Goal scorers: a single to Rob Buchanan, while Greg McCulloch and Mike Lyle each added two.

History in a hole

A four by eight foot hole in a "down" Toronto parking lot is yielding a treasure trove of Ontario's history, including the remains of the first provincial legislative buildings.

"The hole is the hazelwork of the history of citizenship and culture archaeologist Roberto O'Brien, who has unearthed evidence from three distinct time periods dating back to the early 1800s.

In fact, this unpretentious pit (which is flanked by such modern day marvels as the CN Tower and Roy Thomson Hall in Toronto's waterfront area) is bringing bits of our past to light with every spadeful.

"It's an honest-to-goodness, authentic archaeological find," says Allen Tyvka, supervisor of the ministry's archaeology conservation branch.

The beauty of the site is the ease with which it can be dug and the prime condition of the artifacts and foundations it contains, he added.

What is emerging from the operation reads like a history book. In the first layer below the gravel-based parking lot are remains of freight structures built by the Canadian National Railway in the 1920s. Archival material shows that it is the next layer of material that contains the remnants of the buildings occupied by our political forefathers. Those buildings, according to the documents used by the ministry for research, housed the Parliament of Upper Canada from 1832-41; the United Parliament of Canada from 1849-51 and the first session of the Legislature of Ontario from 1867-92.

Artifacts have been found in the third layer which date back to the early 1800s.

"It's an absolutely fascinating site that has potential for community involvement and education in every stage of discovery," archaeologist O'Brien said.

The find is owned by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, who leases it to the parking lot's operators.

The excavation process began after the ministry's archaeology branch was asked to study the nearby site of Toronto's new convention centre. During that study, the interest of the ministry's archaeology staff was piqued by maps which showed sketches of the old buildings. Calculations were made and the exploration began.

Atoms losers

By SUSAN M. CUDDY

On December 10 the Marmora atoms met Colborne and lost with a 4-1 score. The lone goal scorer for Marmora was Evan Robinson.

On the following Sunday the Lions' bus took the atoms to Colborne for a second match. Marmora lost the game with the final score being 6-2 for Colborne.

Evan Robinson scored Marmora's first goal assisted by Chris Ellis and Steven Hutchings. Todd Ellis got the second goal, assisted by Chris Ellis.

Numer nine, Nick Aclary, of Colborne received a total of fourteen points in the two games. Allen Fluke praised the boys for a good game.

Chiefs gain single point

Friday Night

The Lakefield Blake's IGA Chiefs played one of their best games of the year to come from behind an early Little Britain 5-0 lead to tie the Merchants 6-6. The Merchants grabbed the three goal lead on goals by Doug Taylor, Gord Cawker, and Terry Jenkins.

The Chiefs got back in the game on two late second period goals, by Dave Morgan and Glenn Stevenson. Two quick goals early in the third period, again by Moran and Stevenson, gave the Chiefs a 4-3 lead, but the Merchants took the lead with goals seven seconds apart by Geoff Field and Murray Kelsey. Kevin Evans then scored to tie the game and Glen Stevenson scored his hat trick to give the Chiefs the lead again, only to have Jamie Bergan tie the contest with a blast from the point within under four minutes to go.

Sunday night's game

Sunday night the Chiefs played their last game until after the Christmas break and were defeated by the Stouffville Clippers 11-7.

The Clippers were in the lead, by Tim Yeomans 4 goals and a pair by Murray Raff. The Chiefs' goals were scored by Glenn Stevenson with his second hat trick in the last two games, Rob Gilders, Kevin Evans, Doug Coyle and Rick Peel.

The next home game for the Chiefs will be Tuesday, December 28, 8:30 p.m. when they play the Bowmanville Eagles.

HISTORICAL BOOK TO BE PREPARED

On Friday, December 17, I had the pleasure of taking part in the official opening of the office which will serve as headquarters for the Historical Book Committee in the Village of Stirling.

Next year is the 125th Anniversary of this community and to commemorate the occasion, an historical book will be prepared. The four people staffing the office will be involved in collecting submissions from all those who would like to contribute to the book. I understand the deadline for submissions is in January. This project is being made possible through grants from both the federal and provincial governments. In this regard, I had the pleasure to present a cheque for $2,000 from the Ministry of Citizenship and Culture, George Hees, the federal member for Northumberland to be commended for his efforts in securing the federal funding for this project.

BANCROFT SENIOR CITIZENS' COMPLEX OPENS

Another event in which I was pleased to participate was the official opening of the York River Heights complex for senior citizens in Bancroft on Saturday, December 18.

This private non-profit building has been made possible through the dedicated efforts of the Pentecostal Church with assistance from the federal and provincial governments.

Ten of the building's 32 units will be subsidized by the Province under OCHAP (Ontario Community Housing Assistance Program) with the rents paid by a proportion of the seniors being geared to their incomes. This provincial assistance will amount to around $14,000 annually.

Pee-wees split

By SUSAN M. CUDDY

On Friday, December 10, the Marmora pee-wees travelled to Madoc to play their final game of the regular season.

Madoc scored the first goal of the game but 26 seconds later Terry Deline with the help of Mario Bertrand and Stephen Coens put Marmora on the board.

Things seemed to go downhill for Marmora until the third period when Kevin Doyle assisted by Steven Bedore and Mario Bertrand scored number four and Kevin Doyle assisted by Terry Deline and Tim Cassidy finished off the game for a final score of 5-4 for Marmora.

croft with three goals. Brian Forestell and Brent Forestell each got one.

Monday, December 13 saw Marmora play host to Frankford in a very good game. Kevin Doyle, with the help of Jeff Clemens opened the scoring for Marmora followed by Tim Cassidy assisted by Jamie Nicolson and Doug Prindle. Steven Bedore scored goal number three assisted by Kevin Doyle and Kevin Doyle assisted by Matt Cuddy scored number four and Kevin Doyle assisted by Terry Deline and Tim Cassidy finished off the game for a final score of 5-4 for Marmora.

Agricultural Outlook, 1983
Each year in December, Agriculture Canada holds an Agricultural Outlook Conference in Ottawa, for federal and provincial officials as well as representatives from farmer and consumer groups, to preview the agri-food industry for the coming year.

According to projections made at the conference, the overall net farm income will continue to fall slightly in 1983 to about $5.7 billion as compared to $5.8 billion in 1982. Total farm cash receipts are projected to decline from $18.7 billion in 1982 to $18.5 billion in the coming year, with livestock receipts predicted to increase by 2 per cent, while cash crop returns fall by 3 per cent. Operating expenses, too, are expected to fall by approximately 1 per cent, due largely to lower feed and interest costs in the coming year.

Inventory Day

For many farmers, December 31st marks the end of the business year and the time when records for the present year should be completed. Many producers find record-keeping a distasteful exercise and tend to leave it as long as possible, often until taxes have to be filed in the spring.

A good record-keeping system, however, should be started on January 1st, after reviewing the current year's records and making whatever adjustments are necessary before year-end. Most farmers file tax on a cash basis and do have some flexibility in holding or selling feed supplies and livestock to suit their tax purposes. Unfortunately, the cash system of tax filing leaves something to be desired from a management point of view, simply because it may not indicate profitability of the farm operation for the year. To do so requires a complete inventory and adjustment to cash income—something that should be done at year-end.

Taking and valuing inventory is essential to get a true picture of the farm income and/or loss situation. Banks and other credit agencies are insisting, more and more, that inventories be updated at year-end. When questioned, many farmers have a difficult time recalling numbers and amounts of livestock, feed, etc. on hand at year-end.

Recording inventory is not a difficult chore, if done at the right time—that is at the beginning of the year. Why not begin 1983 with Inventory Day? Simply take a sheet of paper and record livestock numbers, their value; feed supplies and value; as well as current receivables and current payables such as feed, fertilizer, taxes, etc. The Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food has a Farm Inventory Work Sheet available for the asking. This work sheet—a simple one-page sheet—gives the various headings

Looking to the grain market, Agriculture Canada economists are projecting a possible increase in coarse grain prices beginning in August of '83, on the assumption that the U.S. corn acreage reduction program is successful. Little hope is given of much price recovery during the next few months at least. World markets are also oversupplied with oil seeds, including soybeans, and little hope is given of much price recovery here, again until late in '83. Much will depend on international trade, which is very competitive.

Agriculture Canada economists are forecasting stronger prices for beef in '83 due to reduced cattle inventories. The projection is that A1 and A2 steers in Toronto should average in the $82-$83 range per cwt, during the first half of '83 with some stronger prices into the summer period, followed by weaker fall prices. This should mean some strengthening of feeder cattle prices in the first half of '83 as well.

Pork producers are currently enjoying stronger prices which are projected to extend to the first half of '83, largely due to the reduction in pork supplies. However, supplies are expected to increase in the second half of the year, as the U.S. gears up. Index 100 hogs at Toronto are expected to range between $85 and $90 per cwt. during the first half of '83, and should remain strong during the third quarter.

The dairy situation is one of lower world prices and larger stocks of dairy products in most major milk-producing nations. This situation will make it more difficult to export surplus products. Dairy production in Canada is controlled through the CDC's quota allocation system. A recent announcement that the Ontario Milk Producers' Marketing Board indicates a 2 per cent reduction in MSQ along with an increase in MSQ levy rates, increasing the within-quota levy 74 cents per hectolitre to $5.14 per hectolitre, effective January 1st. At the same time, over-quota levy has been increased to between $28 and $30 per hectolitre, also effective January 1st. This all points to a tighter milk market with heavy demand for quota, so that producers will have to watch their production very closely through 1983.

Santa goes on strike

Dear Santa:
 We all think you're a myth! We don't believe you live at the North Pole or that you have 9 reindeer.

Sincerely
 Kids of Norwood
 When Santa got this letter he was furious. The exclaimed "The wages are not very good anyway. They don't pay me enough to freeze my nose every Christmas Eve. I'm going on strike!" Mrs. Claus then remarked, "What about the children?" "Let them get there own Santa!" snapped Santa. "I'll get the legal strike papers," he added. Santa went to the highest court and won. He held a sign that said "Santa on strike" in big letters. Now that he was on strike he felt he didn't have to do any work except hold his big sign. However he still had to pay the bills like anybody else. So one day when he received a letter for a change from bills. It said:

 Dear Santa,
 It will be very different without you I love you.

Susie
 This letter broke Santa's heart but it didn't change his mind. He got more and more letters like the one from Susie. There was only 2 weeks to Christmas. Santa began to wonder if he had done the right thing. He asked Mrs. Claus "Why do the children write to me when I am on strike?" "Well Santa they love you," replied Mrs. Claus. "O.K. but I am staying on strike," said Santa sure of himself. There was only 3 days till Christmas and Santa still was on strike. Mrs. Claus had an idea she decided that she was going to Norwood. She booked up Rudolph. "On Rudolph" said Mrs. Claus. At the Norwood Post, she asked a man "do you now who wrote this?" "Well it looks like my son Mac's writing," answered the man "Where is he?" asked Mrs. Claus. On the 3rd floor in the apartments" replied the man. "Thank you," So Mrs. Claus went over to see Mac who had written the letter to Santa. Knock, knock. "Who's there?" said Mrs. Claus. "I'm Mrs. Snow," said Mrs. Claus. "I don't know any Mrs. Snow," said Mac. "Oh, I am your new neighbor," said Mrs. Claus. Mac let Mrs. Claus in and said "O.K. what is it?" said Mac. "Well do you know who wrote this?" "I did" replied Mac. "Why?" said Mrs. Claus "Because there is no Santa," answered Mac. "Oh! how do you know this?" asked Mrs. Claus. "Because nobody can live at the north pole!" said Mac sure of himself. "Well who told you this?" said Mrs. Claus. "Nobody," said Mac. "Well you better write to Santa because he is on strike just because of your letter," said Mrs. Claus. "O.K. I will write to him," returned Mac.

Again he signed the letter "Kids of Norwood. By the time Santa received the letter it was Christmas morning. Santa opened the letter, put on his glasses and read:

Dear Santa,
 Can you forgive us for writing such a terrible letter? Merry Christmas!

Sincerely
 Kids of Norwood
 Santa said "Hip hip hooray!!! No more strike!" "Allius" praised Mrs. Claus "Elves, start making toys quickly," yelled Santa. That year Santa was a little late. He brought the kids gifts on January 25th and left a little note saying why he had been late. The kids of Norwood received more toys then anyone else Santa never went on strike again.

The history of the Yule log

The Yule Log merrily crackling on the hearth is a traditional Christmas image, an apt symbol for the warmth and brightness of the holiday season.

And, like so many of the most beloved Christmas customs, the lighting of the Yule Log seems to have its roots firmly embedded in the pre-Christian past.

While the light generated by the Yule Log is believed to symbolize the light which illuminated the heavens at the time of the Nativity, it is also a descendant of the sacred hearth fires which were first kindled by the ancient Romans.

These fires, which were kept burning at all times, were the very heart of the household, metaphorically as well as literally, since they constituted the dwelling place of the ancestral spirits whom the family worshipped.

At the same time, the origin of the Yule Log is intertwined with the Druidic worship of vegetation spirits, who lived in trees — particularly oaks.

At the appropriate season, the Druids would choose a log and bless it, praying that, once lit, it would continue to burn perpetually.

Around this log hovered various superstitions. For instance, the Druids believed that all who took part in the ritual of cutting down and lighting the sacred log would be protected from witchcraft during the year to come.

It is possible that, in burning the sacred log, the Druidic worshippers were seeking to propitiate their gods, to ensure the continuance of life-giving sunshine for another year.

Also, it was generally believed by the Druids that the log's ashes possessed magical fertilizing powers, making them of great importance to a people whose sustenance was so directly related to vegetation.

The Yule Log, incorporated into the Christmas celebration, retained many of these Druidic traditions, in one form or another, in the various countries where it was an intrinsic part of the festivities.

In Yugoslavia, for example, people frequently burned one smaller log for each male member of the family, in addition to the large log, whose kindling was a central ritual in the Christmas solemnities.

The English believed that it was essential to light the Yule Log using the previous year's brand — this, most probably, was a greatly watered-down version of the Druids' eternally burning log.

Drawing by Cheryl Semotok, grade 5, St. Martin's School, Ennismore.

In Provence, in Southern France, the entire family would go out together on Christmas Eve, in search of a suitable log, which would be carried home with all due ceremony.

Solemn caroling would accompany this activity, as well as prayers that the house, and all of its inhabitants and their endeavors, be blessed in the year to come.

Before the log was thrown onto the waiting fire, the youngest member of the family would douse it with wine, in the name of the Holy Trinity.

Finally, the log's ashes would be retained, as they were considered to have powerful curative properties.

Sadly, the tradition of lighting a Yule Log though not unknown in America, has never really caught on here and, at the same time, is becoming less and less a part of Christmas festivities in those countries which once observed it.

Ironically, it seems that the embers of what began ages ago as an eternal fire are slowly dying out.

In the warm afterglow of his visit,

Santa brings a merry tale of fun and laughter to the young and young at heart.

As his festive tale unfolds, embracing one and all in the loving spirit of Christmas, we add a footnote of thanks for our devoted friends and patrons and wish you

When I was Santa Claus

It was two days before Christmas and I was having trouble going to sleep because I was so excited about Christmas. I knew I had to go to sleep though, so I finally drifted off.

When I woke up I had the sudden urge to go Ho! Ho!
Ho! I thought this was strange. When I looked up I got another surprise, everything was strange! It was completely different!

Just then a plump woman came in and said, "Come on dear, there's only two days to go before Christmas."

All the sudden it hit me, I was Santa Claus!

My wife then gave me food and sent me off to work. When I squeezed, through the door at the shop
a little elf greeted me and asked if I wanted a tour of the shop to see how things were going. I accepted.

We started with a tour of the toy making shop.
Everything looked like it was running smoothly so I proceeded with the tour.
Everything was fine in the other shops so I went home and had supper. After supper I went to bed because the next day was going to be a long day, for, it was December 24th, the day before Christmas.

The next day was very hettic with my elves and I working all day long on the toys. At night we hooked
the sleigh up and loaded it.
Then, as I was climbing aboard, I started the reindeers off and waved goodbye to everybody.

On my way to drop off the presents I was admiring my work when all the sudden a plane came into view. I made a sharp turn to get out of the path of the plane but when I did this I was flying from the sleigh. As I was falling I thought about all the children. I was going to let down this Christmas. I could just see them sitting,

there Christmas morning,
crying because they didn't get any presents.

On Christmas Eve I was scared that Santa wouldn't come. I thought that any dream might've been and indication of what is to come. I decided that I better get to sleep just in case.

When I woke up in the morning I ran downstairs to see if there were any presents. There were, I breathed a sigh of relief and started opening my presents.

Santa Claus is like a big bowl of jelly.
He also has a big fat belly.
Santa Claus is lots of fun.
On Christmas Eve I left him

Santa Claus is so bright and gay, that is why he must be on his way.

Santa Claus gives lots of toys,

Rudolph and Sparky

It was a week before Christmas and Rudolph was standing in the snow waiting for Sparky his cousin. Winky, Wimpy and Weirly, some favourite elves, were standing with Rudolph. Weirly shouted, "There's the green light." Down, down, down came Sparky. He had presents for everyone, all of the elves, Mr. and Mrs. Santa and the reindeer too. He had a special surprise for Rudolph. He said, "Rudolph dear cousin, I talked to Santa before I came, he said I have permission to ride along with you on Christmas Eve." "Horrah, hoorah," cheered Rudolph. "I can't wait." The next couple of days were filled with laughter and joy. Rudolph was having the most fun of all. At last on Christmas Eve, Rudolph and Sparky were hitched in the front of the sleigh. "Up, up, fly, fly, fly, fly!" yelled Santa. Away they went.

(So, from now on I expect you to look for a red and green light on Christmas Eve. When you do, you'll know it's Rudolph and Sparky!) "Up, up, fly, fly, up, up!"

Santa Claus

Way up in the north,
In the month of December,
Which is the month
Of Christmas remember!

There was an old man,
A quite jolly old fellow,
Who painted his sleigh
All green, blue and yellow!

Then he got in a temper,
And fired the elves,
And threw all the toys,
Right off of the shelves!

He went to his wife,
And gave her a pat,
And said "Better make me
A mighty, fine sack!"

But he changed his mind,
And threw out the new sack,
Then he went a hunting,
To bring the old sack back!

But he took a detour,
And stopped at the shed,
And painted his sleigh,
And painted it red!

Then went out in the cold,

It wasn't so great,
He found the sack,
But got back real late!

"T'was two nights until Christmas",
Danced round his head,
Then he finally dosed off,
And went straight to bed!

The very next day,
Was a real busy day,
He hired the elves,
And loaded the sleigh!

The reindeer were ready,
They left and they bound,
Then they finally got,
That big load off the ground!

He got home real late,
Got out of the sleigh,
With the strength he had left,
He put it away.

He went to his house,
And went right to bed,
While visions of next year,
Danced in his head!

THE FIR TREE

Once there was a little fir tree who lived in the woods. The fir tree was very sad. He wished somebody would cut him down for Christmas but that Christmas nobody cut him down. The next Christmas two men came and cut him down. When they cut him down with the chainsaw it hurt him but he was very happy. The next morning the fir tree found himself in a room with children dancing all around him and taking toys off his branches. After that the father threw him in the basement but the children begged him to plant the fir tree in the garden because they loved him. If anybody tried to burn the tree the children wouldn't let him and from now on every Christmas the children used the fir tree.

Special treasures make cherished Yule memories

Christmas. The very word is magic. It conjures up all the past, present and future delights of that very special holiday. Each generation of children has a treasure trove of memories about Christmas, says the Jewelry Industry Council.

Years ago, the Christmas tree was a real tree, pungent with the smell of the outdoors mingling with all the other delightful smells of Christmas — the roasting turkey, the hot mince pies, and glowing bayberry candles. Festoons of homemade popcorn and freshly baked gingerbread men hung gaily from the tree branches.

Today's trees may be imitation, with manufactured decorations, but many of the old holiday traditions remain the same. Christmas is usually the time when young men give their girl friends that very special diamond engagement ring.

It's also the time when very young ladies get their first piece of real jewelry — a gold locket on a chain. And their brothers delight in their first wrist watch.

Christmas is a time for families gathering together and meeting with dear friends. It's a festive, joyful, loving time of year, and a time when hearts are happiest.

Small wonder that Christmas is the time when people choose to present their loved ones with gifts of love that have a special meaning, and will be treasured for all the years to come.

The magic of Christmas is not over once one is out of childhood. It's also the time when older couples celebrating 30 or 40 or more years of marriage commemorate their union with a diamond anniversary ring for her, while he may be favored with his birthstone in a ring flanked with diamonds.

All in all, Christmas is a time when many special memories are made — often with small packages from the jeweler that will go on year after year giving pleasure, says the Council.

Farmstead taxes to be Eliminated

Proposed changes to the farm tax system in Ontario will eliminate property taxes on productive farmland. Agriculture and Food Minister Dennis Timbrell told the annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture.

"Our overall objective in this project is ultimately to re-structure the farm tax system on the most efficient, equitable and progressive basis possible," Timbrell said.

He thanked the OFA for their support of a restructured tax system.

The proposals call for provincial property tax rebates in 1984 of 100 per cent on farmland and farm buildings for farmers who qualify for rebates. Farm residences would be treated as other similar residences in the same community, except that the residential lot would be assessed at 50 per cent.

At present, qualifying farmers receive property tax rebates of 50 per cent covering farmland, farm buildings and residences.

Under the new plan, the minimum production requirement to qualify would be raised from a gross income of $5,000 to $8,000 for 1982 and 1983. When the new tax system is in place in 1984, minimums would be a gross income of $12,000 in southern Ontario and $8,000 in northern and eastern Ontario. (Note: Hastings is listed in eastern Ontario).

"When this tax package takes full effect, I would expect that the total net property taxes will be reduced for the vast majority of farmers," Timbrell said.

The estimated net additional benefit to the farmer in 1984 will be about $20 million bringing the total benefit of the rebate program to more than $85 million.

"What we are attempting to do is remove unfairness and inconsistencies from the tax system and at the same time, support and strengthen the position of our productive farming community," he said.

As part of the changes, a Farm Tax Appeal Board will be established to settle disputes regarding production criteria. The board will include representatives from the rural community.

"I believe the tax package represents a fair and comprehensive response to the real need for change as expressed by the farming community," Timbrell said.

The proposal will give Ontario farmers a system that compares favorably with other jurisdictions. It taxes farm residences on the same basis as those in the urban area with tax on the residence lot discounted by 50 per cent.

The changes "will exert a positive and progressive effect" on Ontario's farm and food production, he said.

Some Interpretations of the Program:

1. Except where more or less than one acre is used for residential purposes, one acre will be assumed to be used for those purposes. The residence lot will be assessed as comparable to other non-farm residences, but based on 50 per cent of the assessment of a severed residential lot, since the farm residential lot has a lower market value than a severed residential lot.

2. Property tax credits and pensioner tax grants paid farmers will be calculated on the residence property tax, not the tax on the whole farm.

3. Regulations covering livestock sales will be changed. A farmer, to establish qualification for rebates, will include receipts from livestock sales only where livestock have been on the farm at least 60 days.

4. Disputes concerning assessments will continue to be handled by the Ministry of Revenue.

5. Estimates have been made as to the size of farm enterprise required to generate gross incomes of $5,000, $8,000 and $12,000, or more, based on estimated 1982 prices.

6. The Broader Impact: The farm tax proposals are designed to provide solid support and incentive for full time farmers. These proposals will, in 1984, remove taxes on productive farmland and farm buildings and, as well, the proposed new system will correct a number of inequities. The long range objective, in brief, is this: to put in place a positive and progressive farm tax system that will further enhance the presently strong position of Ontario agriculture.

Hastings Federation News

Extension of the Farmstead Improvement Program and dual labelling of agricultural chemicals were demanded by Directors of OFA meeting in Toronto in late October. OFA is asking that the time to complete already approved applications under the Farmstead Improvement Program be extended to July 31, 1983. OFA is asking that dual labelling in metric and Imperial measure be continued for a five-year period. (It seems that CN and CP are phasing their change over in a ten-year period!)

There is good news for hard pressed OFA members in that there will not likely be a membership fee increase for 1983 but OFA medical insurance premiums will rise: family premium $100 and single to $46. The increase is due to hospitals now being free to set their own room charges and to the fact that farmers' claims for prescription drugs have exceeded expectations of the insurer. Still OFA medical coverage will be one quarter of the cost of similar protection of other health insurance schemes.

Did you know that the tomatoes in a can of tomatoes is the cheapest part of the purchase? The can cost the housewife more than the tomatoes in it and the label costs even more than the can. So we throw out the most expensive part of a can of tomatoes! Facts like this were made widely known throughout Ontario and Canada in Agri-Week in early October. There was a good response to Hastings Federation Agriculture PR efforts and three families received "a baby bonus" in a roast of beef or pork when their babies arrives on October 9th.

Radio Noon, CBC farm broadcast, has suffered staff cuts and Roy Maxwell himself may be next. OFA Directors sent a strong protest to CBC and government that Radio Noon was a major service to Agriculture Canada's major industry.

Where Did We Go Wrong? BY T. WAYNE MARTIN

During the past two weeks we had to cancel two programs due to very limited response. The first, Keeping the Dairy Feed Dollars Home, was a ration workshop planned to make dairy producers more aware of how to balance rations and supplement them as nutritionally and economically as possible.

The idea for the workshop was based on requests from producers over the past few months, and was timed to coincide with winter feeding programs. In addition, many feed analysis which we are seeing are much lower in protein than usual - mainly hay and hayslage. Corn silage analysis are higher in moisture, hence lower in protein and energy on an as-fed basis. Nutritional problems will result this winter if attention is not made to your feeding program.

The second workshop to be cancelled was, Farm Family Business Planning for the '80s. Maybe people did not read the program, and misread the title as Farm Family Planning and thought it didn't apply. This program was specifically designed for both spouses, and covered the use of business records, business arrangements, tax information, and farm law questions. Again, this type of program had been requested by many families, and the hope was that by having it at this time of year, 1982 planning could still be carried out.

In any case, response to these two programs, which we thought were important to many, attracted very little interest. Hence our question, "Where did we go wrong?" Was it program content, location, timing, cost, etc? We would appreciate comments from our readers. Both could be offered at a later date if there was interest. Please let us know.

MEMORIALS

COLE Barbara Ann - In loving memory of a dear daughter & sister who passed away suddenly Dec. 25, 1978. Deeply missed along the way. Quietly remembered every day. No longer in our lives to share. But in our hearts, Barbie, You're always there. Lovingly remembered by Dad, Fred & Roma & brother Glenn.

MONTGOMERY Nettie - In loving memory of a dear mother, who passed away Dec. 18, 1981. Daughters Dorothy & Shirley.

SEARLES Annie T. - In loving memory of a dear mother who passed away Dec. 25, 1976. Those whom we love go out of sight but never out of mind. They are cherished in the hearts of those they left behind. Compare our prices, motorcoaches & service! Franklin Smith Family Travel & Belleville 613-478-3622 & 800-267-2183.

MEMORIALS

ROUSHORN - In loving memory of our dear friend Dora who passed away Dec. 24, 1981.

God saw you getting tired. When a cure was not to be. So He closed His arms around And whispered "come to me". You didn't deserve what you went through. And so He gave you rest. God's garden must be beautiful.

He only takes the best. Lovingly remembered by friends Gerald, Shirley, Paul, Mary, Rosanne, Betty Jean, Kevin & Henry Lees.

TROTTER - In loving memory of a dear father & grandfather, Ernest Garfield Trotter, who departed this life Dec. 25, 1973. He saw the road was getting rough. And the hills were hard to climb. So he closed your weary eyelids. And whispered peace be thine. It broke our hearts to lose you. When you did not go alone. For parts of us went with you. The day God called you home.

We have lost, but God has gained. One of the best fathers this world contained. Ever remembered & sadly missed by son Gerald & family.

McCLINTOCK - In loving memory of a dear brother, Harper, who passed away Dec. 21, 1981.

A lovingly brother, true & No friend on earth like him we'll find. For all of us he did his best, And God gave him eternal rest. In our hearts his memory lingers. Sweetly tender, fond & true. There's not a day, dear brother, That we do not think of you. Lovingly remembered by sister Blanche, Clayton & family.

BIRD - In loving memory of a dear friend, Mildred, who passed away Dec. 24, 1981. Ever remembered by Jack & Ruby Francis & family.

McCANN Carrie - In loving memory of a dear mother, grandmother & great grand mother, who passed away Dec. 24, 1963. Farewell dear mother, your tears are o'er. Thy loving hands shall toil no more. On earth there's toil, In Heaven there's rest. You miss us too much. That loved you best. Ever remembered by children & families.

ROUSHORN - In loving memory of our dear mother & grandmother Dora Roush, who passed away Dec. 24, 1981.

God looked down upon the earth. And saw you getting tired. When a cure was not to be. He closed His arms around you.

And whispered "come to me". You didn't deserve what you went through. And so He gave you rest. God's garden must be beautiful.

For He only takes the best. Lovingly remembered by daughter Valerie, son-in-law Barclay, daughter Leona, grandchildren Terry, Randy, Sherrie & Brian Whiteman & Allan, Randy & Glenda Brough.

MARRISON - In loving memory of a dear mother & grandmother, Carrie, who passed away Dec. 20, 1968.

It's just a prayer from us who loved you. Precious memories kind & true. In our hearts you'll live forever. Because we thought the world of you. No length of time can take away. Your thoughts of you - from year to year. Lovingly remembered by the family.

MEMORIALS

BIRD - Mildred Elizabeth In loving memory of a dear wife, mother & grandmother who passed away Dec. 24, 1981.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last.
The world's weary troubles &
trials are past.
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore.
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
Ever remembered by the family. 11

SEABROOK - In memory of mother & dad, David & Flora Seabrook, deceased Oct. 16, 1967 & Dec. 11, 1961.
Beautiful memories they left behind.
Sadly missed by all. Florence

1982 Placement report

The 1982 Placement Report for graduates of post secondary programs at Loyalist College shows that eight out of ten, who were available for employment, are employed; 91.5 per cent of those employed are working in jobs which are directly related to their program of studies.

Despite the current economic conditions, the job-finding success of Loyalist College graduates has remained relatively high.

Farm Financial Management Courses

Farm financial management courses on the Quinte area basis will be offered again this winter. It is expected these courses will start in January and run one day a week for six weeks.

There will be no charge for these courses. Plans call for holding a dairy one in the Marysville area and a beef course in the Belleville area.
If you are interested contact the agricultural office, Picton, so further information on the course could be forwarded to you as it becomes available.

CHSS Journalism students to air four shows

Grade 13 journalism students at Centre Hastings Secondary School (CHSS), Madoc, are producing four television broadcasts to be aired in January, 1983, on cable 4.

The group are running the production under the supervision and guidance of Crichton Harrop, journalism teacher at CHSS and Gord Pigden, owner designer of the color television broadcast studio on Durham Street Madoc.

The four one hour programs are to be aired January 9, 16, 23, and 30, from 8 to 9 p.m.

The shows are designed to give the viewer an insight to the function of the school and its highlights. It also gives the students exposure to television production.

The segments will include school news, skits, school sports, interviews and music.

journalism.

"In a small village like this, it's fantastic to have the use of facilities like Gord Pigden's color studio," says Harrop.

Pigden, free of charge, is giving the 31 students instruction on the use of the color cameras and control room equipment. He will also help with direction and production.

The shows will be aired using a combination of taped and live segments. The taping will not begin until January 1.

Pigden equipped the studio with two new Sony color movie cameras last March. He says they are the latest models in the medium priced studio camera range.

It took Pigden from March to August to complete the conversion of the studio from black and white to color. He says he did most of the work himself with a little help from his son.

His original black and white studio was built in 1970.

After a long technical outline of the cameras and equipment in use at the present studio, Pigden said, "Let's see 'em" but don't trickery through and through.

Harrop explained that all the technical staff will be journalism students, but the talent may not be from

Gord Pigden's recently completed color television studio is at the disposal of CHSS grade 13 journalism students for the four broadcasts to be aired in January. Seen here is Pigden adjusting special effects switches in the studio's control room.

Acclaimed Councillor Myke Fraser, first woman on Elzevir Grimsthorpe

Acclaimed new Councillor "Myke" Fraser is the first woman to sit on Elzevir Grimsthorpe Township Council. She hopes council will be able to keep taxes down, as ratepayers are burdened with high taxes already.

Newly acclaimed Councillor Myke Fraser of Black River Road off Highway 7, is the first woman to sit as councillor on the Elzevir Grimsthorpe Township Council.

Former Councillor Larry Whitfield decided not to run again for council this year, instead he ran for and was elected to a seat on the Hastings County School Board. Seven other candidates ran for the two available seats. Beside Whitfield on the board is Mary Lee Burt.

Myke Fraser has a long history of achievements dating back before her marriage when she worked in the Canadian Armed Forces. She is the past president of the Cancer Society in the Tweed area, twice worthy matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, she served seven years on the Board of Governors at the Loyalist College, Belleville, and during that time sat on various committees related to the college. She is the former secretary of the Tweed and District Chamber of Commerce, and now (past two years) is president of the organization. She is also secretary-treasurer of the Madoc Hunt Club.

Fraser is married, has four children (all married) and is a real estate agent at Century 21 Real Estate.

She ran for councillor after friends urged her to do so. She says she was quite surprised there was no election. One candidate decided not to run.

"I'm looking forward to working on the council. I'm interested in seeing continued good local government," says Fraser.

Fraser says she would like to see the new council keep taxes in check, as ratepayers have been paying consistently rising taxes.

"Keeping taxes down as much as possible is something we should do. Council must keep school taxes down, because the burden of high taxes is affecting everyone," says Fraser.

Coveney is new sheriff

Bob Coveney of the Madoc area has been appointed sheriff for Hastings County.

Coveney applied for the position last August and was notified by Attorney General Roy McMurtry on December 1, that he had been appointed.

Coveney, resident of the area all his life, says he will spend time getting oriented with his new job after the holidays. His office will be located at the County Building in Belleville.

Coveney was formerly in his own equipment business, and now is in the process of selling out, because the new position will call for his full-time attention, he says.

Coveney succeeds to a post vacant for four months following the death of Ross Bailey, who had been sheriff of the county for 18 years. He died last July.

"I was pleased to receive the appointment," says Coveney of his new position.

Our mistake

Response to letter

A letter we ran in last week's edition of The Madoc Review drew some critical response this past week. It was felt by at least one person that at least one conclusion the writer formed during his letter was improper and in retrospect we agree.

Mr. Binch questioned the length of lunch hours supervisors in hydro took as compared to lunch hours of their employees. It was correctly pointed out to us that Mr. Binch had no basis for fact in this assumption.

Mr. Binch was also questioning the length of lunch hours hydro employees were apparently taking at Kramp's. David Kramp advised The Review this week that he knows hydro employees do not break for an hour and a half at his restaurant. They just don't do it, he said. And besides, we have ten to twelve trucks in here over the lunch period so it would be hard to prove that those same trucks were here for that length of time. He has his right to an opinion. I just think he should be sure his facts were correct.

We agree that Mr. Binch has every right to express his thoughts in a letter and we also admit that we should have edited that particular paragraph out of the letter when we realized we would not be able to check the facts before publishing. It was a mistake on our part, a fact we regret and apologize for.

Madoc Township has inaugural

Madoc Township Council met at their inaugural meeting on December 6, 1982. The oath of office was administered to Reeve John Irwin, Deputy Reeve Harold Harris, and Councillors Michael Haley, Mary Peden and Gerald Reid.

The reeve congratulated council on their return to office and briefly outlined some goals for the next three years stressing the need for financial responsibility and accountability. Similar opinions were expressed by the other members of council in their opening remarks.

A presentation was made on behalf of the Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club for use of Township road rights of way to which council had no objection but would contact the township solicitor before entering into any written agreement.

The road superintendent's report and vouchers were presented and approved for payment in the amount of $46,095.12.

A motion was carried to close the township office between December 25 and January 3, for Christmas holidays.

Township council extended official congratulations to Madoc Township

Fire Department on another successful year of upgrading fire protection capabilities and also to Godfrey Farms Inc. in the construction and operation of their modern food processing facility.

Two applications for land divisions were studied and recommended to the Hastings County Land Division Committee for approval.

The clerk was instructed to process BRIC application forms for work completed on Hazard's Church.

The next regular meeting of Madoc Township Council will be held January 3, 1983, at noon.

Pembroke site for disabled games

Pembroke has been selected as the site for the Eastern Ontario Games for the Physically Disabled, to be held May 27, 28, and 29, 1983.

This competition will lead outstanding athletes to the provincial and Canada Games.

The Pembroke Community Services Department are planning a full slate of athletic and social activities for all competitors in the various categories of wheelchair, amputee, blind and cerebral palsy. They have commenced working on developing facilities, soliciting volunteers, and seeking sponsors, from various service organizations and from private enterprise.

For the past two years the Centre Hastings Retraining Centre, Madoc, has sent their whole group of 25 people to the preliminary games as athletes or spectators. The centre does not receive funding from any other source than that of outside donations and sponsors. Last year the Centre Hastings Snowmobile Club sponsored the athletes and spectators for games held in Belleville. Burrell Baiteman Bus Lines provided free transportation for the group.

A Central Hastings Retraining Centre official said, "We are not sure whether or not we will be participating in the Pembroke Games or not."

Queensboro News

Stretch those precious dollars!

A flea market is a good place to try and stretch those dollars through the present economic recession, according to Bob and Donna Tombs, who run the B and D Flea Market on Ridge Road, just a mile or so outside Stirling.

"People can't afford to go to the stores and buy the stuff for the prices (retailers are) asking, it's just too much," says Mr. Tombs. "And people around here are making things, and they're charging less money, and they're just as good if not better quality than you get in any manufactured good."

There are two sorts of sellers who rent a sales table for Sunday from 9 to 5 for $8. Some, like a long-time neighbor of Mr. Tombs, come to sell wares they have made at home. The neighbor had chocolate specialty items, many with Christmas designs. Another sold small wooden boxes and shelves. Some vendors rent one of 14 tables in the market, a converted truck repair garage, instead of having a yard sale; they have household items they no longer need. Probably the most expensive item last Sunday was a multi-band radio, for which its seller asked $50. But, of course, one is welcome to haggle.

The market is only open Sunday, but Mrs. Tombs spends time during the week getting organized for the coming Sunday, as well as working for the local Catholic women's group, and raising three daughters.

Mr. Tombs, 38, had been a contracting truck repairman for 15 years, repairing rigs for Bata and various Belleville firms. But the recession hit hard into his business, and he now works for Quaker Oats in Trenton.

There were few start up costs for the B and D Flea Market, he says, because the building was paid off. Once the Tombs decided to give the flea market idea a try about three weeks ago, it was just a matter of making a few renovations to the inside, and cleaning it up. They have also installed a small fountain.

Robert Purdy

St. Giles Presbyterian Church, Islington, was the setting for the marriage of Barbara Isabel Cook to Robert Arthur Purdy on October 9, 1982.

Dr. W. Adamson officiated at the service. The bride is the daughter of Reginald and Margaret Cook, Islington, Ontario, and the groom is the son of Arthur and Edelen Purdy of Oshawa, Ontario.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Edwardian styled gown of tulle with pleated skirt and sleeves with lace bodice and cuffs trimmed with seed pearls. Her two tier veil was trimmed with matching lace and pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and mums with ivy.

Dorothy Irving of Toronto, the bride's sister was matron of honor. Carol Piscapo the bride's sister and Sharon Kenz, sister of the groom were bridesmaids.

The attendants all wore teal moire taffeta gowns styled with puffed sleeves and full skirts. All carried bouquets of peach carnations, white roses and baby's breath.

Gary Kotwa was best man and the ushers were Terry Kotwa and Tim Abbot, all friends of the groom.

Elizabeth McCullough of Montreal was soloist.

The reception was held at the Bristol Place Hotel, Dixon Road.

To receive the guests, the bride's mother wore a two piece, street length dress of ivory chiffon and the groom's mother chose a silver grey chiffon dress, both wore orchid corsages. The couple went to Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic for their honeymoon.

Guests were present from Montreal, Ottawa, Madoc, Calgary and Chicago.

The Twiddys celebrate their 25th.

On a snowy evening, 25 years ago, December 7, 1957, at 7 p.m. Lorna May Gifford of Queensborough and Rayburn Foster Twiddy of Belleville, exchanged wedding vows in Halloway United Church, Belleville. The bride of 25 years is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gifford of Queensborough and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Twiddy of Belleville. Maid of honor for the ceremony was Marva Hogg of Trenton and the bestman was Tom McKay of Belleville.

Mrs. Orville Ash, formerly of Madoc, then residing in Belleville, made the wedding cake and hosted a small reception for the happy couple.

Prior to returning to Madoc 17 years ago, Ray was employed at Loblaw's in L'Ambridge. He is now an Audio Video Technician at CHSS and the couple are still residing at the Twiddy family homestead. From this union, Ray and Lorna were blessed with five girls: Sherry, Calgary, Alberta; Mary Anne Peacock, Mississauga; Tammy, Calgary, Alberta; Penny Tomlinson, Madoc; and Dennise at home. They also have two grandchildren.

On December 3, 1982, approximately 300 friends and relatives from near and far gathered at the Hayloft, RR 3, Tweed, to help celebrate Ray and Lorna's 25th wedding anniversary. The Land O' Lakes Cruisers provided music for dancing and a delightful meal prepared by Maureen Allen and girls of CHSS was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Gifford

Out-of-town guests were from Mississauga, Richmond Hill, Kitchener, Aurora, West Hill, Belleville, Tweed and Madoc.

A Bobcat on Bobcats Intermediate player broke the unwritten rule about check.

ing goalies, or perhaps he just couldn't stop himself. But with Stirling's net-tinger flat on the ice, the puck just seemed to find its way into the net. The Stirling Intermediates went on to lose a very physical game 17-7.

Madoc Bantam A team extends string

The Bantam "A" team under the combined coaching efforts of Richard Chapman and Jim Denison have run their consecutive undefeated string now to seven games. Last Sunday, December 12, a hard-fought, 4-1 bounce of a win over Colborne, put our boys into a first place tie with Colborne.

Then this past week, in Thursday, December 16, the Madoc fellows squeaked to a 5-5 tie fixture.

Frankford counted the only goal in the first period. Madoc rallied for 3 unanswered netters in the second period, then leading 3-1. David Denison led the boys in this scoring surge with 1 goal and 2 assists, while Chris Daniels helped on two of the goals.

In an exciting third period, Madoc and Frankford traded back and forth for the first 6 minutes making the score read 5-3 for Madoc. It looked like another big Madoc win coming up, but Frankford changed that plan and made it 5-4 with only under 4 minutes left. Then, Frankford pulled it out of the fire, managing an equalizer with only 53 seconds left. Final tally was 5-5 in an exceptionally exciting match.

Getting on the point list were: David Denison, 1 goal, 2 assists; Peter Ringelman, 1 goal, 1 assist; Stephen Needham, 1 goal; Lennie Hyde, 1 goal; Duncan Kosziwka, 1 goal; Chris Daniels, 2 assists; Don Powell, 1 assist; and Larry Bird, 1 assist.

Then, on home ice, here in Madoc, the Bantam "A" team edged Tweed 6-5, Friday, December 17. This was a real thriller with some hard checking, good goal keeping, strong shooting, fast rushing and some great goals scored. It was a closely contested battle and over into the last seconds one would wonder if Madoc could hold on, but hold on they did, to squeak through a 6-5 decision.

Tweed jumped into a quick 2-0 lead, but Madoc marched back and led 3-2 after period one. Then Tweed notched 2 more in the early part of the period to go ahead 4-3, but again Madoc refused to be outdone and added 2 more of their own to hold on to a bare 5-4 second period lead.

Beginning the third period Duncan Kosziwka rattled home his second goal of the night and we now had a 6-4 margin. Less than a minute later Tweed made it 6-5. It was a nail-biting last few minutes that saw torrid end-to-end action, including some top notch goal keeping in both ends. When it ended it staged 6-5 for Madoc.

The point people were: Duncan Kosziwka, 2 goals, 1 assist; Peter Ringelman, 1 goal, 1 assist; Ross Allen, 1 goal; Scott Chapman, 1 goal; Danny Powell, 1 goal; Chris Daniels, 3 assists; David Denison, 1 assist; Lennie Hyde, 1 assist; and Troy Melvin, 1 assist.

Madoc Bantam B team drops two

at 9-5 for Napanee.

Point makers for Madoc were: Brian Armstrong with 2 goals, 1 assist; Brian Derry, 1 goal, 1 assist; Jason Garniss, 1 goal, 1 assist; Paul Hagerman, 1 goal, 1 assist. Single assists went to Todd Tracey, Todd MacMillan, Jeff Garniss, Jamie Danford and Shawn Adams.

The second loss of the week came in Stirling, Friday, December 17, to the tune of 7-1 against Stirling Bantam team.

Stirling ran up a 5-1 first period lead, adding one more in each of the last two periods, to win 7-1 over the Madoc lads.

Madoc's only goal came from Jason Garniss, assisted by Brian Armstrong and Jeff Garniss.

Minor Hockey meeting

MARMORA: Marmora Minor Hockey held its monthly meeting on December 9. There were only six members present but business was light.

It was discussed that the Atoms and Pee-wees are in need of new sweaters this year. There was some tournament correspondence and Mrs. Josie Ellis attended the meeting with some questions on helping with the tournament.

A letter was received by Carolyn Jennings, our contact person, that all questions are to be directed to her and she will, in turn, call Mr. Jerry Carr, our convener. The coaches and managers are not to call direct. Anyone who has any questions about minor hockey is invited to attend the meeting, held the second Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

Madoc Midgets edge

Tweed by 7 - 6 score

Tuesday, December 21, here on Madoc ice Madoc made it 7 games without defeat squeaking out a 7-6 triumph over their arch rivals the Tweed Midgets. The Madoc team now boasts an 8 win, 1 loss and 2 tie record.

The game was wide open during the first period with no less than 8 goals being scored in the first eight minutes of play.

Tweed counted first, but Kevin Bertrand notched his first of two for the night, tying the score. Tweed again went ahead 2-1 only to have Eric Brinks and Doug Reid put Madoc ahead 3-2 (Doug Reid got three goals during the game.) Tweed was not to be outdone and banged in two more to lead, again 4-3. Madoc answered the challenge and promptly notched two more, both by Doug Reid, to end a wild first period of scoring at 4-4.

Period two saw Tweed draw first blood and wrap in the tying goal to start the period at 4-4. Kevin Bertrand got his second of the night, while Mark Campbell also beat the Tweed goalie to leave the score seven for Madoc and five for Tweed after two stanzas.

In the final period, Tweed got the only marker with 18 seconds left. The final score was Madoc seven, Tweed six.

Pointmen for Madoc were: Doug Reid, 3 goals, 1 assist; Kevin Bertrand, 2 goals; Mark Campbell, 1 goal, 3 assists; Eric Brooks, 1 goal; Bob Bromson, 1 assist; Byron Hobson, 1 assist; Steve Lamb, 1 assist; Kevin Fox, 1 assist; and Alex Love, 1 assist.

Juveniles earn 5 - 1 win

BY SUSAN M. CUDDY

MARMORA: The Marmora Juveniles travelled to Bancroft on December 19 and returned with a 5-1 victory to add to their list of wins.

Andy Barrons, assisted by Scott Terrien, started the scoring off early in the first period, but the quick start meant nothing to Bancroft as they held the scoring off until the second period when Tom Hughes, assisted by Scott Terrien, scored. Randy Gray's goal finished the second period and Tim Williamson's goal opened the third. Bancroft's Jamie Patran scored their only goal, but Mike Franks scored goal number five to finish a very rough game.

Novices tie Havelock

win 4-4.

MARMORA: The Marmora Novices travelled to Havelock, December 16, to tie Havelock 1-1. Marmora's goal was by Jason Nicholson, assisted by Ke-Havelock's goal was by Pascal Hill assisted by Glenn Fogl and Adam Levesque.

Madoc Houseleague action

December 23 saw two more House League Hockey games. In game one the Kings beat the Hawks 16-9.

This victory moved the Kings into first place (actually tied with the Canadians) because of a better goal average.

It was a wide open scoring match. After the first period the game was tight with only a 6-5 advantage for the winning Kings.

For the latter part of the affair the Kings seemed to just run away to the high tune of a 16-9 victory. Point getters for the first place Kings were: Joey Kehoe, 4 goals, 5 assists; Tim Bailey, 4 goals, 1 assist; Pat Bailey, 5 goals, 1 assist; Mark McGuire, 2 goals, 1 assist; Jeff Wiggins, 2 goals, 1 assist; Greg Tobin, 1 assist; and Dale Sagar, 1 assist.

Gaining points for the losing Hawks were: Jason Bailey, 3 goals, 2 assists; Tom Burnside, 3 goals; Andy Griffith, 2 goals; Derek Lucas, 1 goal, 1 assist; and Tim Osborne, 2 assists. Game two saw the Flyers beat the Bruins 8-6.

With their second victory in succession the Flyers moved into a third place tie with the Hawks. The Hawks were short players and were able to use the two Kehoe brothers to their advantage. Mike played steadily as goalkeeper and held out a good number of tough shots. Joey scored four goals to lead the team to victory. (This gives Joey eight goals, and three assists, for both games played during the night).

The Flyers jumped into a quick 3-0 lead in the game, but the Bruins led by Troy and Wade Wickens and Clinton Carswell tied the game 3-3 after the first period.

In the second period, Clinton Carswell put the losing Bruins ahead 4-3. Then the Flyers notched another three consecutive goals by Stewart Bronson, Peter Denison and Joey Kehoe to lead 6-4. Wade Wickens gained his second goal not long after and the score was then 6-5 for the Flyers. Joey Kehoe got his third of four to make it 7-5 only to have Clinton Carswell bang in his third of the night to cause the count to read 7-6 for the Flyers. Brad Phillips "iced the cake" with only one second left for the Flyers, by getting his second goal of the game, to put the final score at 8-6 for the Flyers.

Pointmen for the Flyers: Joey Kehoe, 4 goals; Brad Phillips, 2 goals, 4 assists; Stewart Bronson, 1 goal; Peter Denison, 1 goal; Dave Hobson, 2 assists; and Kert Rosnuk, 1 assist.

Point collectors for the Bruins: Clinton Carswell, 3 goals; Wade Wickens, 2 goals, 2 assists; and Troy Wickens, 1 goal.

House League Standings [as of December 23]

Kings 5 wins, 1 loss for 6 points; Canadians - 3 wins, 1 loss for 6 points; Hawks - 2 wins, 2 losses for 4 points; Flyers - 2 wins, 2 losses for 4 points; Bruins - 0 wins, 4 losses for 0 points.

Top Point Makers in House League

Kings - Joey Kehoe, 13 goals, 6 assists for 19 points; Tim Bailey, 9 goals, 8 assists for 17 points. Canadians - Tom Deline, 6 goals, 2 assists for 8 points; John Chappelle, 3 goals, 5 assists for 6 points. Hawks - Jason Bailey, 14 goals, 9 assists for 23 points; Andy Griffith, 11 goals, 5 assists for 14 points.

Flyers - Brad Phillips, 14 goals, 7 assists for 21 points; Kert Rosnuk, 6 goals, 3 assists for 9 points. Bruins - Wade Wickens, 6 goals, 3 assists for 9 points; Clinton Carswell, 6 goals, 1 assist for 7 points.

Madoc Midgets win seven straight

Tuesday, December 21, and Thursday, December 23, were the occasion for two more Madoc Midget triumphs - 7-6 over Tweed and 10-4 over Frankford. The team has now extended its undefeated string from November 12, to 7 consecutive ones. The team record is now 9 wins, 1 loss and 2 ties.

The 10-4 win over Frankford was on Frankford ice, Thursday, December 23.

Madoc poured on the steam and jumped into a quick 3-0 first period lead. The Frankford boys tightened up and, before the period was over, it was 3-3. Madoc counted the only two goals in period two, making it 5-3 for Madoc. As the third period elapsed the Madoc boys began to run away with the battle. They outscored Frankford 5-1 in the final period to make the end result register at 10-4 for the big "Ms". Actually, Frankford skated fairly evenly with Madoc, after the early flurry by the Madoc riflemen. It was really only when Madoc took quick advantage of two Frankford miscues in the third period, to score, that they began their runaway win.

So another Madoc Minor Hockey Club keeps winning!

Point counters for the big "M's" team were: Byron Hobson, 4 goals; Bob Bronson, 2 goals; Kevin Bertrand, 1 goal, 2 assists; Doug Reid, 1 goal, 2 assists; Pete Brady, 1 goal, 1 assist; Eric Brinks, 1 goal, 1 assist; and Mike O'Riordan, 1 assist.

It should be pointed out that the string combination of Kevin Bertrand, Byron Hobson and Mike O'Riordan worked really well together for the night and combined for 8 points together.

Doug Reid with 22 goals and 23 assists totals 45 points to lead the team to date in points. Bob Bronson with 11 goals, 16 assists for 27 points is second.

Madoc earns draw

In an exciting contest December 21, in Marmora, the newly formed Peewee 'B' team earned a thrilling 4-4 deadlock against the Marmora Peewee 'B' team.

That, the first competition for these teams, was a hotly contested game.

During the first period, Marmora seemed to intimidate the Madoc boys and netted the only goal in the period.

Madoc came back to tie it early in the second period on a beautiful goal by Shawn Gray. Before the period ended, Marmora scored two more on break-aways to lead 3-1. Tom Deline began the third period scoring for Madoc to bring the tally to 3-2. Peter Denison caused the game to go into a tie with a goal. Marmora cooled the "hot jets" of Madoc by scoring what looked like three minutes to go, but Madoc, who had relentlessly skated hard for both the previous two periods, and who dug hard after the puck often, were rewarded with a tying goal by Greg Tobin with under three minutes remaining. It was a well deserved tie.

On many occasions the Marmora goalie pulled off some unbelievable stops and on two or three occasions the puck just rolled by the Marmora goal.

Mike Kehoe played a steady game in goal for Madoc. Sean Bush played a solid game on defense. Shawn Gray was outstanding on the forward. Tom Deline also excelled on the forward line. All told, the boys did exceptionally well.

Pointgetters for Madoc were: Shawn Gray, 1 goal, 1 assist; Peter Denison, 1 goal, 1 assist; Greg Tobin, 1 goal, 1 assist; Troy Wickens, 1 goal, 1 assist; Scott Armstrong, 1 assist; and Pat Bailey, 1 assist.

Novices

win thriller

Friday, December 17, in Stirling, Madoc Novices got sweet revenge over the strong Stirling Novices 4-3. Earlier in a tournament in Wellington, Stirling had defeated Madoc 7-3. So, with this fine team effort, the Madoc Novices now hold an excellent 3-0 season's record, with 4 consecutive wins under their belt.

Counting points for Madoc were: Tim Bailey, 2 goals; Brad Phillips, 1 goal, 1 assist; Tom Burnside, 1 goal; Dave Hobson, 1 assist; and Jason Daniels, 1 assist.

Two record fish caught in Molson's Big Fish Contest

Two all-time records were broken in the 1982 Molson Rig Fish Contest. The contest, which tests the prowess of resident and non-resident anglers alike, is administered by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

Ted Triebner, of Grand Bend set a new Ontario Provincial record in the Coho Salmon class with his 24 pounder which he caught on a Canadian Wiggler at Goderich Harbour on Lake Huron.

The second contest record was established when Keith Burbidge of Midland, Ontario, landed a 20 pound 15 ounce Yellow Pickerel in Georgian Bay. What a beauty! This enormous "Walleye" was 37 inches long and smashed a record that had stood since 1959.

Each of these two lucky record breaking anglers has earned a 60 h.p. Evinrude outboard motor and $150 in prize money.

Lake Trout competition relaxed a little this year with the prize winning fish coming in 5 pounds shy of last year's winner Bill Hunter of Brooklin, Ontario, took first place with a 34 pound 7 ounce "laker" which he caught in Lake Temagami.

Several 7 and 8 pound Largemouth Bass were entered but couldn't compete with Ralph Bellamy's 8½ pounder. Ralph is from Agincourt and bagged his huge catch in Glanville Lake, Tudor Township using a frog for bait.

Number one Smallmouth Bass is the same weight as last year's winner, tipping the scales at a whopping 7 pounds 5 ounces. The first place prize went to Thomas Klonis from Pottstown, Pennsylvania, and was caught at Clear Lake in South Crosby Township.

Harry Casian of Lake Placid, Florida, topped the Northern Pike category with his 31 pound "Northern" captured from the Serpent River. Eleven of the top 15

Appreciation is wished to be expressed by the Madoc Minor Hockey Association to Mr. and Mrs. Gary and Joanne Smith, for their most attractive addition to the trophy case at the Madoc Arena. This donation consists of excellently taken map shots of last year's OMHA Atom Finlists team, with associated coaches and personnel. These photos are then fitted into carefully done picture frames arranged in groups of various sizes. pike were taken by non-resident anglers.

A beautiful "Brookie" took the Speckled Trout top prize tipping the scales at an even 9 pounds. The skilled angler was Ed McCluskey from Nipigon, Ontario, and was fishing the Nipigon River, north of Lake Superior.

For the third straight year, the top "Muskie" was caught in Wabigoon Lake. Donald Reed of Anoka, Minnesota weighed in his giant at 51 pounds 8 ounces.

A beautiful specimen to represent the Maskinonge category.

Just shy of the all-time record, the first prize

Chinook Salmon was landed by John DiGenova at the Nottawasaga River, while using roe for bait. John said his prize tasted good - all 43 pounds of it!

First place in the Rainbow Trout category was ensured when Delbert Pinkerton of Peterborough landed a beautiful 25 pound 4 ounce Rainbow at Wilmo: Creek.

First place winners will all receive $150 plus a 4.5 h.p. Evinrude outboard motor; in the event they have an all-time record, they win the 60 h.p. Evinrude motor in lieu of the 4.5 h.p.

Big Fish Contest. More

entries were received this year than ever before. A number of entries were disqualified for insufficient evidence, lack of witnesses and questionable weights. The 37,000 member Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters has run the contest since 1958.

Canada Farm Show features cattle sales

The 1985 Canada Farm Show being held January 25-28 at the Coliseum Exhibition Place, Toronto, will offer two outstanding cattle sales.

The Holstein Invitational Sale is being held at the Canada Farm Show for the second year. Show of the sale animals will take place at 10 a.m. on Wednesday, January 26, and the sale will follow at 1:30 p.m.

Thirty-five approved Registered ROP Holstein cattle have been selected from top herds across Ontario for the sale. These animals have been sired by such bulls as Valiant, Triple Threat and Rockman.

The sale will offer bred heifers, spring and fresh young cows with full pedigrees. Every animal has outstanding potential. Buyers are expected from across Southwestern Ontario. For the convenience of buyers, Holstein cattle purchased at the Show can be returned to and picked up at Cansco's Sales Arena in Cansco.

More quality cattle will be shown than in 1982 so the sale provides a good opportunity for breeders to buy from an excellent selection of cattle.

The Winter Classic Sale of the West-Central Ontario Hereford Zone will take place on Thursday, January 27, with a show of the sale animals at 10 a.m. and the sale at 1 p.m. Both the showing and the sale will be held in the Coliseum this year.

The sale will offer 49 entries of the highest quality animals we have ever had," says Craig

Lyburner, secretary of the West Central Ontario Hereford Zone. "We have a very good selection of excellent pedigreed cattle."

The sale is expected to draw 400-500 people. Although it is difficult to say, Lyburner thinks that prices will be up from last year.

Buyers are expected from Western Canada and possibly the United States. Lyburner has already received a promising inquiry from an interested buyer in Saskatchewan.

There has been good interest indicated in the sale to date and organizers are looking forward to a record setting sale.

Other features of the 1985 Canada Farm Show are 300,000 square feet of display space packed with the latest farm equipment and supplies; Ontario Agriculture Outlook '85 providing information about the future of Ontario agriculture (presented by the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association), and Country and Western entertainment on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Driving blind

You can't avoid the hazard you can't see. In winter, drivers are faced with special visibility problems that require some advance work before getting on the road. So plan ahead for the drive ahead, urges the Ontario Safety League.

Allow at least 10 to 15 minutes before every trip for snow removal and general cold weather conditioning of your car to meet prevailing weather conditions. For a systematic check, the league recommends these winter sight-saving tips:

1) Remove snow, frost, or ice glare from the entire windshield and all windows.
2) Clean off headlights and taillights so that other drivers can see them clearly.

3) Turn on your heater for a minute or two before using the defroster so humidity won't fog the windshield when it hits the cold glass.

4) Use your wipers and washer as often as required to prevent road spatter build-up.

5) Stop and wipe outside lights and mirrors from time to time to control spatter, snow or moisture build-up.
6) Keep lights on low beam when driving in fog or heavy snowfall.

BY SHAYNA B. KRAVETZ, LL.B.

How Can I Protect My Rights Under the Ontario Human Rights Code?

Once you think you've been discriminated against, the Code provides a procedure for you to enforce your rights. The first step for you is to make a complaint in writing to the Ontario Human Rights Commission.

(You should do this within six months from the date on which you were last discriminated against.) In addition, the Commission itself can make a complaint if it thinks someone's rights are being infringed.

Once a complaint has been made, the commission must investigate and see whether the complaint is properly made under the Code, and does not belong under some other Act. If it comes to the conclusion that the complaint does need to be looked into and that the Commission is the right agency to do it, a commission officer will begin to investigate the facts of the complaint, talk to the parties involved, and see whether some settlement can be reached.

In investigating the complaint, the Commission's officers have powers to enter any place except someone's home, request people and companies to show them documents or things relevant to the complaint, and question people involved in the situation that led to the complaint. The officer may also apply to a judge for a warrant to enter a home or any other place where he or she has been refused permission to enter, or to take documents that have been refused.

After the investigation, the Commission may request the Minister of Labor to appoint a board of inquiry. This board of inquiry acts like a court to hear both sides of the story.

The board has many of the powers of a court: it can issue a subpoena to require someone to testify; it hears evidence from witnesses, and has it recorded by a court reporter; it can require people to produce documents or things which it wants to see. The "judge" in a board of inquiry hearing is an independent person who has no connection with the Human Rights Commission. He or she is appointed by the Minister of Labor.

After the board has heard the evidence for both sides, it must decide: (1) whether the complainant has been discriminated against under the Act; (2) who was responsible for the discrimination; (3) what can be done to remedy the damage caused by the discrimination.

In considering remedies, the board has very broad powers. It may require that person against whom the complaint was made to do anything that the board considers would help in achieving compliance with the Code, either now or in the future. It may require that person to pay damages to the complainant for money the complainant lost as a result of the discrimination (e.g. the wages you weren't paid because you weren't hired). It may require that person to pay up to $10,000 to the complainant for mental anguish, if the person discriminated recklessly or deliberately.

When someone has been discriminated against because of handicap, the board may order that person, to make alterations to his or her business premises or housing accommodation that will help the handicapped person to gain easier access or use the facilities, provided the expense of doing so is not unfairly hard on the person against whom the complaint was made. (Remember though, that discrimination because of handicap will not be found when the only problem was lack of access or amenities.)

Where the complaint arose out of a case of harassment, the board may not just make an order against the harasser. In certain circumstances, it may also reserve the right to re-open the case if another complaint is received, and make an order against the person in control of the place where the harassment took place.

An appeal is available from any decision of the board of inquiry to the Divisional Court.

In addition to the procedure before the board of inquiry, anyone may lay a charge under the Code against anyone who does not abide by it. The Code provides that failure to comply is an offence punishable by a fine of up to $25,000. But, before such a charge may be laid, the Attorney-general of the province must give his or her written permission for the prosecution.

The Code applies not only to individuals and companies, but also to unions, trade associations, municipalities, police commissions, partnerships, and the Government of Ontario itself.

Youngsters need a good breakfast

The hockey season is here. All across the country, youngsters are turning out in the predawn cold for hockey practice. Many of them arrive without breakfast. They can't be expected to do their best if they haven't eaten since the previous night, say food and nutrition specialists with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food.

Breakfast is the most important meal of the day. This is especially true for the young hockey hopefuls who start their morning so early and so vigorously. They have a proper chance, they need a well-balanced meal containing carbohydrates like cereal, bread in some form or muffins, protein such as an egg, cheese, peanut butter, or meat, a bit of fat and vitamins and minerals from juice or fruit. It's much better to get these nutrients from food than from pills.

The young athletes don't have to eat all this before heading to the rink. It's often best to divide breakfast into meals and after practice mini-meals. They could have hot cereal and milk before leaving home and an egg, cheese, or peanut butter sandwich with milk and juice before school.

Hot cereals really hit the spot on cold winter mornings. They don't take long to prepare. Most kinds available today cook in five minutes. Whole grain cereals that require long, gentle cooking can be simmered overnight on the lowest heat in a slow cooker or they could be completely cooked the night before and reheated in the morning.

Just follow package instructions, making the porridge in the top of a double boiler. As soon as it's ready, cover it with plastic wrap to prevent a skin forming on the surface and refrigerate the pot. In the morning, add a little milk and reheat, without stirring, over boiling water. When it's hot, stir and serve.

Protein is essential in a balanced breakfast. Without it, any youngster will probably feel hungry, listless and sleepy around 10 a.m. If the meal is going to be divided into two parts, it's best to save the important protein foods for the second mini-meal.

The theory that athletes need extra protein is not correct. They need the same amount as anyone else their age. People involved in strenuous physical activity need extra calories instead, to make up for the energy spent in sports or heavy labor.

Special supplements, diet regimes or nutrient pills won't help athletes as much as sensible eating habits, following Canada's Food Guide.

Madoc Peewee team extends string

Fresh from their 8-3 victory two nights before over the same Colborne team played in Colborne, the mighty Madoc Peewees did it again, with a 5-2 Friday, December 17, home ice victory over Colborne. Their record now is a fantastic 12-0. Should we invite the (mighty?) Maple Leafs in for a game? You could answer that one.

If it hadn't been for the steadfast goalkeeping done by the Colborne goalie the score could have been higher considering the powerful Peewee guns. Madoc had leads of 1-0 after the 1st period, 3-1 after 2 periods and a final winning tab of 5-2. At one point in the third period, the Colborne club pulled to within one goal of Madoc, but the Madoc lads mowed in 2 more goals nearer the end of the game to "put it away." These goals were rifled in by Stephen Bancroft, who counted four of the five the team scored. This, as well, gives Bancroft 50 in the net so far this season.

Other point getters were David Wood, 1 goal, Derek Chapman, 3 assists (this gives Chapman 7 assists in the last 2 games played, a very commendable feat for a rear guard who is doing excellent defence work and scoring points to boot!). Steven Brinks, 2 assists; Brian Forestell, 1 assist; Robyn Plumber, 1 assist; and Trevor McTaggart, 1 assist.

Atoms refuse to lose

Marmora were the next victims in the continued onslaught of the invincible Atom club. Friday, December 17, in Marmora, Madoc walked off with an easy 6-1 victory. Season's record is now 11-0. Not too bad, really is it?

Marmora jumped into, scoring the game's first goal but that was all that was heard from them the rest of the night. Madoc tied the game before period one ended, added two more in period two, and rattled home three more for good measure in the final frame. End result, Madoc 6, Marmora 1.

Again Madoc displayed the same excellent all round team effort with the following getting points: Jim Bonter, 5 goals; Jeff Sawkins, 2 goals; Shawn Chapman, 1 goal; Ian Ketcheson, 3 assists; Clayton Carl, 2 assists; Pat Graham, 2 assists; Jason Bailey, 1 assist; and Paul McMaster, 1 assist.

Pee Wees on track

BY SUSAN CUDDY

MARMORA—The Marmora Peewees hosted Colborne on December 20. The game was the final one played before Christmas and the holidays were started off right with a 6-2 victory for Marmora.

Colborne opened the scoring early in the first period, but Marmora was quick to answer. Stephen Pascoe assisted by Kevin Doyle and Jeff Clemens. Steven Bedore scored the second goal assisted by Kevin Doyle. Jamie Nicol son assisted by Matt Cuddy and Tim Cassidy and Steven Bedore assisted by Stephen Pascoe and Shawn Prindle with the third and fourth goals Colborne scored then second goal halfway through the second period but Kevin Doyle assisted by Tim Cassidy and Terry Deline and Tim Cassidy assisted by Kevin Doyle and Steven Bedore put two more goals on the board for the six two victory.

OPP REPORT

Madoc detachment of officers investigated a total of 42 general occurrences for the period of December 6-12.

Investigations were conducted into 3 reports of theft, 2 wilful damage, 2 disturbances, one assault and one narcotics violation. Two missing juveniles were located during this period of time.

Four charges were laid under the liquor licence act, four persons charged with impaired driving, and two charged with refusing to take the breathalyzer test. A total of seven driver's licences were suspended for twelve hours due to persons drinking and then driving.

Nine accidents were reported to police this week. Only 2 minor injuries were sustained, however, a total of $9,600 damage was done.

December 9, a Ford tractor operated by Capital City Transport was traveling west on Highway 7 just west of Madoc when flames began leaping out from the engine area. The driver, George Coffin, 51, Ottawa, Ontario, managed to flee the truck before it burned completely, causing approximately $50,000 damage. Madoc and Madoc Township Fire Departments attended and extinguished the fire.

Madoc detachment along with all other departments and detachments in Ontario is involved in a Christmas Anti-impaired driving program.

As a result, additional check stops are being conducted. This detachment has at its disposal road side breathalyzer sets which are continually in use.

During the week December 6-12, 23 vehicles were stopped and checked, 9 persons were charged with alcohol driving offences and 12 drivers received 12 hour suspensions.

This program will continue right through the Christmas - New Year period and all drivers should be aware that if they drink they are placing themselves and others in danger. They are also increasing their chances of receiving a fine and a licence suspension.

St. Andrew's PCW

When the ladies of St. Andrew's met for their December meeting, it took the form of a potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Harry Morrow. The beautifully decorated rooms and the attractively set table added a lovely touch to the happy occasion of food, fun and fellowship.

After the business and reports, Gena Spry led us in the devotions, meditating upon this special time of the year when we celebrate the birth of the Christ Child. She opened with a poem "Greetings for the Christmas Season".

Edna Fox read the scripture from Luke 2nd chapter telling of the birth of Christ. Christmas has inspired poets to write their loveliest verses. It has inspired some of the finest stories in all literature, but none can ever surpass or quite approach in poetic beauty or literary perfection the Christmas story in Luke's gospel. The Christmas story is so beautiful that it lights lamps in the eyes of little children and sets warm fires burning in the hearts of grownups. No other story can compare with it.

Gena read, The Light of the World, and The Real Meaning of Christmas, and Bessie Rodgers read, Christmas of Yesterday, a poem written by Myrtle Broadworth.

We sang several appropriate Christmas songs and hymns and were favored with a duet by Mildred Morrow and Nellie McIntosh. Mildred accompanied our singing with her organ music and we all enjoyed a rousing singfest, including the singing in parts of The Friendly Beast.

An exchange of gifts was the wind-up of the afternoon and a "thank-you" was expressed to Mildred for the lovely afternoon which all had enjoyed so much and for the extra touches she had provided to make this such a great afternoon.

Eric Manlow, a second-year defenceman for the Blues, scored a goal in their 3-0 victory over Norwood last Thursday.

Land O' Lakes review policing

The regular monthly meeting for the Board of Directors of the Land O' Lakes Tourist Association was held December 6, 1982, at Twin Pine Resort, Cloyne. Owners Gladys and Jack Rennie opened their home for this meeting. Jack being a director.

It was a very informative meeting with nine of twelve directors being present as well as business representative and secretary-treasurer. There were also ten guests present including Bill Van Kempen, representing Barrie Township and Frontenac County; Bob Harvey, Oso Township and Ontario Provincial Police Community Services Officer Jim Wilson, Kaladar, and Tom Kopansky, Sharbot Lake.

A letter of application acceptance to Eastern Ontario Travel Association was read from Managing Director William Elliott. Effective date of membership in EOTA is April 1st, 1983. This is a giant step forward in the promotion of our region.

Werner Lips reported a Ministry of Tourism and Recreation Awareness Program is to be implemented early in January 1983. Tourism Consultant Ron Holmes is to be available to meet with County and Municipal Councils to give input with regard to tourism promotion being done presently by government and how they can help local tourist associations. Ron also will have two seminars available: one on marketing and the other on financing which should be helpful to the business community.

An interesting background history sketch of Land O' Lakes Tourist Association written by John Savigny, retired businessman, was read. It appears that many women have been instrumental in the formation and continuance of the Land O' Lakes Tourist Association giving diligent effort for the association and support of their husbands' endeavours to promote the area, throughout the thirty odd years of its existence. All ladies present were not surprised! Thanks John for your valuable input.

OPP Community Services Officer, Jim Wilson of Kaladar Detachment and Tom Kopansky of Sharbot Lake Detachment attended the meeting in order to bring information on policing in the northern section of the region. It was learned that the Kaladar Detachment police an approximate permanent resident population of 2500 to 3000. The Sharbot Lake area with a permanent resident population of approximately 6500 have one man on patrol at all times. Apparently there are many government cutbacks at this time and the policing of such a vast, sparsely populated area such as ours presents an economic problem. There is a freeze on hiring and training of personnel at this time as well as no overtime budget with only minimum overtime payments. Kaladar policemen work an eight hour shift and are not required to take calls, however, they are doing so on their own initiative.

Some suggestions to avert break and enter occurrences were: businesses and also private home owners (and cottage) should mark all valuables with an electric etching pencil. A specific identification number is advisable but best mark is driver's license number; use Beware of Dog signs; have small or large yappy dog on the premises; night lights - especially at rear of premises; lights on inside of buildings; empty till before leaving premises; and make the establishment as difficult as possible to enter.

It should be known that the Ontario Provincial Police will do a security check of your premises and give worthwhile suggestions.

After a discussion period, President Smart voiced words of appreciation which were followed by a round of applause for the officers.

Brian Cleland introduced the newsletter which will be mailed out to membership shortly. He stressed the importance of participation by members and input to directors with cheers and/or jeers. Also members are invited to get involved in (March 18th-27th/83) Sportsmen's Show via our Tourist Association Booth by calling Jack Rennie at (613) 336-2202. Also participation is invited in mail shows by calling Doreen Howard at (613) 336-2404.

Discussion of map production, and distribution ensued as January is printing time. These plans are to be finalized at next meeting as well as the mail shows itinerary. Many worthwhile promotional ideas were given by guest Bill Van Kempen.

Business Representative Dean Van Dussen reported membership fees and advertising sales are nearly completed. Some new members are yet to be visited. Unfortunately, Dean's old Pinto finally died and has now been replaced by a newer model. Good luck on those bumpy back roads Dean! Werner Lips produced a suggested format for Dean to use in his travels which was well received. Format to be revised and discussed at next meeting.

After this lengthy meeting, President Jim Smart thanked all those attending and special thanks to Gladys and Jack Rennie for hosting the meeting.

Directors were reminded that Name Tags bestowed upon them at the first of the meeting were to be worn at each forthcoming meeting upon penalty of a $1 fine for negligence!

Next meeting to be held at Doug Steele's Shamokin Resort, Highway 7 west of Sharbot Lake - January 10th, 1983, 7:30 p.m. As always, members and interested persons are welcome to attend.

St. Peter's women have club meeting

The Christmas meeting of St. Peter's Women's Club, Madoc, was held on December 6 at the home of Lamoine West, with an attendance of 23 members and one visitor.

The president, Madeline McKinnon, opened the meeting with a poem. Christmas is a Gift of Love.

The scripture lesson, Luke 2, verses 1-10, was read by Dorothea Armstrong and an article from Meditations read by Catharine Weaver, related the story of the birth of Christ.

Several Christmas carols were sung throughout the program with Lamoine West as pianist.

Stories of Christmas customs in other lands were given by members. Loreen Connor told of customs in England, Thelma McCoy in South America and Mary Trotter in Germany.

A poem Snow for Christmas, was read by Reta Pitts.

The president conducted a business session. She thanked all who helped with the Christmas Tea and Bazaar, which was declared a success.

Members voted to donate $100 to Ewart Presbyterian College in Toronto.

A letter was read from Trinity United Church, Madoc, asking members to pray for peace.

It was decided to provide treats for the children of the Sunday School at their concert.

It was voted that the club would order eight large tables and eight small tables for the church basement.

Dorothy Hickey was the winner of a contest on Christmas songs and carols conducted by Jeanette Raynsford.

Corrie Stiel closed the meeting with prayer.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants, Dorothea Armstrong and Vera Hill. Catharine Weaver thanked everyone who participated in the meeting.

The January meeting is to be held on January 5 at the manse.
